CITY NOTES.

This is the last month in which to pay city and school taxes for 1915 without penalty. The Delaware and Hudson company paid yesterday at the Von Storch and Dixon mines. The regular weekly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union will be held at 3 o'clock. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company will pay today at the machine shops and Storr's mine. The class of 1914 of the high school will meet at Young Men's Christian Association hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The order imposing costs on the petitioners in the matter of grading New York street was stricken off by the court. Judge Edwards refused to grant a new trial in the suit of John Schmitt against the Lackawanna Deutscher Unteretzungs society. Captain John Horn, of the Thirtieth ward, within thirty days will have to file a bill of particulars in his application for a divorce from his wife, or else the case will be thrown out of court. Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to Thomas Parkyn, of Jermy, and Caroline Jane Crocker, of Oliphant; William J. Powell and Jessie Pray, both of Wilkes-Barre; James J. McGuigan and Mary Reilly, South Side. Alton Swingle, whose residence is given as Mt. Cobb, or Marshwood, died Sunday afternoon from injuries received in a runaway. He was driving toward Dunsmuir and was thrown from his seat on a load of feed, the wagon passing over his stomach. A young man with Swingle was badly hurt, but his name could not be learned. In the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Mrs. Augusta Farr against her husband, Edward D. Farr, to make him deliver to her their son, Edward, 4 years old, whom the father is charged with detaining in illegal restraint, the court decreed that the child shall be given to the mother, but the father may be permitted to visit him whenever he pleases. Rev. D. J. MacCloskey will deliver the third of his series of lectures under the auspices of Branch 35, Catholic Mutual Benefit association, at College hall Friday evening, Nov. 15. His subject will be "The Antiquity of Man." Father MacCloskey's fame as a learned and entertaining talker and the fact that the lectures are free should insure a large attendance. Rev. H. M. Cole, who is lecturing in Scranton and vicinity, delivered an address before the Methodist union of Scranton in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday morning. His subject was "The Keeley Cure." A resolution was passed thanking Rev. Cole for his very interesting address. The speaker was formerly pastor of the Congregational church of Dwight, Ill., the birthplace of the Keeley discovery. Andrew Rafanajack and John Kostawsky kept saloons in Archbold and they brought suit before Justice of the Peace John Shivekney to recover a bill each from Mike Matewitsch. The complaining couple gave judgment in favor of the plaintiffs. The cases were taken to court on certioraria, and the opinion handed down yesterday reversed the Justice's decision. Saloonkeepers, licensed or unlicensed, cannot enforce the collection of a grog bill. Blunk Dress Goods. Every lady knows that this is a Black Dress Good season. It is believed that it would be placed large orders for goods in the spring. We are showing a very fine assortment of German goods, which, in quality, finish and color, are the best manufactured. Our styles are not high. Mears & Hagen.

PARENTS CANNOT HAVE HER.

Mary Forkan Will Remain with Her Grandmother, Bridget Golden. Judge Gunster struck a blow at the impudent parents yesterday when he disposed of the habeas corpus case brought by Thomas Forkan against Mrs. Bridget Golden for the custody of her 13-year old daughter, Mrs. Golden is the girl's grandmother. The court refused to deliver the child from the care of the grandparents. The parties live in Bellevue, and from the testimony it appears that while yet an infant, before she was a year old, Mary's parents gave her to her grandparents to be brought up. The grandparents nursed her, cared and provided for her and gave her an education, religious as well as secular, as became her station in life. Some months ago her grandfather died, but she continued living with her grandparents, and within a short time past obtained her emancipation. At that time she was a couple of dollars a week. She is now nearly 14 years of age. Judge Gunster declared himself in concluding his opinion as follows: "During the thirteen years that Mary has been with her grandparents her father and mother did literally nothing for her. There is no evidence that they ever brought her so much as a pair of shoes. She has become attached to her grandmother, and at the hearing earnestly and emphatically expressed her desire to be left with her, and pleaded not to be sent to her father. "And now, Nov. 4, 1915, after hearing the proofs and allegations of the parties, the court hereby orders that said Mary Forkan be returned to the custody to her grandmother, Bridget Golden."

ABORN OPERA COMPANY.

Good Impression Made on First Night of the Week's Engagement. The Milton Aborn Opera company engaged at the Academy of Music last night with Richard Stahl's tuneful "Said Pasha." A full house greeted the opening performance, and the evening was a pleasant and almost continual laughter that the company will be well advertised for the following performances. Though cheap prices prevail, it is the only clear thing about the show. The company is good-sized, the costumes are rich and the staging is by no means a secondary matter in the eyes of the many. The company sings exceptionally well. All the principals have good voices and are careful and capable in their music. Joseph W. Smith, the leading tenor, is also easily the leading soloist, which can be said without any great disparagement to the other principals. Warren D. Lombard, John D. Dewey, Miss Ethel Vincent and Miss Louise Moore, all of whom are very clever singers. The comedy end of the performance is looked after by the comic opera favorite, Frank Woolley, and Mr. Aborn himself. They are an original team, and can be relied upon to make the week's entertainments overflow with fun. "Tonight the company will sing "Boocoo!" Wednesday afternoon, "Bohemian Rhapsody" Thursday evening, "Tar and Tartar;" Thursday, "Chimes of Normandy;" Friday, "Mariana;" Saturday afternoon, "Ship Ahoy;" and Saturday evening, "Mascott."

WHAT TWO HORSES DID.

Ran Away in the Business District and Did Some Damage. Not a little damage and excitement was caused by a work team owned by David Elicht, of Mulberry street, and which started on a runaway from the rear of the Weston Mills yesterday morning. The horses nearly missed collision with a moving locomotive on the Center street crossing. Near Penn avenue the milk wagon owned by H. James and driven by his son, was struck by the runaway team. A piece of skin was scraped from his horse, and the milk was dumped on the pavement. The runaways went up Penn avenue at a lively gallop, and in front of Ruppert's store collided with the proprietor's horse. The merchant's horse was knocked down, and when a bystander caught one of the runaway horses by the feet, he was thrown to the ground. The runaway horses were unhurt. DEMURRER IS OVERRULED. Alderman Millar Directed to Make Answer Within Fifteen Days. Judge Gunster handed down an opinion yesterday in the case of Alderman Millar against Alderman W. S. Millar overruling the demurrer filed by City Solicitor Torrey, representing the defendant. The details of the case in substance are these: Alderman Wright, as magistrate of the Ninth ward, filed a bill in equity asking for an injunction to restrain Alderman Millar, as magistrate of the Eighth ward, from holding police court in the Ninth ward, that is at the Municipal building. When the case came up for argument Mr. Torrey filed a demurrer and argued that the plaintiff had not shown sufficient cause to warrant the court to interfere. The opinion yesterday was lengthy and overruled the demurrer. Wright is required to file an answer within fifteen days.

CAN HANDLE THE DRILL.

Certificates Granted to Seventeen Minors by the Examiners. William P. Griffiths, Miles Gibbons and William P. Morris, the board appointed for the examination of men anxious to become miners, met in the arbitration room of the court house yesterday and held their monthly examination. They granted certificates to the following: William P. Griffiths, Miles Gibbons, Anthony Dolge, Patrick Loftus, William Peffer, Charles Sargent, Thomas P. Jones, August Diering, William P. Morris, John Salubury, John Coyne, Conrad Miller, John Collins, John McGovern, all of Scranton; John Williams, Greenwood; Daniel Hayes, Taylor; Michael Banks, Minoaka; and William Armstrong, Taylor.

STONE FELL ON HIS HEAD.

An Aged Quarryman Sustains a Possibly Fatal Injury. Norman Sprague, an aged man whose home is at 125 Robinson street, was brought into the Lackawanna hospital yesterday with his head badly bruised from a stone falling upon him at the Nay Aug quarry. At first it was thought that a bad scalp wound was the extent of his injuries, but later it developed that his skull was fractured, and that his condition was very serious. An operation was performed in the early evening, and although the doctors were doubtful as to whether or not he would recover.

THIS IS THE DAY TO VOTE

Let Every Republican Go to the Polls and Cast His Ballot. IT WILL MEAN A BIG VICTORY. County Chairman John H. Thomas is confident that the Republican candidates will be elected by good pluralities—What Mr. O'Neill Says.

There was a good deal of activity shown in political circles yesterday and it is evident that to-day's contest will not be so tame an affair as it was supposed one week ago that it would be. More men were talking politics in the public places yesterday than on any day during the campaign and there was much speculation and not a little betting as to the pluralities of the successful candidates. A few bets were made that not over 15,000 votes will be polled in the county to-day, but the men who announced their willingness to make such bets were not offering odds. There is no doubt that they will lose. There is a disposition all over the county to give Judge Willard a handsome vote at his own home and men who have made a study of the situation are willing to wager that he can carry last night that he would have a plurality of 2,000. He will get a large number of Democratic votes. Judge Smith's friends are doing their utmost to secure a big vote for him in this part of the state and one of them said to the Tribune man last night that Judge Smith would carry the county by 1,800. It is asserted by the Judge's friends that he will get a great many Republican votes hereabouts, which is not beyond the range of possibilities.

What Chairman Thomas Says. "Everything looks splendid for the success of the Republican ticket tomorrow," said County Chairman John H. Thomas when seen by a Tribune reporter yesterday afternoon. "This is a sort of an off year, you know, and the voters are not so keenly interested in this part of the state and one of them said to the Tribune man last night that Judge Smith would carry the county by 1,800. It is asserted by the Judge's friends that he will get a great many Republican votes hereabouts, which is not beyond the range of possibilities. "The Republican county committee under the leadership of Mr. Thomas has conducted a systematic, business-like campaign and it received loyal assistance in all parts of the county. The Republican candidates are deserving of the votes of all lovers of good government and for this reason they will be successful to-day. There was not much enthusiasm among Democrats last night for their ticket, and its defeat was admitted by many members of the party to be a foregone conclusion. The county committee had a meeting during the afternoon, at which reports were received. County Chairman O'Neill, when interviewed by a Tribune reporter last night was hopeful of victory today he said, but could give no figures that would throw any light on the source of his confidence. He predicted that Judge Smith would receive a very large vote in the county. Mr. O'Neill said that both Kelley and Dunning would be elected, but he was evidently simply withholding to keep his courage up. In the first district of the Fifteenth ward for some weeks back a good deal of discussion has been carried on with respect to who would act as judge of election in the district, the incumbent of the office, Elmer L. Williams, having been named. The county committee has decided to appoint Thomas W. Davis as judge of election in the district, but as he holds the office of tax collector, that precluded him from holding the appointment. He then made an effort to have his son, Robert, appointed, but for the sake of harmony did not press matters, and the antagonisms were dissolved by the appointment of John Wagstaff, who is suitable to all the factions.

Election Officers Named.

The following election officers were appointed yesterday by the court: Hugh Collins, majority inspector, third district; Seventh ward, John Dewey, majority inspector, first district; Seventh ward; John Wagstaff, judge of election, first district; Fifth ward; Lincoln H. Williams, fourth district; Fifth ward; Michael Walsh, inspector of election, fourth district; Nineteenth ward; S. A. Mosler, inspector of election, eighth ward; Robert P. Edinger, judge of election, first district; Fourth ward; Thomas Murphy, majority inspector, second district; Fourth ward; Thomas R. Watkins, inspector of election, first district; William Wallace, Anthony Dolge, Patrick Loftus, William Peffer, Charles Sargent, Thomas P. Jones, August Diering, William P. Morris, John Salubury, John Coyne, Conrad Miller, John Collins, John McGovern, all of Scranton; John Williams, Greenwood; Daniel Hayes, Taylor; Michael Banks, Minoaka; and William Armstrong, Taylor.

country, but who has honesty, ability and pluck. Such describes Mr. Bartl when he came to this country in 1881, but today he is in the front rank of the best civil and mining engineers of this part of the state, is a citizen of public spirit and will creditably serve the public in the office to which he will be elected today. A strong point in Mr. Bartl's favor is that he is not affiliated with any body or organization that interferes with the rights of American citizenship, or sets itself up against the right of a man to act and do as he pleases within the law. He is simply a man of the people whose brain and honest purpose have raised him to the level of any other citizen. He is not a candidate because the Republican party owe him anything; he is a candidate because he is a fit man for the office.

Where He Was Born. He was born in Puenfinkchen, Austria, in 1871, and was educated in the public schools at his home until he reached the age of 13 years, when he entered Sehemnitz university, where he studied for three years, graduating from the department of civil and mining engineering. In both classes of engineering he took high rank among the young men who were pursuing their studies at the university. He was at once engaged by the Danube ocean-ship and Navigation and Coal company as foreman and engineer, in which capacity he served for three years. Deciding to visit America he resigned his position in 1891, and came to this country. His inability to speak the English language he found an obstacle in securing employment as a civil or mining engineer, and to support himself while mastering the language he sought employment as an ordinary laborer. After four months -- a mine laborer he secured a subordinate position as draughtsman in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western engineering office. He showed a marked ability and eventually was given some of the most difficult engineering work. For nearly ten years he was with the company and then began business himself on Washington avenue. Later he established an office at 404 Lackawanna avenue, where he is now located.

He Studied Our Institution.

Mr. Bartl, after mastering the English language, became a citizen with the opportunities this country offered, and made a careful study of its political and governmental system. He believed the principles of the Republican party to be the best and so became a Republican. From experience his sympathy, interest and help have always been cast with the poorer classes and much might be written of how he has aided many men who have been unable to aid themselves.

NEW ARMOY SUGGESTED. Drill Room May Be Used for the State Christian Endeavor Convention. A suitable and available structure in which to hold the big state Christian Endeavor convention in this city next year is a problem that has puzzled the convention committee. There is no building in the city that will hold the 6,000 or 8,000 persons who will attend the various sessions, and to build a suitable temporary structure will cost $2,000 or $3,000.

It was recently suggested to convention committee that possibly the ground floor or drill space of the proposed Thirtieth regiment armory could be converted in time to make it into an immense audience hall. The committee decided it would be better to pay the payment a rental of from $2,000 to $2,500 rather than spend from $2,000 to $3,000 for a temporary building. This proposition received such favor that it was mentioned to Colonel Courson and it was discussed at last night's quarterly meeting of the officers of the regiment.

While no definite action was taken, the discussion of the officers indicated that the idea will probably not be carried out. There is no doubt that the drill floor and walls could be built before convention week, but time is not the only question at issue. Many of the subscriptions to the armory building fund were made with the provision that a certain sum be first secured. The total contributions do not now warrant a contract for the conversion committee, and another impediment is offered in the absence of arrangements between trustees of the old Scranton City board and the armory people regarding the land.

Until the many sides to the new armory question are settled the proposition of the convention committee will not be finally dealt with. And with this understanding the question was abandoned last night, to be reconsidered later.

The Republican county ticket is a good thing to push to victory today.

Class in Free Hand Drawing. The class in Free Hand drawing announced by the Young Women's Christian association, will meet on Thursday, Nov. 4, at 8 o'clock in the John Raymond Institute. Mr. Lyons, the institute instructor, will then meet those contemplating the course, and work will be begun immediately. Application may be made before that time at the Young Women's Christian association, 205 Washington avenue.

LIST OF PRIZES OFFERED

Eisteddfod of Robert Morris Lodge to Be a Memorable Event. PROGRAMME IS A VARIED ONE

Money is Offered as Rewards to Those Who Excel in Literature as Well as Those Who Win in Musical Competitions.

If a good assortment of competition and a generous allotment of prizes for the same count in the make-up of a successful eisteddfod, the one to be conducted on March 17, at the Frothingham by Robert Morris Lodge of the West Side, is already an assured success. Many novel and thoroughly American ideas have been injected into the programme. This is especially noticeable in the nature of the prizes. An attempt will be made to have a variable entertainment, not a mere singing meet as is the usual style of Welsh-American eisteddfods. Literature will have a prominent place. The adjudicators have not been selected as yet, but their names will be announced in due time. All communications concerning the eisteddfod must be addressed to David J. Davis, Municipal building. Mr. Davis is secretary of the committee. Following is the programme:

- Prizes That are Offered. 1. Chorus, "The Tempest," in English. (Dr. Parry); 75 to 100 voices.....$300 2. Male Chorus, "On the Sea," (Dudley Buckle); 25 to 50 voices..... 75 3.
