Choice in His English.

Choice in His English.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Just before the Eupreme court of the United States adjourned it tacitly gave its sanction to a popular piece of slang that may be said, therefore, to have acquired official place in the vernacular. Assistant Attorney General Whitney was arguing. and in the course of his remarks alluded to the nature of his adversary's argu-ment these words: "My learned op-ponent, like a great many other gentle-men who have appeared here, has been 'talking through his hat." Though almost every one present was shocked and expected to hear a reprimand im-mediately from the bench, not a single justice seemed to have noticed the re-mark, and therefore Mr. Whitney escaped:

Justice Gray rebuked the attorney general himself last week for a much lighter offense. The attorney general had alluded to a chart, which he held before the court, as a "bird's eye view."

Justice Gray took it upon himself to maintain the dignity of the bench by remarking: "But Mr. Attorney General, we are not birds." The dignity of the august body was seriously disturbed by the spectators giggling, and turbed by the spectators giggling, and even some of the lawyers, but not a single justice smiled.

MEXICO A MILITARY POWER. Big Things Expected When the Arm; Gets Its New Rifles.

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—There is much speculation as to impending changes in the army when General Mena shall have returned from Europe and begun to introduce contemplated tactical reforms, and when the troops are provided with new arms. Military expenses here are honing for much from perts here are hoping for much from the antroduction of Mansur rifles, which give good results.

The Investigating Committee Declares It to Be Abominable.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov.5.—The prison committee appointed by the Georgia legislature to investigate the workings of the lease system in her convict camps has just completed their labors. They report the prisoners as poorly guarded, wretchedly fed, and clothed, and the sanitary condition of the place as abominafible. inaffble

They allege that a more niggardly course in the keeping of the convicts could not be pursued by the lessees, were they utter bankrupts. Their report will make a sensation at the capital, where the lessees have been all powerful hitherto.

Dissatisfaction with the lease system is surgeding influenced, partly per-the Milford Fields.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—According to the report of Herbert Bartlett, the mining expert and engineer, the gold fields at Milford, a few miles west of Lincoln, are destined to richly reward the owners of the properity. Mr. Bartlett made tests of 500 samples, and finds that the earth, taken at random, assays, at a low estimate, from $25 to $50 per ton.

Mr. Bartlett is even more enthusiassion than the owners of the land, saying: "I found a gravel gold-bearing claim miles in extent, and much of it fabulously rich, and, taking it altogether, it is equal in extent, vaster in depth and richer in value than any similar deposit in the world."

TAYLOR.

J. B. Winslow is spending a few days hunting at Lake Underwood.

The social given by the Independent Social Club in Taylor hall last evening was the most successful that this popular organization has conducted since its opening this season. Many persons were present from Scranton, South Side, West Side, Avoca and other places.

The dances conducted by the young men comprising the club are growing more popular and each succeeding one more popular and each succeeding one surpasses the previous one in attendance and enjoyment.

To-night the Christian Endeavor societies of this place will conduct a union meeting in the Welsh Congregational church on Union street. An excellent programme has been arranged by the society of the above named church and an entertaining session is promised. Others besides Christian promised. Others besides Christian Endeavorers are invited to attend.

The closing scenes at the election polls in this place last evening were witnessed with the same quiet proceedings which has been so distinctly maintained throughout the whole campaign. ings which has been so distinctly maintained throughout the whole campaign. The election was the most quiet where state and county candidates were to be elected that has been seen in this place for many years. Throughout the whole day few were present at the polling places, and the greater part of the time only the election b. rd was visible. Less votes were polled than at any previous election since the organization of the borough. In the Third ward, the largest polling district in the town, out of 235 votes less than 100 voters cast their ballots and in the Second ward, the next largest, 100 were polled out of a possible 160. The other three wards, the First, Fourth and Fifth, the voting was equally as light. This fact was undoubtedly due to the long hours which the mines in this vicinity are working and the inability of the men to get around in time to cast their ballots. The light vote, however, did not prevent the Republicans from maintaining their usual majority in a corresponding degree to the votes cast. The vote of this borough can be seen on another page.
