LAST EVENING'S RECITAL.

Drilliant Performance of Miss Nellie Ketchum on the Piano.

Miss Nellie Ketchum, of Pittston, made her appearance before a Scranton audience last evening at Powell's piano parlors, with a fine programme, opening with a prelude and fugue by Bach, followed by that sturdy and dramatic sonata op. 31, No. 2, by Beethoven, in three movements. This is truly a grand work. The young lady played entirely without notes, and with a breadth of expression and interpretation seldom heard, except from professional pianists. Miss Ketchum was most ably assisted by Miss Elizabeth Smith, who sang in a charming manner Haydn's "Witch's Curse," and for a second number two little gemmely Kjerulf and Donau.

Miss Ketchum closed the concert with Mendelssohn's brilliant "Rondo Capriccioso," with a sparkle and dash quite in keeping with the spirit of the work. Mr. Southworth, under whose direction the recital was given, and with whom Miss Ketchum is studying, is to be congratulated.

TRACTION COMPANY WORK

More Being Done Than the Public Has Any Idea Of.

BUILDING TWO NEW LINES

One Will Reach to Archbald and the Other to Petersburg—Each Will Be Opened Before Jan. 1. Changes on Old Lines.

Few persons are aware of the extensive construction operations now being considered or performed by the Scranton Traction company or in its interest. The line to Archbald along the east side of the Lackawanna river is nearing completion, a new line to Petersburg from Mulberry street has started and preparations are being made for relaying and repairing old lines.

So rapidly is the work of erecting the electric road on the east side of the Lackawanna river being pushed that it is expected that cars will be running over it by Christmas. It is now being worked by the Scranton Traction company, but will be operated by that concern under a lease after its completion.

The new road bed is finished and rails laid from Olyphant to Throop and workmen are now engaged laying the rails from Throop towards this city. The new road will connect with the Green Ridge People's line at Sanderson avenue and East Market street. Archbald is the terminus of the road, where it will connect with the Carbonate electric road.

Relaying Track to Green Ridge.

For the Scranton Traction company route to Petersburg the road will be either out Prescott avenue from Mulberry street, the most direct route, or out Harrison avenue from Mulberry to Olive street, thence to Prescott avenue.

Beginning Monday rails were laid on Prescott avenue for two blocks north of Mulberry street and then the work had to be stopped, as no grade had been cut. The work will be resumed on the route. Recently the company secured from councils a permit to lay the track on Harrison avenue, but later the Prescott avenue route was found to be the most desirable and met with the approval of property owners. A new route ordinance was therefore introduced in council and is now being pigeon-holed in committee. January 1 is the date on which, according to the ordinance, the work must be completed.

The contemplated delay in the absence of an established grade on Prescott avenue may, however, oblige the company to resort to the less desirable Harrison avenue route, as the company proposes to build the line before snow flies.

The Petersburg Route.

The company has engaged a large force of men and will soon replace the old rails and ballast of Washington avenue between Ash and Marion streets with heavy rails and a more substantial structure. Beginning to-day cars will be run to the lower crossing in Moscoe, a ten-minute service will be given between Lackawanna avenue and the city line, and a half hour service from there to Moscoe.

TWO IMPORTANT MATTERS.

Are Soon to Be Considered by the Board of Trade.

Another weighty communication from the city board of trade, in the form of a communication instead of one of six months, according to past custom, has been received by the Scranton board of trade. This communication is from the Kansas City board of trade and was accompanied by almost an exact counterpart of the preamble and resolution of the Cleveland board of commerce.

At its meeting on Monday night, Nov. 18, the Scranton board will take action on the matter, and probably favorable action as the long and arduous campaigns have a peculiarly bad effect on the extensive coal, railroad and iron and steel interests of this region.

Another important matter to be considered by the meeting of Nov. 18 is the movement toward the establishment of a paid fire department. Secretary Adams has addressed letters to the chiefs of five departments in many cities in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey requesting facts and figures of paid and volunteer departments. The information will be considered in committee, and a report containing suggestions will be made to the board.

IT IS VERY POPULAR.

The Browns Drew Large Audiences to the Frothingham Theater Yesterday.

The popularity of "The Browns" with Scranton theater-goers was well demonstrated by the large audiences that crowded the Frothingham yesterday afternoon and last night to see the spectacle.

It was given at both matinee and evening performances with the same care and attention that marked the first production Monday night. "The Browns" is a great entertainment and is sure of a warm welcome whenever it comes to this city.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment last night was the appearance of the celebrated Lally children, of Pine Brook, who gave one of their acts, the little boys playing the violin furnished by their sister, who played upon the violin. The efforts of the trio were greeted with a storm of applause and the boys were obliged to respond to several encores before the regular performance could proceed.

OLD RUBE TANNER.

Will Be the Attraction at Davis' Last Three Days of Week.

Of "Old Rube Tanner," which will be produced at Davis' theater for the three days of this week, the Indianapolis Journal says: "An unusual large audience greeted the rural comedy-drama of 'Old Rube Tanner' at the Empire theater last evening, and it was without doubt the best production of the former drama seen in our city. The company is really an excellent one. The band and orchestra rendered some very fine overtures that were one of the elementary features of the evening. In Mr. Davis' work we recognize the brilliant points that were possessed by the late comedian, Barney McCauley. Mr. Davis and his excellent company can always be assured of an excellent reception from the theater-going people of our city."

CARRIAGE WAS SMASHED.

Post and St. Amand Now Seek to Recover the Value of It.

Attorney B. F. Tinkham, representing E. C. Post and F. St. Amand, brought suit for $100 damages yesterday morning against the Lackawanna Fertilizer and Chemical company.

On Oct. 25 last the defendant's horses attached to a heavy wagon, ran away on Jackson street and dashed into a buggy owned by the plaintiffs, wrecking it completely. The suit is brought to recover for the demolition of the vehicle.

BOCCACCIO LAST NIGHT.

Sung in an Excellent Manner by the Aborn Opera Company.

The Aborn Opera company entertained a large audience at the Academy of Music last night with "Boccaccio," which was sung in an excellent manner. The many tuneful numbers with which the opera is interspersed were rendered in a way that called forth hearty applause from the audience.

This afternoon the company will sing "The Bohemian Girl" and tonight that very entertaining opera, "The Tartar and the Tartar."

HARVEST HOME DINNER.

And a Supper Served Yesterday in the W. C. A. Rooms.

Yesterday the annual Harvest Home Dinner and a supper was served in the Young Women's Christian Association rooms on Washington avenue. The large gathering was well served both on account of the merit of the meals, the good service and pleasing floral decorations and the object benefited. The tables were set in the lecture hall and were tastefully arranged with cut roses, chrysanthemums and other blossoms.

Among the many ladies who managed the tables and took care of the comforts of the guests were Mrs. J. P. Everts, Mrs. Charles Schlager, Mrs. E. D. Fellows, Mrs. William Hackett, Mrs. Ammerman, Mrs. William Connell, Mrs. W. H. Gardner, Mrs. J. C. Conroy, Mrs. J. H. Stelle, Miss Deacon, Mrs. Hurlburt, Miss Joseph Koons, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. George Grupp, Mrs. Deeter. These were assisted by the members of the house whose good services contributed largely to the success of the dinner and supper.

BALLOONS BRING BOTHER.

Leon Mayer, Manager of the Browns, Arrested for Assault and Battery.

The Browns' balloon expedition caused some trouble last night for Manager Leon Mayer. Monday afternoon, when about to send up the balloons, Mr. Mayer discovered that five of the balloons of the set had been stolen. He took off all the tickets and put in their place a set of tickets which he purchased and signed with his own initials. Then, in order to prevent any tampering, he directed Ticket Seller Anthony Duffy not to honor any balloon tickets unless they bore the marks above noted.

Just as the rush was on before the performance John Higgins, a young man of the name of the Browns, one of the tickets alleged to have been stolen. The management refused to honor it, explaining to him that the tickets were not his own. Higgins resented the imputation that it was a stolen ticket, claiming that he had captured one of the balloons and signed with his own name. Manager Mayer noted that he was positive that all the balloon tickets had been specially marked, and no amount of argument would induce him to honor the ticket which Higgins held so dearly. Thereupon Higgins turned on the manager and in a loud voice declared that he was a man who had sent up the balloons and was a fool.

As the lobby was full with people at the time, many of them hadis. Manager Mayer ordered the man who had sent up the balloons to be pushed out of the door. Higgins resented and was about to show fight when Doorkeeper Dimker came up and hustled him out of the house.

Higgins immediately went before Alderman Miller and swore out a warrant for the arrest of "some manager" of the Browns. The warrant was given to the Browns' Young men, who were given the warrant to serve, arrested Manager Mayer at the Frothingham business office at 10 o'clock. Arthur Frothingham, who is the manager of the Browns, and several other prominent men accompanied Mr. Mayer before Alderman Miller, where an explanation of the case was given and secured a summary release.

FIXING UP THE THEATER.

Getting the Frothingham in Readiness for the Chrysanthemum Show.

Immediately after the performance of the "Brownies" last night, a large force of workmen began to get the Frothingham into shape for the chrysanthemum show, which will be opened to the public to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The floor which was used at the Frothingham in the chrysanthemum place, which will make the entire center of the house on the same level as the stage. In the center of this a large fountain in which will be placed a large number of chrysanthemums, and will be the fountain in which the water will radiate. One of the most interesting features of the show will be the display of dinner table settings, in which the furniture will be provided by Hill & Connell, the china and cut glass by Weichel & Millar, the silver and linen by Huntington, the caterer, and the flowers by G. R. Clark & Co. This alone will be well worth a visit to the theater.

Another interesting and instructive exhibit will be the display of E. G. Courson, who will show a fine collection of canned fruits and a domestic, in glass jars, in which the full beauty of the fruit will be visible to the eye.

Besides these, there will be quite a competition among the local fruit growers for the prizes offered by the management. There is something to interest everybody and everybody will be pleased. The music will be good, and some special attractions has been engaged for each evening.

To-morrow night, Miss Adele Breakstone, the famous soprano, will read at 8:30 and 9:00. Miss Breakstone will be assisted by the Green Ridge Wheelmen's Quartette, whose recent work has occasioned more than ordinary comment.

THEY ARE NOW DIVIDED

Providence Lithuanians Have Organized Another Church.

CAUSE OF THE DISSENSION

Members of the Old Congregation Wanted to Dictate to the Priest and a Quarrel and Arrears Followed. They Have Withdrawn.

In the office of Prothonotary Pryor an application for a charter for a new church was filed yesterday morning. The name of the congregation is to be "St. Joseph's Lithuanian Catholic Church," and the control and disposition of the real and personal property shall be vested in the lay members.

The church is an offshoot of the congregation of the Lithuania church of North Main avenue had with the pastor, Rev. Michael Posa, a month ago, when seven were arrested one Saturday night for locking up the church by nailing the doors. The seven are under bail for their appearance at court on the charge of malicious mischief.

When the priest refused to withdraw the case against them, they and their friends cut loose from the church. The names of the subscribers for the new church are: Michael Baranito, Jonas Sawickas, George Smith, Anthony Goyal, Michael Shembosky, Joseph Gudizicki, Frank Marsanovitch and William Shembosky.

One of the prime objections the aforementioned gentlemen had against Father Posa was that he would not let them have the church with the altar, for which, according to the dogmas of the Catholic church, the priest is answerable to no one but the bishop of the diocese.

They wanted to say what should and what should not be done, and they insisted on getting the deed of the property already acquired, which consists of a lot of ground and a basement workshop, which is used for religious purposes.

St. Rev. Bishop O'Hara is the custodian of all deeds of church property in the diocese and, of course, possessed the deed of the North End Lithuanian church, which he refused to give. The bolters have formed a corporation to be managed by a board of trustees of three members, who are for the first year Michael Sawickas, George Smith and Michael Shembosky.

They will probably set up a religion of their own as it is not likely that the priest will be assigned to this church.

LAW BY LIMITATION.

Now for Another Clash Between the Assessors and the Board of Appeals.

The resolution permitting the board of appeals to remove the city assessors' furniture to their own office will become a law today by reason of the expiration of the previous session of the board, in which to approve or disapprove of the measure.

The fifteen days were yesterday, but being a holiday the board of appeals can not be counted in the time limit. Council is opposed to the resolution and sent it back to select council with a veto, but as the measure originated in common council the upper branch refused to receive it. The mayor decided to call a special meeting of common council to consider the veto, because he held the resolution to be illegal anyhow, and could not be helped or hindered by this veto or his signature.

The board of appeals has not decided just what steps they will take now that the resolution is to their minds, operative. Owing to certain influences of Mayor Connell the board fears a disappointment if it should attempt to carry out the directions of the resolution. The assessors refuse to believe what they will do in case a demand is made upon them for the furniture, but it is generally understood that they will refuse to give up the extra teacher at No. 11 building and it was found necessary to put two additional teachers at No. 11.

At No. 13 school in the Fifteenth ward the principal, Robert Williams, had to deal with a knot of hard citizens who went to the school for the sole purpose of creating trouble. He had an encounter with one of them and was forced to engage in a rough and tumble fight, coming out on top it is very gratifying to state.

NIGHT SCHOOLS OPENED.

Secretary Fellows Receives Reports of Large Attendance at All the Buildings. Reports received yesterday by Secretary Fellows from the night schools, which opened on the previous evening, show that there was a very large attendance in all districts and unusually large in some. Application was made for an extra teacher at No. 11 building and it was found necessary to put two additional teachers at No. 11.

SMASHED THE TRICYCLE.

Lackawanna Laundry's Delivery Vehicle Wrecked by a Horse.

The first tricycle to be practically used for business purposes in this city has been smashed probably beyond repair. The machine had been used for several weeks by the Lackawanna laundry, for collections and deliveries in the central city. It cost $200 and consisted of three pneumatic-tired wheels, a low gear, a large, lightly constructed receptacle box and other fixtures necessary to its use and locomotion.

The machine was left standing in front of the laundry, on Penn avenue, yesterday. A horse standing alongside it became frightened, jumped upon it and becoming landed in the spokes of the wheels, pranced upon it until it was a complete wreck. Mr. Worman, the proprietor of the Lackawanna Laundry, is quoted as saying that he will procure a new machine.

The tricycle delivery vehicle has been in use for several months by messengers in New York city, and is reported to be a success.

He directed that Kent spend two years in the penitentiary. Kent entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned for trial.
