and if enforced will put those mer-chants to a great inconvenience. Messrs, Long and Constine have refused to move their goods from the sidewalk line and say they will take the case to the Supreme court. President Harvey was appealed to by Marx Long, but would only say that he thought Long owned his cellar door. Wer Long says the line is not right, if Mr. Long says the line is not right, ifs there was some trouble about the line since the borough was established over fifty years ago, when Elias Hoyt, now fifty years ago, when Elias Hoyt, now deceased, surveyed a line.

The stand at Springer's clothing store is also on the line. The Weltzenkorn building at the Bon Ton store is two feet inside of the line. On the west side of the Square the line is all right running along the step of the Marks, Laning, Welles and People's Bank buildings. The show cases in front of the Bee Hives store and part of the fruit Bee Hives store and part of the fruit stand on the corner of west Market street are on the line. On the north side of the Square the line runs within two feet of Jones Long's store but the doors of their cellar extend three feet outside the line. The cases in front of the Broadway store are grazed and the cellar doors at Mark's and O'Keefe's extend beyond the boundary.

On the east side of the Square more trouble is promised. The line runs within two feet of Lawrence Myer's building and through the fruit stand on the corner. Mr. Meyers says the line is wrong and he will spend $6,000 in the courts before he will submit to the mayor's order. The boundary crosses the grating at Brown's grocery store and is three feet from the Excelsior store on the other corner, meeting with no obstruction.

Mr. Ingham savs that the lines are right, and that they are the same as the old borough line. The buildings which encroach over the line are all old buildings none of the modern structures conflicting with the sidewalk boundary. The merchants are considerably excited over the matter, and a number of law suits will probably be brought if this ordinance is enforced, ca the manager, the propriety, the pianist, and two actresses, and took them to the mayor's court room, where they were given a hearing.

The Gem has been getting pretty lively lately, and attention has been called to the condition of affairs by some of the papers. The mayor heard the testimeny, which was offered by the chefe and his men, in regard to the character of the place, and concluded that it was too tongs to be allowed to go on. He accordingly, after a noisy and tumultuous hearing, fined each of the men $20 and costs, and the girls the costs. At first they were going a pay, but finally, on the advice of Attorney Shea, who represented them, concluded to appeal the fines, which was done. The case will probably go to the courts.

the Square Properties.

There is, from all appearances, going to be some fun about the sidewalks on the square in a short time, and probably a number of law sults will grow out of the mayor's recent proclamation. This proclamation, harmless enough in itself, simply warned merchants to keep their goods off the city sidewalks. Something like forty merchants to keep their goods off the city sidewalks. Something like forty merchants paid no attention, and, as a result, paid $2.25 fine and costs to the mayor. There was considerable trouble over the exact location of this line, and the mayor told City Engineer lagham to mark the line, which he did, yesterday morning with a gang of assistants. And now the fun will begin.

Beginning at the corner of East Market and the Square the line runs along the step of the new Osterhout building, the first obstruction over the line here and one-half feet from the Bristol House, but crosses its celler door. The first real obstructions are Constine's and Marx Long's markets. The line here runs mildway through their produce stands, and gives those merchants only three feet in front of their buildings. The line cuts two feet off their cellar way. adjourned to meeon Saturday next at 2 p. m.to act upon a number of binds and blankets; etc., before them and on bills of William Dickover & Son and they Cit of Wilkes-Barre which have been referred back for further action.

Hurt on a Building. Patrick Moran, of Abbot street, this city, a carpenter in the emploie of William J. Smith, was badly hurt yes-terday morning. He was employed in tearing dofn a shed in the rear of Al-bertson's carriage shop on Smith ave-street, when the biulding gave way unexpectadly and fell on him. He was carried into Dr. Moor's drug store, and examinations was made. It is not known whether or not he is injured in-ternally. If not he will make a good recovery.

GOVERNOR OGLESBY'S ERROR.

Even an Experienced Campaigner May Make a Mistake at Times.
"Uncle Dick" Oglesby, says the Chicago Times-Herald, always prided him-self on his success in campaigning when called upon to reach a man's vote brough his family pride. On one of his tours he passed through a country town in Illinois, when he came suddenly upon a charming group—a comely woman with a bevy of little ones about her—in a garden with a high picket fence in front of it. He stopped short, then advanced and leaned over the front gate.

"Madam," said he, in his most ingratiating way, "may I kiss these beautiful children?"

"Certainly, sir," the lady answered, demurely; "there is no possible objection."

They are lovely darlings," said Uncle Dick after he had finished the eleventh. "I have seldom seen more beautiful bables. Are they all yours, marm?"

The lady blushed deeply.
"Of course they are—the sweet little treasures. From whom else, marm, could they have inherited these limpid eyes, these rosy cheeks, these profuse curls, these comely figures and these musical voices?"

The lady continued blushing,
"By the way, marm," said Uncle
Dick, "may I wather you to tell your estimable husband that Richard J. Oglesby, Republican candidate for gover-nor, called upon him this evening?"
"Alas, sir," quoth the lady, "I have no husband."
"But these children, madam—you surely are not a widow?"

"I fear you were mistaken, sir, when you first came up. These are not my children. This is an orphan asylum."

They were strangers to each otner. All at once the gentleman said: "Madam, may I ask you to look out of the window? I should like to make some change in my tollet." To his great astonishment the man in woman's garb, on sitting down again, saw his traveling companion transformed into a man. He burst out lauguing and said:

[From the Elmira Gazette.]

Old age has many infirmities, none of which are more prevalent than kidney disorders. Have you ever noticed how the old people complain of backache, lame back, and general listlessness? And there are many other symptoms of which they do not speak, such as bloating of the limbs, painful and infrequent urination or excessiveness of urinary discharge. Most people think they are too old to find relief and cure, but this is not so. No better evidence than the following, which comes from an Elmira citizen, who has been cured of a very severe case at 77 years of age. Mr. Wm. Thornton, of 127 West Market street, speaks of his case in this way: "I am 77 years old. I have been afflicted with that dreadful complaint (kidney disease) for over ten years, making my old age a burden. I was so bad as to be forced to carry a belt at all times, and, when my suffering became beyond endurance, I would put on the belt, drawing it tightly around me and buckle it thus beinging an exbecame beyond endurance, I would put on the belt, drawing it tightly around me and buckle it, thus bringing an extreme pressure over the kidneys; this, undoubtedly forced the urine out, a function which the kidneys themselves had become too diseased to perform. My condition I put down to a strain I received. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. After two or three days I noticed their effect. I was much surprised, as the allment was so severe and so long standing, while I had tried many remedies without any relief whatmany remedies without any relief whatever. The pain I have experienced at times from straining in my efforts to discharge the urine was simply awful. BACTERIA IN CLOTHES.

Dr. Seitz Found 956 Thriving Colonies in a Worsted Stocking.

a Worsted Stocking.

Carlyle gave us the philosophy of clothes; now Dr. Seltz, of Munich, says the British Medical Journal, gives us their bacteriology. On examining a worsted stocking he found 956 thriving colonies, while on a cotton sock there were 712. Both these articles had been worn, but no information is vouchsafed as to the personal habits of the work. as to the personal habits of the wearer. Thirty-three colonies were found on a glove, twenty on a piece of woollen giove, twenty on a piece of woollen stuff and nine on a piece of cloth; none of these articles had been worn. On a piece of cloth from a garment which had been worn a week there were twen-ty-three colonies. Of the micro-organ-isms found on articles of clothing rela-tively few were capable of causing dis-case. The pathogenic species were al-most without exception stanbylecocci.

In one case, however, Dr. Seltz found the typnoid bacillus in articles of clothing from twenty-one to twenty-seven days and the staphyloccus pyogenes albus nineteen days after they had been worn. The anthrax bacillus found in clothes was still virulent after a year. The microbe of erysipelas, on the other hand, could not be found after eighteen hours, nor the cholera vibrio after three days. Dr. Seitz studied with special care the question whether in tuberculous subjects who sweated profusely the bacills was conveyed by the pers-piration to a piece of linen worn for some time next to the skin of the chest. The inoculation of two guinea pigs, however, gave negative results. "How to Cure All Skin Diseacs."
