SCRANTON, NOVEMBER 7, 1895.

It was noticed, of course, yesterday that The Tribune had the fullest and neatest returns. It's a way we have.

Mr. Bartl Elected.

Although late returns yesterday decreased the plurality of Mr. Bartl which, on Tuesday night, seemed to have reached nearly 1200, the reduction has by no means imperilled his election.

mitting the crimes attributed to Holmes. The theory which is supposed to underlie our criminal courts is that a man is to be regarded as innocent, despite newspaper clamor and the exploiting of detective fishing for notoriety, until he is proven guilty.

The main difference in New York is now that Tammany when it wants anything at Albany, will have to come to Platt. It is a poor rule that will work both ways.

The mistake was in supposing that in a city like New York a majority could outvote once in a decade be reached other than through its stomach.

Treasurer-elect Haywood can now set to work to think out a plan to enable the state to draw interest on its bank deposits. This reform is coming.

Anyhow, Governor Campbell can console himself with reflection that the Democratic presidential nomination next year will not be worth much.

Kentucky's uprising for sound money is somewhat neutralized by its continued loyalty to Free Silverite Blackburn.

The fine Italian hand of the Hon. William F. Harry is plainly discernible in a number of the state returns.

It apparently may yet become possible to regard New Jersey as forming part of these United States.

After all, that bad man Martin appears to have left Philadelphia go Republican just the same.

It is in order now for Chairman Wellington of Maryland to enter an apology for that little break.

Mr. Cleveland can now safely inform the public that he didn't want that old third term, anyhow.

With Brice, Gorman and Hill flogged in a bunch, Cleveland can get some consolation at all events.

Tammany may have the plurality, but it is noticed that the Reformers still have the offices.

The Philadelphia Record is taking time to think it over. Well, it will stand that.

Senator Quay is doubtless disposed to believe that his reform plank did it.

As a matter of fact, even Tammany's victory is one in name only.

Views of the Result.

Not Worth Discussing. Philadelphia Times, Dem.: "The Republicans hold the State of Pennsylvania by a majority that seems likely to settle down to about one-third their majority for Governor next year—that is somewhere between 100,000 and 125,000."

Where Has It Won. Philadelphia Inquirer, Rep.: "The Sunday beer mug was an issue in New York city, but not in the state. Beer has won in the city, but Republicanism has carried the State."

Full of Inspiration. Philadelphia Press, Rep.: "The triumphs of the day are full of encouragement and inspiration. They bring substantial and important fruits. If they do not fix States in the Republican allegiance which have always been against us, they at least shake their Democratic attachments."

EUGENE FIELD'S VERSE. The Clink of the Ice. Notably fond of music, I dote on a sweeter tone Than ever the harp has uttered or ever the lute has known.

A WORD IN YOUR EAR. THE SECRET OF BEAUTY OF the complexion, hands, arms, and hair is found in the perfect action of the Pores, produced by Cuticura SOAP.

THE most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery.

It occurs to us to mention that the Wilkes-Barre News-Dealer has since learned who Tompkins is.

The assertion by Lord Salisbury that "England was an American power prior to the United States, and hence has anterior rights" suggests that if

That makes the meekest mortal anxious to whom things up. Yet, what the cause sever, relief comes when we call. Relief with that rapturous clink-clink that clinketh after for all I've dreamt of the fiery furnace that was one vast bulk of flame.

Boy, why so slow in coming with that rapturous, saving cup? Oh, haste! haste! to the succor of the man who is burning up! See how the ice boils up and down, as if it wildly strove.

At Cheyenne. Young Lochinvar came in from the West, fringed on his trousers and far on his vest! The width of his hat brim could nowhere be beat.

Over the hills and far away. Over the hills and far away, A little boy steals from his morning play, And under the blossoming apple tree He lies and he dreams of things to be.

Over the hills and far away. Over the hills and far away, It's on for the toll the live-long day! But it mattereth not to the soul at all, With the love for riches and power and fame.

Over the hills and far away. Over the hills and far away, An old man lingers at close of day, And now his hair is almost gone, His battles fought and his victories won.

Over the hills and far away. Over the hills and far away, The old-time honesty and truth, The trustfulness of the friends of youth, Home and mother—where are they? Over the hills and far away—
