Judge E. N. Willard has been in Phil-adelphia since Monday attending the session of the Superior court and his friends hereabouts have been unable to personally congratulate him, but many there has been any done to the success of the chrysanthemum show, the uncertainty was dispelled last night when the quantity and quality of the victors to the Frothingham the ater testified to the worth of the beautiful personally congratulate him, but many telegrams were addressed to him at Philadelphia expressing the pleasure which the wonderful strength he developed throughout the state gave to his friends.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams have been received at Judge Willard's law office from prominent persons a this and adjoining states and are piled up on his desk awaiting his return. The fact that he leads all of the candidates on the Republican ticket is conafter testified to the worth of the beautiful exhibit.

the high opinion of his legal attainments that is entertained by the voters of the state.

In this and Luzerne counties where he is best known it was expected that he would receive a generous vote, but the returns disclose the fact that he developed quite as much strength in other counties as he did at his home. His vote in the state was 442,295 and Judge Rice, of Luzerne, is second with 411,338. In Allegheny county Judge Willard received the splendid vote of 32,997 and in Philadelpnia 116,031 were cast for him. cast for him.

Lacome's "Fetudantina" she was at her best, and sang the spirited composition with commendable vim, purity and breach of tone, and with a clearness of enunciation and correct and graceful phrasing rarely heard. In response to repeated calls for an encore, she sang Hawley's "I Saw them Do It," playing her own accompaniment. Later in the evening she duplicated her success in White's "Phinking," a selec-Indge Smith's Big Vote. Judge P. P. Smith upheld the reputation of this part of the state by running as well on the Democratic ticket as Judges Willard and Rice did on the Republican. His total vote in the state is 285,882, a little over 5,000 votes more than the next highest Democratic candidate, Yerkes, A large vote was given to Judge Smith in this part of the state to which he in a great measure owes his election.

Among the well-known persons who tendered their congratulations during the day were william Connell, ex-Lieutenant Gover-nor Watres, Colonel E. I., Ripple, Judge Gunster, James Boland, of Wilkes-Barre; T. V. Powderly, John G. Mc-Askle, Select Councilman M. E. Clark, Colonel Herman Osthaus, and Senator J. C. Vaughan.

J. C. Vaughan.

The first telegram of congratulation received by the judge arrived at noon Thursday and was from William Bell, of Washington, late editor of the Scranton Times. Yesterday's batch of letters and telegrams contained congratulations from ex-Genericor Robert E. Pattison, Chauncey F. Black, of York; Senator Schull, Revenue Collector R. E. To Celebrate the Event. No definite plan has been adopted by Strantonians for celebrating the event, but the matter was talked over yesterday by a number of Democrats and within a few days a programme will be Pittston.

The special attraction for tonight will be the cornet playing of Professor Hamlin E. Coggswell, well known to most Scrantonians. Mr. Coggswell will play on the gold cornet recently presented to him by his friends. By special request, he will also sing one of h.s own compositions, "The Sweetest of Sweethearts," with orchestra accompaniment. The Lawrence Orchestra will play in the evening, as usual. In the afternoon the music will be furevolved.

The idea of having a dinner has met with the greatest favor and it is probable that it will be adopted.

Taylor Brings Greeting. Last evening a crowd of Taylor en-thusiasts came to the city in a special trolley car and with the Taylor band serenaded the newly elected judges. They first rode to Judge Willard's home, where they were welcomed by Major Warren, who acted the host in Judge Willard's absence. After leaving their congratulations and compliments the party repaired to Judge Smith's home, where they gave vent to their enthusiasm in hearty cheering and ringing congratulatory speeches. Judge and Mrs. Smith entertained them right royally and they then departed for Hotel Terrace, where a banquet was held.

P. Mulherin was elected chairman and John Fern. toastmaster. Speeches wer made by Messrs. McCaffrey,McMillan, Renard, Mulherin, Fern, Harris, and others. There were forty-four in the party and a more cosmopolitan gathering, as far as race, creed and poliparty repaired to Judge Smith's home gathering, as far as race, creed and poligathering, as far as race, creed and poli-tics are concerned, could hardly be gotten into small numbers. On each side of their special car was a big streamer which read "Taylor Cheers Willard, Smith and Rice."
