Mike Blume Killed and Martin Monahon Injured in the Central Mine by a Fall of Roof.

Mike Blume, a Polander, was instantly killed and a miner, Martin Monahan, seriously injured by a fall of top coal at the Central mine Saturday shortly before noon. Blume and Monahan were at work in their chamber. The roof was supported by a single beam and in throwing a large chunk of coal across the chamber, Blume accidentally struck this pillar, knocking it from its position. The mass of coal instantly fell and Blume was buried beneath it.

Six men removed the mass after a few minutes' work, but the Polander was dead. Monahan suffered mostly from dead. Monahan suffered mostly from George Renchler Dead. George Renchler Dead.

The death of George S. Renchler, which occurred Saturday morning at his home, 529 North Lincoln avenue, is an unusually sad one. The young man was but 25 years of age and was loved by many friends for his genial disposition. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Renchler, and lived with his parents. About one year ago he was stricken with an affection of the lungs which obliged him to discontinue his duties as cierk in the freight office of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company. Since that time he has been an invalid and has been confined to his home most of the been confined to his home most of the time. Last Wednesday he returned from a visit in the country. He was from a visit in the country. He was immediately taken with a more severe attack of sickness and was obliged to remain in his room. Death occurred while his relatives and friends were anxiously awaiting the parting, by his bedside. The deceased was held in high esteem by kinsmen and acquaintances. He was born in Monroe county May 25, 1870, and has lived here with his parents since early manhood. The deceased was a member of Globe lodge. Win Their First Game from School of Lackawanna.

The Carbondale Alumni foot ball team won their first game Saturday, when they beat the weakened team of the School of the Lackawanna of this city. The victory was a surprise to the Carbondale team, as they were somewhat crippled by the loss of several of their best players. They put up a fine game and their good team work, together with their superior weight, won for them a hard-fought battle.

Carbondale kicked off, the ball being caught and returned by Murphy. Then it was seen how the greater weight of the locals told, and they gradually pushed the ball toward the enemy's goal, Griffith taking it over. A goal was kicked. Lackawanna then kicked off and Brennan made a pretty run before being downed. What followed was but a repetition of the first part, although Lackawanna stubbornly fought all the way. After the second touchdown the vistors braced up and were taking the hall down the field by long runs around the end, when time was called. Score, 12-0.

During the second half interest in the game was somewhat marrad by the Lackawanna.

sages that give the assurance of a place of purgation. It is handed down from the time before the Redeemer came upon earth that sacrifices were offered for the repose of souls that died with their sins forgiven. Arguing from reason, the speaker said that it is but right to expect that sin carries with it its own punishment.

In this life where sin so abounds and deflies the soul, it would be against reason to believe that a soul, although forgiven its mortal sins, should enter the Kingdom of Heaven forthwith upon dissolution from the body. It would be necessary that a term of cleansing should first be undergone to prepare the soul for appearance before the throne of God. The spoaker urged the congregation to pray for the souls in congregation to pray for the souls in purgatory, during the month of Nov-ember, which the church sets apart for this purpose.

The Lackawanna presbytery will meet Thanksgiving week and the letters applying for admission to that body will be presented by Rev. William A. Nordt, the new pastor of the Hickory Street German Presbyterian church. The Monday following Sunday two weeks ago, the Newark presbytery met and his letter of resignation was read and accepted. Before he can be installed as pastor of the Hickory Street church, he must needs be admitted to this presbytery. He preached two eloquent and very edifying sermons to his congregation yestorday, and will officiate at Newark next Sunday. That will be his farewell appearance before the congregation he is leaving, over which he has presided for twenty-one years, or since he was ordained to the ministry. It is with feelings of reluctance that he has decided to leave Newark. What prompted him to come to Scranton was this one fact; that it impresse him as a city of church-going people. When he preached first in the Hickory Street church, the service was attended by almost every adult member of the congregation, and he resolved that to come here was a call to a wider field of duty, though the Newark church is as large numerically as the Hickory street one. His installation as pastor here will be a notable event.

MADE A DESPERATE BATTLE

Superior Strength and Staying Qualities of the Bicycle Team Allowed Them to Carry Off the Honors-The Decision of Referee Brooks.

One of the closest and most hard-One of the closest and most nara-fought foot ball games of the season in Scranton was won by the Bleycle club eleven from Wyoming seminary Saturday afternoon at the Base Ball park. The score was 6 to nothing, and was the second victory of the bicycle men over the collegians this season. men over the collegians this season.

The game was not easily won by Scranten, and in the first half, during which neither team scored, the seminary men plainly had the advantage; rushing and running the ball after the first kick off from their 20-yard line to within five yards of Scranton's line where only grim determination prevented a touchdown. Connery, Scranton's big guard, was in no condition to play, but went into the game during the second half in place of Connolly. Decker and Owens, too, were stiff and Decker and Owens, too, were stiff and leg-crippled, but put up a better game than could have been expected. Threatening weather probably kept the attendance down to 300 persons, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, the supporters of the up in enthusiasm, the supporters of the blue and white of the seminary and of the orange and black, of the local men, being almost equally divided, the yells of the two factions keeping play-ers and spectators in a state of hard effort and excitement.

Their Playing Improved. The second half of the game was en-tirely different from the opening half. Scranton's mass and end plays were Scranton's mass and end plays were clearly superior, and many gains were made around the ends. Coggins once went back of the line for a touchdown, but Referee Brooks ordered the ball back to the 30-yard line, claiming that here Owens had held Frantz when that player was about to tackle Coggins. A vigorous protest did not change the decision. Zang was soon pushed over the line for a touchdown behind the goal, and Decker made a successful kick. The line up was as follows:

A Memorable Soason. Scranton..... 6 Wyoming..... 0

A Memorable Season The foot ball season of 1895 will long The foot ball season of 1895 will long be a memorable one in Scranton sporting circles, as being the first season to furnish a winning foot ball team. Scranton's excellent showing against such teams as Elmira and the University of Syracuse, gave the team great confidence in itself and the manner in which Shamelit Least and Wayning Semi-Shamokin, Lenigh and Wyoming Semi-nary were taken into camp, shows that the team has not overestimated its ability to play a hard game from the begin-ning to the finish. It is a fact, much re-gretted by the players, that they have not been able to put the regular team in the field, on the home grounds. This is due to the number of men that were hurt in the Shamokin and first Seminurt in the Snamokin and first semi-nary games and the lack of substitutes to take the crippled players' places, makes it a very difficult matter to line the team up in a manner conducive of the best interference.

Owens, left end, has been playing at this naturally weakens the team to a certain extent on that side.

The next game to be played is with the Elmira A. A. and as the team will expected that the cripples will be in expected that the cripples will be in shape and that the team will have its strongest eleven men on the field, to combat with the long-haired kickers from New York state. This will be the game of the season, and will well be worth the price of admission, which will be slightly advanced owing to bringing this team here.

They Played a Fine Game.

They Piayed a Fine Game.

It will be remembered that this is the team with which the Bicycle boys played a tie game, early in the season, neither team succeeding in carrying the ball across their opponent's goal. On November 9 Elmira played the same kind of a game with the strong Orange Athletic team, a team which scored 12 points against Yale, defeated Lehigh and held Princeton down to zero. From this it may be seen that Elmira A. A. would naturally be in the same class with the larger 'Varsity teams, and using the same parity of reasoning the Scranton Bicycle club would not fall short of giving all these teams a hard game.

When the teams line up for the Elmira the same teams a parity of the Elmira the same class with the larger 'Varsity teams, and using the same parity of reasoning the Scranton Bicycle club would not fall short of giving all these teams a hard game.

When the teams line up for the El-When the teams line up for the Elmira game there will be a noticeable difference in the make-up of the eleven and it is hoped that the new combination will be a great beneft to the team. Connolly, new hundred and ninty-five-pound man, will take Zang's place at right guard, who will be transferred either to half or full back. Owens will play his regular place on the end, and Thayer, providing his leg is better, will play back of the line. This ought to make the strongest team that can be gathered together in the city.

A Change Made Necessary.

A Change Mado Necessary.

A Change Mado Necessary.

The team has gradually been growing "stale" and this change has been found necessary, owing to the fact that so many of the men playing back of line have become used up in the last few games. A noticeable fact in last Saturday's game was that Decker, Owens, Connery and Posner, to whose lot it had fallen to advance the ball in the last four games, were out of condition, and unfit to play in the game, however, under the new arrangement the most of the work will devolve upon Zang, Coggins, Allen and Thayer, men who have had a comparitively easy time for the past month, and who are in no wise stiff and sore.

This will not weaken the line any as Connolly is a big, strong fellow, willing and anxious to do his share of the work, while back of the line, Zang's additional weight will do much to strengthen the interference, which of late has become rather ragged.

Noakes, Scranton's wonderful punter, will, no doubt, play in the games as his kicks of fifty and sixty yards are indispensible, and should a game turn into kicking match between the fullbacks, his absence would be sorely felt. Walsh at quarter back is a fixture, and unless some accident happens to this young player, he will be A Change Made Necessary.

ture, and unless some accident happens to this young player, he will be found behind Cleveland, for the rest of the season, and especially will these last two men be needed in the Elmira game on Nov. 20, as the team will have game on Nov. 20, as the team will have to play the snapplest kind of a game to hold this team from scoring. There is not a weak place on the line at pres-sent, and with the ten days' practice before meeting Elmira, the feam ought to be in shape to play a great game.

SCRANTON WINS.

The Harry Illimon Academy Foot Ball Eleven Suffers Defeat.
On Saturday afternoon the Harry Hillman Academy Foot Ball team was defeated by the Scranton Business college team by a score of $ to 4. The first touchdown was scored on brilliant runs by Eaton and Bennett, who carried the ball from the center of the field to the goal. Eaton missed the goal Shortly after, ther was a fumble on the Harry Hilliam Academy side, and Scholl broke through and with a clear field scored a touchquown. The line-up:

Misery in England Causediby the Mining London, Nov. 11.—The prices of con-sols have shaken during the week as if Great Britain was on the eve of war. Some authorities attribute the drop of 2½ that has occurred during the week partly to war fears. Those know-ing the exact character of consol sales say that it is due to numberless small fund holders selling out to meet their losses in the South African mining losses in the South African mining speculation.

Strong speculators have, as usual. skinned the small capitalists, who wanted to add something to their little piles acquired by years of industry. Many English households have a black winter to look forward to, owing to the mania of speculation that turned the heads of their bread winners.

These considerations, however, did not prevent Sir Joseph Renals, the present Lord Mayor, of London, from giving a banquet on Thursday at the Mansion House to Barney Barnato, the leader of the Kaffir circus. Sir Joseph's reputation as a company promoter and general "guinea pig" very motor and general "guinea pig" very nearly prevented his election as chief magistrate of the city of London. His career since his election has justified the opposition shown to his selection for the office. The Westminster Gazette sald:

The representatives of important banks and firms refused to attend the banquet, although the Lord Mayor described the company as a "brilliant gathering in the first city of the empire." "Every nation to its taste." says the Westminster Gazette. "Athens proclaimed Themistocles its savior, Rome its Quintus Fabius, Germany its Barbarossa, and we have our Barnato."
It is right to add that among his intimate friends Mr. Barnato is held in esteem. Though he is a keen business man, he is very generous. It is said that he is now worth £14,000,000.

Foreign Exhibitors Can Distribute Sam Foreign Exhibitors Can Distribute Samples of Liquors Without Paying Duty.
Washington, Nov. 11.—The treasury department has settled the question of the free distribution of samples of whiskey and wines at the Atlanta exposition, which has long vexed the officials. Free whiskey has finally won. Among the many foreign exhibitors are several houses which deal exclusively in wines and liquors. They had samples of their liquors put up in small sively in wines and liquors. They had samples of their liquors put up in small bottles, which they distributed free among people who visited their exhibits. Under the law all articles imported for the exposition were permitted to come in free of duty, provided an indemnity bond was filed by the importer to pay duty on all articles not returned after the exposition.

On articles soid at the exposition the usual duties are imposed. The foreign wine and liquor dealers contended that their wares, unlike all others could wine and liquor dealers contended that their wares, unlike all others could only be judged by consumption; that the quality of their goods could not be determined by looking at the bottle containing the liquor or by smelling the cork. They were perfectly willing to pay the duty attaching to the liquors and wines sold, but asked that duty on samples distributed free be remitted. The treasury has endeavored in various ways to reach some satisfactory test of the quality of liquor except by drinking it, but without success, and finally Secretary Carlisle has fallen back on the old regulations applied to the World's Fair and the California exposition, which permitted the free entry of liquors for distribution as samples.
