THE WINDISCH TRIAL.

A Number of Witnesses Give Testimony in the Case.

When court convened yesterday morning, the case against George Windisch was resumed before Judge Woodward, in a crowded court room. A number of witnesses were examined, but their testimony merely corroborated previous witnesses in their statements as to the appearance and location of the body. Charles Heitzleman testified that he saw the body when it was found. He saw the whole Windisch family together on the morning when the murder was supposed to have been committed. Could not hear what they were saying, but thought that they were talking angrily and quarreling.

Professor W. H. Dean, of this city, testified that he is a chemist. He examined the shirt brought to him by William Bauer, September 13 last, for the purpose of finding if the spots were blood stains. Cut pieces out of the clothes and labelled them. Cut from the middle a large stain or clot of coagulated blood. He also cut blood spot from the toe of a rubber boot brought to him. It was blood spot of a mammal, a warm blooded animal, which suckles young. Cannot tell positively whether this is human blood or not. I can just say that it is consistent with it.

I found that it was mammal blood by the blood corpuscles. I ascertained that it is mammal blood by the microscope. First, the blood is disintergrated by water with a little glycerine and then put under the microscope. It makes no difference how long afterwards, as long as the blood corpuscles are present we can always tell. Prolonged wearing of the garment with the blood on, will destroy it or blood can be removed by hot water or ammonia, otherwise the corpuscles can be detected after ten years.

Dr. C. J. McFadden was then sworn. He is a physician of Pittston, and was called to the Windisch house to examine the body of Mrs. Windisch on Sunday. The head was badly lacerated, and there were cuts clear down to the skull, one over the right eyebrow and one on the left side of the skull. It could have been done by a chisel. The left ear was cut in several places, and the cause of death was hemorrahge caused by the wounds. Deceased was a healthy woman, evidently about 45 years of age. She had probably been dead about four or five days. The body was in the condition of rigor mortis. This rigor sets in about twelve hours after death and remains thirty or forty hours after that, when decomposition sets in. In case of accident or violence, rigor remains longer.

Dr. C. J. Barrett, of Pittston, was then called. He had examined the body and found that there was a cut on the head, and one on the forehead; it appeared pointed at the top and narrowed at the base and looked as if made by a chisel. I tried the end of the chisel in the wound in the forehead and it fitted. The wound was about an inch deep. The body of the woman was laying on the paper which laid under the carpet, and when I saw the body pieces of paper stuck to the face of the deceased, being held there by the coagulation of the blood.

The body appeared to have been dead about three or four days. The cause of death was hemorrhage. I made the autopsy on the Tuesday following. The woman's head was covered by numerous wounds, there being thirty-seven on the scalp, all of them being in the vicinity of the ear and top of the head and one was on the back of the neck. Both ears were sliced downward to the bone. The temple bone was fractured on both sides, a small piece of bone at the base of the skull was broken off. Dr. Barrett was subjected to a long cross-examination, but his testimony was unchanged.

At the afternoon session of court Kunigunda Ruoff, an undertaker of Pittston, was first called. She said that she had been an undertaker in Pittston for thirty years and testified that she laid out the body of Mrs. Windisch for burial. She found a thimble and a needle near the corpse. Witness was then asked how long Mrs. Windisch had been dead. This was objected to by Mr. Lenahan, on the grounds that the prosecution had shown no grounds that the witness was competent to act as an expert in these matters. Then followed a long argument and Judge Woodward admitted the testimony. Mrs. Ruoff said she thought the body had been dead four or five days. She had no way of telling except that she had often prepared bodies for burial and knew by the condition of the bodies. No blood was in the veins.

Mary Heffernan, a resident of Hughestown, was next called. She said: I remember the day Mrs. Windisch is said to have been murdered. I had dinned about 12 o'clock of that day and went up to Windisch's house and asked him if he had any onions to sell. Windisch opened the door several inches only, I saw his face. While the door was open I heard cries as if a woman was crying. It sounded as if it came from a distant room, a closed room. I went right home then. The cross-examination revealed nothing new, except that she did not ask what made the cry, or manifest any curiosity about the matter.

Mary Drummond, the next witness sworn, testified she saw Windisch leaving his house on Thursday, April 4, about 2 oclock with a dark suit of clothes on, a brown overcoat and a slouch hat.

Henrietta Reynolds—Saw Windisch walking in direction of Wilkes-Barre about 1.30 on Thursday, April 4. He had on a dark suit of clothes and an overcoat. Court then adjourned for the day.

ONLY THREE CHOSEN.

The Metzgar Case Is Progressing Very Slowly.

Yesterday in the Metzgar case was an uneventful day, but the trial may make up for it, as some surprises are promised. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in selecting a jury, as the panel was exhausted and gone over several times. The names were called from the list instead of from the jury box. Attorney Ward asked that it be placed on record that the names of the jurors were called at the suggestion of the district attorney instead of from the box as prescribed by law. Judge Bennett allowed the note to be made, but permitted the calling of the jurors as before. After considerable delay and quiet discussion upon the part of the attorneys, Mr. Ward asked that the following objections be placed in record.

First—Object to the fact that John Riley, C. E. Sutherland and A. C. Shaw were excused without the consent of the defendant or the defendant's counsel.

Second—Object to the sufficiency of the number of the jurors.

After stating that the complications arising from the excusing of jurors in the other court room was partly responsible for the exhaustion of the panel, Judge Bennett ordered that another panel of jurors be drawn and adjourned court until 2 p. m.

After dinner Judge Bennett announced that the objections were overruled, and the defense at once filed others as follows:

First—Object because the record shows that thirty-three jurors were called, which does not constitute a proper panel, and they therefore demanded a full panel.

Second—Object to the absence of a number of jurors whose absence has not been accounted for.

The call of jurors was resumed and immediately the wrangling of the respective counsels commenced. Attorney Jones, for the commonwealth, attempted to re-examine a juror who had been stood aside at the morning session, but Mr. Thornton vigorously objected. The stenographer read to the judge the questions propounded to and answered by the juror this morning, after which the judge questioned the juror and he was rejected. At this point Mr. Fell asked that as the panel appeared to be exhausted, a special venire be issued. The court therefore ordered that the sheriff immediately summon forty-eight special jurors to appear at 9 o'clock this morning. The case was then adjourned until that hour. Only three jurors have been accepted thus far.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

A Big Meeting Held at St. Stephen's Church Yesterday.

The Woman's Auxiliary convention was held yesterday in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, and a large number were in attendance. Among the well-known church dignities present were: Bishops Rulison, Brewer and Garrett, Revs. Powers, Pottsville; Angel, Harrisburg; Foley, Williamsport; Israel, Scranton; Eckel, Pittston; Sterling, Bethlehem; Ballentine, Green Ridge; Coxe, Nanticoke; Ware, Plymouth; Dr. Jones and Revs. Sleight and Johnson, of Wilkes-Barre.

The parishes represented were. Scranton, Green Ridge, Honesdale, Towanda, Lebanon, Easton, Williamsport, Harrisburg, South Bethlehem, Mauch Chunk, Bethlehem, Green Ridge, Pottsville, Reading, Nanticoke, and Plymouth.

Bishop Garrett preached a very excellent sermon.

There was an offering taken for mission purposes, after which Bishop Rulison administered communion, being assisted by Dr. Jones.

After communion, there was another excellent address made by Right Rev. Bishop Brewer, of Montana. He spoke on the subject of missions and missionary work.

Married Yesterday.

Yesterday morning, Jacob Brown and Miss Mary Zimmerman wer married in St. Nicholas' church by Rev. P. C. Nagle, with a nuptial mass. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Clara Zimmerman, and the groom by his brother, Andrew Brown. The bride and bridesmaid wore handsome costumes. A large number of admiring friends witnessed te ceremony. At its conclusion the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, on Kidder street, where a wedding breakfast was served.

The will of Matthew Brown, of Dallas, was probated yesterday. He leaves everything to his wife, during the term of her natural life, and at her death, thirty acres of land to his son, William, to his sons, Joseph, Robert and John, $5 each, to his son, James, $50.

LIKE THE MORA CLAIM.

Hotel Keeper Repko Wants Uncle Sam to Collect Pay from Spain for His Hotel.

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 14.—Judge James E. Walsh is about to file at the state department in Washington a claim for $200,000 damages gainst the Spanish government, and will ask that it be recognized as a claim of a citizen of the United States. The circumstances are similar to those connected with those of the Mora claim, only on a smaller scale. The claimant is John Repko, an Italian, and a naturalized citizen of this country. He is the proprietor of the Roma Grand Continental hotel, in Havana, one of the largest hotels in Cuba. The officers of several of the Spanish regiments which had been sent over from Spain to quell the revolution and which were stationed at Havana, used Repko's hotel as their headquarters, lived high and contracted large bills, but did not pay any board. One night last summer Repko and his family were driven out of the building by the officers and the hotel was confiscated on the pretext that Repko was a sympathizer with the revolutionists. He was obliged to come to this country for safety, and is now in Tampa, Fla.

Repko claims that the confiscation was unjust, and as he is a citizen of the United States he also claims that it is breach of international law. He demands that the hotel be restored to his possession, and, as he has been nearly reduced to poverty by its confiscation, claims $200,000 damages.

SLAP AT MR. POWDERLY.

His Right to Vote in the General Assembly of Knights of Labor Is Cancelled by Change of Constitution.

Washington, Nov. 14.—This morning's session of the general assembly of the Knights of Labor was taken up entirely with a discussion of the report of the committee on law, and when the recess was ordered at 1.30 its consideration had not been concluded. The proposition to reduce the per capita tax from two cents per month to one cent, was defeated, the drift of the argument going to show that the organization needed the money thus derived for the institution of new assemblies and the propogation of the general work of the order. It was also thought that this tax was not so heavy but that it could be borne easily by the members until the organization was on a firmer footing.

The constitution was also amended so as to take from the past general master workman the right to vote in the general assembly, but permitting him to retain his seat as an advisory member with authority to participate in all debates.

Mr. Powderly, although now under suspension, is the official thus deprived of the vote in question. He is not present and it was expressly stated that no feeling of animosity towards Mr. Powderly actuated the assembly.

The new rule will apply in the same manner to Mr. Sovereign when he retires one year hence. It is said that if a past master workman had the proper standing in his own jurisdiciton his district would send him as an accredited delegate and the present provision of the constitution was for that reason unnecessary.

One of the prominent officials of the assembly made the statement this morning that all rumors derogatory to the report of Treasurer Hayes were false. The report, he said, made a favorable showing, but the assembly did not care at this time to make it public.

BOSTON'S BIG BLAZE.

Five-Story Brick Building Gutted by Fire. Narrow Escape of Girls Employed in the Edifice.

Boston, Nov. 14.—The five story brick building at 200 and 202 Congress street, was gutted by fire this afternoon. It was occupied entirely by the Empire Distilling company. Several persons were injured but only one seriously—James Connelly, a cooper. Little is known about the origin of the fire. There was suddenly an explosion of alcohol on the second floor and in a minute two more followed. Then it seemed as though the whole structure was burning.

The flames communicated to the buildings of A. P. Tapley and company, boots and shoes, and of Thompson and Norris, paper boxes, but the damage to each was slight. A panic was created among some forty-five girls employed at the Thompson and Norris factory. Some of them would have jumped from windows had they not been prevented, but all finally got out in safety. A similar state of affairs occurred in the confectionery shop of W. M. Lowney, in the rear of the distilling company's building. Some 400 girls are employed there, and when the smoke from the burning building reached the candy factory the girls became panic stricken. Many of them fainted in the rush and excitement, but as in the paper box building, all escaped injury.

The Empire Distilling company's loss is about $85,000, partly insured. The loss on the building was $10,000, insured.

IN A FLOOD OF GOLD.

Philadelphia Gardener's Daughter Falls Heir to $15,000,000.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14.—A remarkable romance in real life has come to light by the sudden and unexpected inheritance of a fortune of $15,000,000 by the 25-year-old daughter of a poor gardener, William Kelly. The legacy comes from the estate of a long dead uncle, Peter Kelly, who amassed a vast fortune in the Australian gold fields over thirty years ago. Peter Kelly was living with his parents, in Lancashire, England, when the Australian gold craze broke out, and he went to that land to make his fortune. Nothing was heard of him until nearly a quarter of a century ago, when his mother received word that he would soon return home a millionaire. He did not come, however. Inquiry was begun, and the son's story of his millions was verified, part of the money being in Australian banks. The family received the interest on the fortune, which was valued at $15,000,000.

Some time ago William Kelly learned of the existence of a will in which all the estate was bequeathed to his eldest child, Elizabeth. At first he made no effort to secure it. Two years ago, however, he engaged an attorney, and he declared the enormous legacy will be placed at the disposal of the girl this week.

MINERS' NARROW ESCAPE.

Thirty Men Crawl Upon Their Hands and Knees a Half Mile.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 14.—Thirty miners at the Lenz coal mine on the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis road, ten miles south of East St. Louis, had a narrow escape from suffocation this morning. They were at work in a drift about eighty feet below the surface. The steam pipe which descends into the mine from the engine room above burst. Hot steam poured into the mine and the air was stifling. The supplying of fresh air was cut off. The men rushed to the cage, and in their hurry to descend the shaft trampled upon each other in the darkness. Then the engine had stopped and they could not be taken to terra firma.

An old gray-haired miner named Thompson, called upon them all to lay down and follow him on their hands and knees, and keep their heads close to the ground. He led them through an old tunnel a half mile long to the Oak Hill mine, where they were hauled up. Some of the boys and young miners were panting for breath. The old fellows stuck it out the best, but it was a hard journey for all.

HUSBAND'S GHOST FEARED.

Why Mrs. Ida Hamilton Left Her Second Spouse in Colorado.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 14.—W. D. Staplin, of this city, received a letter today from his daughter, Mrs. Ida Hamilton, confirming the report that she had left her husband at Levita, Colo., after being married only a few days. Mrs. Hamilton states that her first husband, Mr. Gant, told her before his death that if she ever married again he would haunt her until doomsday. She says she had a terrible feeling come over her on the way out to Colorado and could not shake it off.

At the wedding everybody noticed her pallor, and she nearly fainted during the ceremony. Every time her husband came near her she says she felt a nameless horror steal over her. She could stand it only a few days, she says, and then kissing his seven children, while he was out on the ranch, left the place for Denver, and says she is now happy again.

MANY CHILDREN BURNED.

Schoolhouse in Mexico Destroyed with Terrible Results.

Grenada, Mexico, Nov. 14.—A school building here, in which 150 children were present, caught fire and before anything could be done the whole building was ablaze and in spite of the heroic efforts of the people the building was destroyed. Thirty-one charred bodies, including the teacher, have so far been taken out.

The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin, and two boys who had been severely punished by the teacher and suspended from school, are believed to be the authors of the crime.

VICTIM OF LOVE.

The Man Who Wished to Kill Pullman Sent to an Asylum.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—William Sherman, the employe of the Pullman building, who created a sensation in the big building Tuesday by running from office to office exclaiming that he had to kill Mr. Pullman and General Manager Griffin, appeared in the insane court today.

According to the story he told he is a victim of unrequited love. He was sent to the county insane asylum.
