THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 15, 1895.

Mauch Chunk. Harry Clarkson, a traveling salesman whose home is in Scranton, was seriously injured in a runaway accident in Mauch Chunk Wednesday. He is employed by a Philadelphia house. Yesterday his brother, Fred Clarkson, of this city, and head salesman of the Martin & Delany cloth-ing store, left here for Mauch Chunk. The following dispatch to The Tribune indicates that Clarkson is fatally hurt: Mauch Chunk, Pa., Nov. 14.-Harry Buss, once of the victims of the runaway accident at Lansford, died last night. Harry Clarkson, of Philadelphia, the other victim, is gradually sinking, and his death is expected at any moment.

BERRY, THE JEWELER

Tranch. Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 14—Two men were killed by the caving in of a sewer trench on Clinton street, just after nine o'clock this morning. Their names are: Alexander Aubin, aged twenty-five; Joseph Lavallee, aged about forty-five. The men were meinbers of a gang of fifty-three men at work on the main city sewer under direction of City En-gineer Sweet. Then trench was six and one-half feet deep and the sides were not shored up. A section of the bank about two feet wide and ten feet in length tumbled into the trench, burying the two men who were at work just at that point. Aubin was dead when taken out, and Lavallee lived only a few minutes after being removed.

The Best Investments.

Major Warren's argument to the jury was an exhaustive review of the evi-dence and the law applying to the lia-bility of debtors in cases similar to the one tried. He maintained that the defendants had proven that Mr. Jes-sur's indebtedness to the bank had been all satisfactorily arranged, and that no further flabilities exist for which the bondsmen are responsible. According to the assignee the in-debtedness of the bank when it failed was $140,000. Of this amount there had been raised from the sale of Mr. Jes-sup's coal lands, $73,000. The money which Dr. Throop set aside in the $25,-000 from his deposits in the bank for the benefit of the depositors was that much off the liabilities of the cashier. Major Warren summed up the various amounts that were applied from time to time on the liabilities of the cashier and showed that more than $140,000 had been raised and that there now exists ng such disparity as $38,000 yet to be accounted for. Argument for the Plaintiff. Argument for the Plaintiff. Attorney Price's argument for the plaintiff was no less comprehensive than that of the defendants' counsel, and it covered every detail of the case.
