COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Rhea Will Give Three Performances at the Frothingham Building Tonight.

Mrs. Rhea, supported by an excellent company and Wednesday evening and Wednesday matinee. On Tuesday night and Wednesday matinee, the charming artist appears in Paul Keeler's new drama, "Nell Gwynne," a five-act drama of the rise and fall of the famous actress of that name from abject poverty to a position second only in power and influence to the king of England himself. The play deals chiefly with the life of the famous actress of England, Lord Jeffries, to gratify personal malice against Sir Roger Fairfax, the friend of Nell Gwynne, for an alleged offense against the king. But for the interposition of Nell Gwynne, whose wit proved more than a match for the chief justice, Sir Roger would have gone to the block, but she saves him, thus repaying early kindness to her father and herself. A feature sure to appeal to the ladies will be the beautiful costumes and hats worn by the feminine portion of the company. Wednesday evening the bill will be "Josephine."

"Villon, the Vagabond," Otis Skinner's new play, has proved a great success, that he will make it his piece de resistance this season, and it is this play which this favorite actor will present at the Academy of Music next Thursday evening. The story of the play is very interesting, the play itself most romantic and the situations and climaxes described as being strong and exceedingly dramatic. The engagement of Otis Skinner is a very important theatrical event.

"Jolly Old Chums" will be the attraction at the Academy on Friday. The name as it implies is a farce comedy, broad in character and abounding in rollicking fun. The comedy parts are sustained by Thomas J. Grady and Budd Ross, two of the funniest comedians in this style of entertainment, and they are assisted by Miss Carrie Lamont, a charming soloist, and Miss Lillian Stillman, as the new woman, up to date, making the strongest quartet of farce comedy players in the city. The late principal comedian Corinne O'Connell, Harry Hughes, Edna West, Jennie Graves, Charles O. Wallace, F. Clinton Scott, Hattie Bernard, Oretta Scherhorn and Misses Chase, Meyers, Williamson and Engler making one of the largest and most expensive farce comedies on the road. All the brightest and latest new music, and everything is done to make this one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season.

L. A. W. STATE OFFICERS

Chosen by a Counting of Ballots in This City. Scranton Man Elected Secretary and Treasurer.

At the office of John J. Van Nort, secretary and treasurer of the Pennsylvania division of the League of American Wheelmen, the ballots for officers of the state division were counted yesterday by a committee.

Samuel A. Boyle, of Philadelphia, was elected chief consul; Thomas J. Keenan, of Pittsburgh, vice consul; and John J. Van Nort, of this city, secretary and treasurer. The ballots were counted by H. C. Wallace, of this city; R. Murray, of Philadelphia; C. H. Collins, of Philadelphia. Only 3,000 votes were received from the 5,000 members of the league eligible to vote in Pennsylvania. There was no extensive competition for the offices of consul and vice consul. For secretary and treasurer, Mr. Van Nort, who has held the office for seven years, was opposed by Charles A. Mortons, of Erie.

The Pennsylvania division is represented by representatives from the six districts. These representatives were met at the office of the secretary, John J. Van Nort, at his next meeting, which will probably be held in Philadelphia in January. W. H. Tucker, of Philadelphia, 120 N. 3rd; C. H. Collins, of Philadelphia, 422 N. 3rd; J. A. K. OF H. GRAND OFFICERS.

Addressed the Local Members in the Odd Fellows' Building.

Scranton Knights of Honor and their friends entertained a large number of readings to be given by Miss Jones, of the city, at the Odd Fellows' building, on Wyoming avenue, last night by three of the state officers, J. W. Goben, of Philadelphia, supreme dictator; H. W. Allison, mayor of Allentown, grand dictator; and George W. Du Bree, of Philadelphia, deputy grand dictator. The meeting was public and was presided over by G. Kerr.

The Knights of Honor is a fraternal beneficial society composed of white male persons of sound bodily health, and of good moral character and between 18 and 50 years of age at the time of admission.

The principal address was made by the supreme dictator, H. W. Allison, grand dictator. To the members he showed the importance of infusing new blood into the order, and to the non-members he explained the society's fundamental ideas and presented arguments calculated to induce them to join. After the meeting an informal conference was held in the reception parlor by the local knights and the grand officer, who left the city on the 11:30 Delaware and Hudson train going south.

TWO IMPORTANT THINGS

Were Included in Last Night's Board of Trade Business.

PAID FIRE SERVICE WANTED

Board Rejected Against the Lackawanna Road's Mileage System. Steps Taken Toward More Definite Action on Two Matters—Other New Business.

Two very pertinent local questions were considered along with the usual batch of business at last night's meeting of the board of trade. A movement was started to negotiate with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company relative to abolishing its mileage system and looking toward a return to the old books. Committees were appointed to try and secure through council the creation of the fire department as a paid system.

It was expressed by Secretary Atherton that although a report of the manufacturers' committee had been prepared, the committee had proper reason for withholding it until the December meeting. He stated that one new industry had been secured and that negotiations with another were nearly consummated, and that the facts relative to the two concerns could probably be received with interest and gratification at the December meeting.

Relative to the fire marshal matter the following report was received and adopted:

"Your committee on Public Safety beg to offer the following resolution, to wit:

Resolved—That the City Solicitor is hereby respectfully urged to at once prepare an ordinance for the consideration of the council of the city, relating to the office of fire marshal, and making the necessary appropriation for salary and expenses, as provided by Bill No. 174, passed by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the session of 1895, and be it further resolved—That the Secretary be instructed to have the ordinance prepared with a copy of these resolutions, with an earnest request that the ordinance be prepared as early as possible, in order that the fire marshal may be installed upon his duties as soon as practicable. Respectfully submitted,

Signed—R. W. Luce, chairman."

Report on the Public Market.

The special committee appointed to investigate the public market idea made the following report, which was adopted:

The committee appointed to investigate the feasibility and wisdom of establishing a public market in this city, beg to report as follows, to wit:

First—We believe that a public market properly managed and centrally located, would be a paying investment to the promoters, and a great convenience to the public generally.

Second—We also believe that if a public market is established, it should be conducted by a private corporation, and not under the management of the city.

Third—Before a corporation could successfully carry on a business of this character, certain legislation would be necessary relative to and governing the sale of produce in the streets by hawkers and push-carts.

"As the resolution under which this committee was created carried with it instructions to the committee to make a public market, we beg to go a little beyond that point and make the following recommendations:

First—We recommend that the committee on legislation and taxes be instructed to prepare an ordinance governing the sale of produce in the streets, as provided by the laws of this commonwealth.

Second—If the necessary legislation can be secured, we recommend that a corporation be formed with sufficient capital to purchase a desirable site, erect suitable buildings thereon, and conduct a regular public market business, believing from data at hand that it would prove a paying investment to the stockholders.

New Members Elected.

The following new members were elected: A. D. Stewart, John J. Widmayer, president of the Lackawanna Stone company, and Mr. Lebeck, of the dry goods firm of Lebeck & Corbin.

It was resolved that the memorial to the Democratic and Republican national committees passed by the Cleveland chamber of commerce, Nov. 23, 1895, requesting the shortening of the presidential campaign from six to three months, be concurred in.

Relative to the department the communication of the board's secretary was as follows:

"Acting upon the suggestion of Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, president of the United Firemen's association of this city, I have collected some valuable information relative to the cost of maintenance, equipment, etc., of fire departments in different cities in this country and Canada. The testimony of the heads of the different departments from whom information was solicited, would seem to indicate that a re-organization on the part of this board as to the wisdom of re-organizing the fire department of this city into a paid department. With this end in view, I would respectfully suggest that this matter be referred to a committee of three, with instructions to report in writing on this subject on or before the December meeting. Respectfully submitted,

D. B. Atherton, secretary."

The suggestion embodied in the letter was put as a motion before the meeting and was adopted, according to its provisions President May appointed Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, Solomon Goldsmith and J. H. Steel to constitute the committee.

It was upon the suggestion of Mr. Steel that action was taken on the mileage question. He said that the present system of the Lackawanna road is very obnoxious to business firms, especially those having several traveling salesmen. The system present is the purchase of a mile a day, which can be obtained only by a great deal of red tape. He made a motion that a committee be appointed to reorganize with the Lackawanna company, and urge the road to return to the old system. The motion was amended to include the Ontario and Western road, and was adopted. John J. Widmayer, of the road, and J. J. Kelly were appointed the committee.

BIG CARPET CONTRACT.

It Has Been Awarded to Williams and McAnulty.

Williams & McAnulty have been awarded the contract by the G. & G. for supplying the carpets and curtains for the new Hotel Jermyn. It is the largest order ever placed with a carpet house in Pennsylvania, and the fact that a Scranton firm was able to successfully compete with all comers on an order of such magnitude is a credit to their business men can not be out done by their rivals in other cities.

The carpets will be the best Wilkins and velvets, and the work of manufacturing has already begun. As rapidly as manufactured they will be cut and sewed in Williams & McAnulty's warehouse.

SOME FINE ENTERTAINERS.

They Are at the Davis Theatre With Plays and Players Company.

"Plays and Players," a very fine farce which began a three days' engagement at the Davis theatre yesterday afternoon, is not possessed of much of a plot, but that is immaterial in a farce when clever people are in the cast. "Plays and Players" undeniably has several very clever people in the company. Ritchie Foy, Fred Wilson and Frank Latona are a great trio of merry-makers and keep the audience convulsing from start to finish.

Wilson gives an accurate and amusing impersonation of an Irish woman and the performance of Latona on a contrabass violin was very melodious. Among the ladies of the company Annie Whitney created the most favorable impression. She possesses a sweet voice and sang several numbers with splendid effect. The dancing and loud efforts of Lillie Vedder to amuse might be toned down with advantage to the performance. It is not in harmony with the work of the other members of the company.

"Plays and Players" will be repeated here and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

SUSAN RYAN INSANE.

She is the Woman Who Refused to Realize on Her Marriage License.

Susan Ryan, the heroine of several escapades of late, was yesterday adjudged insane by Doctors Gunster and Manley and ordered sent to the Hillside home.

The police thought they were well rid of her last week when she was sent to Pittston, where she could be cared for. Her sister did not want to let her go, but Susan liked not the quietude of the new city and determined to come back to Scranton and its excitement.

Her sister did not want to let her go, but Susan swore that if she was not provided with money for her journey she would steal it. Thereupon Mrs. Wagner gave Susan her fare and saw her to the train. Mr. Wagner followed them up and also took the train to Scranton. Arriving here he had his bothersome sister-in-law arrested and examined. She will be taken to Hillside home to-day.

The police authorities of Pittston on Friday last directed our poor board to come after her, so at all events she was destined for the Home.

HORSES HAVE A RACE.

They Were Unrestrained and Left Wreckage Strewed in Their Wake.

A team of horses attached to one of the horse-drawn wagons of the Scranton Dairy company became frightened on Linden street yesterday afternoon and started toward the bridge at a terrific pace. The horse and carriage of H. H. Campbell was standing in front of his store, 214 Linden street, when the horses came rushing along. The wagon was wrecked and the horses killed, breaking it and throwing the wreck and Campbell's horse onto the sidewalk.

Down the street the horses continued until they reached the corner of Franklin avenue, where the wagon collided with a telegraph pole containing fire alarm box No. 23. So violent was the impact that the pole was reduced to a wreck, the pole splintered and the fire alarm box destroyed.

Frederick of the wagon, the horses continued their mad career until they reached the bridge, where they were stopped without causing further damage.

DEATH OF MRS. MILLER.

Called to Her Eternal Rest After Four Years of Suffering.

Mrs. Matilda Miller, wife of E. E. Miller, of Diamond street, died at her residence yesterday morning at 3:30 after an illness of nearly four years. She has been a patient sufferer for a long time, yet untiringly waited for the call to eternal rest.

She leaves besides her husband two children, John, the eldest, Rev. J. B. Sweet, of Ashby, and Charles, a son, a merchant at the corner of Diamond avenue and Court street.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence, 1209 Diamond avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in Forest Hill cemetery.

CONCERT AT HALLSTEAD.

Scranton Musicians Will Give an Entertainment for the Y. M. C. A.

The Imperial concert company, consisting of Professor J. M. Chance, director; Miss Susie Black, soprano; Miss Lydia Garrahan, contralto; Miss Anna Bunnell, alto; and the Imperial quartette, will give a concert at Hallstead under the auspices of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association Thursday evening, Nov. 21.

The quartette is made up of W. W. Kiple and William R. Allen, violinists, W. H. Stanton, cornetist, and Charles Doersam, pianist. A fine program has been arranged.

BRIDGES ARE BARGAINS.

Over $50,000 Saved by Building Them Before the Rise in Iron, and the Underwriters of this City.

City Controller Widmayer yesterday figured out that the city had saved over $50,000 on the two new bridges by erecting them before the rise in iron, and the underwriters of this city.

"We could not now," said Mr. Widmayer, "do the iron work on the Linden street bridge for what the whole cost of the bridge would be. The estimated bridge men who have visited me of late have told me that we have two bargains in those bridges."

JOSEPH HELD DEAD.

Had Been for Many Years a Resident of Scranton.

Joseph Held died yesterday morning at his home, 822 Monroe avenue. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Held had been a resident of Scranton since he was a young man. He was a private in Company C, Second United States Infantry, and was connected with the Knights of Pythias. His wife and two sons, Joseph W. and John P., survive him.

Passenger Conductor Carpy Stricken While on Duty.

Conductor Carpy of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western passenger train No. 8, was struck with paralysis of the left side as he was starting out on his morning run from Binghamton yesterday morning. He was taken back to Binghamton on an up-going train, which was met at Nicholson, where he was conveyed to his home.

The physicians have strong hopes that the attack is not a permanent one. Yesterday he was resting easily and felt much improved.

WIFE BEATER DISCHARGED.

His Victim Refuses to Prosecute and He Escapes Without Punishment.

James Cannon, the Ninth street wife beater, escaped yesterday without punishment, owing to his wife's failure to appear against him and her aversion to having him prosecuted.

She is yet under the doctor's care as a result of his brutality, having a broken jaw, a sprained ankle and bruises and cuts about her body.

SECOND WEEK OF THE TERM

Judge Love, of Bellefonte, is Assisting the Local Judges.

WAS IT ANOTHER SIMON RICE?

One Named as the Defendant Allege That He Did Not Go Markham's Bail. Verdict Returned in His Favor. Other Cases Heard.

The second week of common pleas court began yesterday morning. Judge John G. Love, of Bellefonte, who will sit in No. 2 room, arrived in the afternoon. Judge Archibald will be in the main room and Judge Edwards in No. 3 during the week.

The first case called was that of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania versus Simon Rice. Ex-Judge H. A. Knapp appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney George D. Taylor for the defendant. John Markham, a quondam resident of this city, was arrested and taken before Alderman Wright, of the Ninth ward, yesterday morning.

Markham was allowed to depart from the alderman's office and the record showed that Simon Rice had qualified as surety in the sum of $500. When the case was called in criminal court Markham was not on and his bail was forfeited. The suit yesterday was to collect the $500 from Mr. Rice as bondsman. The defendant denied absolutely that he ever knew Markham, much less went his bail. Alderman Wright was sworn and he had no recollection that it was Mr. Rice who signed Markham's bond. The jury decided that it must have been some other Simon Rice and found a verdict for the defendant.

Tried in Court Room No. 2.

In court room No. 2 the case of Liveright, Greenwald & Co., of Philadelphia, against T. F. McDermott and A. Barber was tried before Judge Edwards. Attorneys H. M. Hannah and A. D. Dean represented the plaintiff and Attorney John F. Scragg, the defendant. This is the second trial of the case.

A. A. Ayers, of Peckville, some years ago kept a drug store and was indebted to McDermott and Barber. He became involved in financial troubles and made an agreement with A. D. Dean, representing the Philadelphia firm, that he would give security for the payment of the debt and wished to be allowed four months' time to tide him over.

He got McDermott and Barber, his neighbors, to go his security, and that was agreed to by Liveright, Greenwald & Co. But before the four months expired creditors came down on him and sold him out. The Philadelphia creditors were unable to realize much out of the sale and they brought suit against McDermott and Barber, the sureties on Ayers' security, that the debt would be paid. The case went to the jury at 4 o'clock. The amount of the claim is about $700.

The suit of Joseph Gluck against Michael Moran was called in the main court room and had only progressed a short distance beyond the opening stage when a juror was withdrawn and the case continued. An amicable settlement was reached. The plaintiff kept a saloon in Fell township and the defendant is the irrefragable ex-deputy sheriff and detective, named Michael Sweet owed Moran $50 and would not pay it. An execution was issued and the sheriff levied upon ten cows, twenty-four turkeys, eight chickens, twenty-four turkeys, growing buckwheat, some household goods and two wagons. Gluck interpleaded, claiming the goods attached as his and not Sweet's.

It Will Be Tried To-day.

The suit of the Cincinnati Safe and Lock company against M. M. DeWitt will be the first one tried in No. 1 court today. A jury was selected and sworn. Attorneys C. C. Donovan and C. B. Woodruff represent the plaintiff, and John F. Scragg and R. A. Zimmerman the defendant.

The following cases were continued: T. R. Edwards against the city of Scranton; David J. Jones against the Delaware and Hudson; State against Ignatz Oram; State against E. J. McCormack; State against William Kelly; Griffiths & Jones against Francis Seelye; J. D. Dwyer against the Iron City Insurance company; Connell & Son against Mary Zeldner and others; W. C. Colle against the city; Margaret K. Kowalski against the city; Elizabeth Wilhelm against the city; the State against E. Weiss.

A non-suit was granted in the suit of the Arctic Refrigerator company against Rudy & Co. for damages, and the following cases were settled: L. Decker vs. C. S. Lowry; M. O. Webster vs. Frank Carlucci; Anna I. Turnbull vs. Bridget Naylor.

In the suit of Edward McDonald against Mrs. Patrick O'Horo, a new trial was refused. It was tried last week and a verdict for the plaintiff was rendered by the jury. The claim was for groceries. The defendant alleged that it was her husband, who is now dead, who purchased the goods, and that story did not cut any ice with the twelve men, good and true. The court's approbation of the verdict is included in the refusal for a new trial. A rule for a new trial was granted, returnable to Argument court in the case of J. W. Sisco against Joshua R. Miller.

Plaintiff's Statement Filed.

The plaintiff's statement in the case of the United States Life Insurance and Trust company against Sarah D. Lee was filed. The claim is for $1,784.64. The sum of $1,900 was borrowed on Jan. 1, 1893, and default took place on March 1, 1895. Fifteen years were lotted for the payment of the sum borrowed unless the borrower died.

Funeral of Mrs. John Quinn.

The funeral of Mrs. John Quinn, of Capone avenue, was held yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father O'Reilly officiated as deacon and Rev. Father Connelly as sub-deacon. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Father O'Reilly. The pall-bearers were: John E. Roche, M. J. Kelly, Patrick J. Connelly, Michael Spellman, John Dougherty and Martin Farrell.
