MARRIED YESTERDAY.

An Early Morning Wedding at St. Mary's Church.

Yesterday morning at 6.15 o'clock Jacob L. Forve and Miss Jennie F. Rutledge were married with a solemn nuptial mass at St. Mary's church. Rev. R. A. McAndrew, pastor of the church, was celebrant of the mass, with Father O'Rourke as deacon and Father Broderick as sub-deacon. The mass was sung by a large choir and was as follows: Kyrle from Haydn's first mass; offertory, O, Salutaris, mas was sung by a large choir and was as follows: Kyrle from Haydn's first mass; offertory, O, Salutaris, (Verdi), Joseph P. Burns; Sanctus, Haydn's second mass; Benedictus, Haydn's first mass; Agnus Dei, Haydn's second mass.

As the bridal party entered the church, Professor Practorius played the Lohengrin bridal chorus, and after the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march. Before the bridal party left the church, Father McAndrew made a few appropriate remarks of advice and words of congratulation. The bride was handsomely attired in a traveling dress of cadet blue, with waist front of point lace. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and was attended by Miss Mame Cosgrove, who also wore a pretty costume.

Jacob Marks, of New York city, was groomsman.
Louis Force and Frank Smith, brother and cousin of the bride, served at the mass. The ushers were John Smith, Peter Force, Frank P. Slattery, James Feldman, George Kraft and William Rutledge. Three hundred friends wit-nessed the ceremony. At its conclusion the bridal party repaired to the bride's nessed the ceremony. At its conclusion the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, 118 Northampton street, where a reception was held and a wedding banquet served. Among the immediate relatives and friends present were Jacob L. Forve, sr., John Smith and wife, Philip Forve and wife, William T. Rutledge, sister Mary Rutledge, and the Misses Lavan, of Pittson; Mrs. Brady, aunt of the bride, and two daughters, Miss Agnes and Miss Catharine Brady, Mrs. Forve and Mrs. Regina Ruth, grandmother of the groom, Miss Mary Smith, Peter Forve, Miss Lena Forve and Robert C. Rutledge.

The young couple were remembered with many costly and valuable presents, including china and silverware, etchings, linen, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Forve go to Atlanta to the Exposition, on their wedding trip, and on their return will make their home in this city, where the groom is engaged in business.

FISHER ON TRIAL.

Called to Court to Answer for Barne; Reick's Death.

Reick's Death.

The case of James Fisher, who is charged with being implicated in the murder of Barney Reick, about two years ago, was called for trial yesterday morning in court room No. 1, before Judge Lynch. The prisoner took his place with his attorneys, John Shea, E. F. McGovern and P. A. O'Boyle. Fisher seems to be in pretty good physical condition, and he manifested great interest in the examination of the jurors as they came before the court to be accepted or rejected.

Fisher was arraigned and pleaded not guilty and the selection of a jury was then begun. Mr. W. D. Beers, the well-known merchant was called to the stand first to be questioned as to his qualifications, and District Attorney Fell then submitted a certificate to the court praying for special leave to have John T. Lenahan assist him in the trial of the case, giving as his reason that the interests of public justions demanded that he be allowed such assistance. The deferice made a vigorous objection to Mr. Lenahan being granted any young whatever in the broker Edward in this place.

the case, except as advising or conthe case, except as advising or consulting attorney.

Mr. Beers was then challenged by the defense, and William Mason, of Hasleton, was accepted, and took the first seat in the stand.

Mr. McGovern then asked that he be not sworn until the whole jury had been selected, so when the venire is exhausted if the defense have any challenges left they can use them at that time.

court then ruled that as the was regularly called, sworn on reliminary answers and accepted e commonwealth and defense, he by the commonwealth and defense, he is therupon sworn. The court is of the opinion that it is proper practice, followed thirty years in the court's personal knowledge and for 100 years as I. am informed. The objection is overruled and juror ordered sworn at this time.

The work of picking a jury then continued, but when court adjourned for the day, only five jurors had been selected.

A QUEER ACTION.

A Juryman Gets Into Court and Refuses to Sanction the Verdiet.

to Sanction the Verdiet.

John C. King, charged with felonious wounding, was tried yesterday in court room No. 2, before Judge Lynch. The jury retired before court adjourned, but had not reached a verdict at the time when Judge Lynch closed the day's sessions. They agreed, however, shortly after and sealed the verdict. Yesterday morning, when court opened, the verdict was handed in, but just as it was about to be read, one of the jurors rose and asked if he had a right to change his verdict. Being told that he had, the juror said that he would not agree to this verdict, and accordingly, the jury retired to reconsider their decision, and at noon, they brought in cision, and at noon, they brought in the defendant guilty of unlawful

The prisoner being brought up for sentence, Judge Lynch asked him if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, the prisoner said he had been bitten by a or at one time and was shooting at a dog at one time and was shooting at a dog when he hit the woman who was the plaintiff here. The judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $500, costs and two and a half years in penitentiary.

THREE DIVORCES WANTED. Cases Where Marriage Has Proved s Dismal Fallure.

Dismal Failure.

There were three suits in divorce begun in the local courts yesterday. The first of these was that of Edward Jenkins, who wanted a divorce from his wife, Carrie Jenkins. The husband accuses the wife of infidelity to the marriage vows, and names Edward Romig, of Weatherly, as the co-respondent. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney McCormick.

McCormick.

David Dover also asked for a divorce from his wife, Mary Dover, on the grounds of desertion. They were united in marriage on September 11, 1894, and lived together only one day, before the respondent deserted her. Mr. McCormick also represents the husband in this case.

Attorney G. L. Halsey, on behalf of this case.

Attorney G. L. Halsey, on behalf of Lydla Crusen, asked for a divorce from her husband, Andrew Crusen, on the grounds of desertion. These parties were married in Allentown, on December 5, 1875, and Mr. Crusen left his wife on July 4, 1877. The wife wishes to be freed from the matrimonial bonds by law. These cases were all made returnable to the next term of Common Pleas court.

Pleas court.

A Brooklyn Man Tried. A Brooklyn Man Tried.

Jacob Lichtman was brought to trial late yesterday afternoon on the charge of larceny. The evidence showed that the crime was committed in Brooklyn and so a verdict of not guilty was ordered to be remarded to rwas then ordered to be remanded to await a reply to a message sent to New York to see if the proper authorities there would take out requisition papers for him! if they do not so within fifteen days the prisoner will be released.

Reichard-Mahoney Wedding.

William A. Reichard, of the firm of Reichard & Frethaway, the West Mar-ket street grocers, and Miss Lulu Ma-honey, daughter of John Mahoney, were quietly married yesterday at Memorial Presbyterian church by Rev. Dr. Mills, assisted by Dr. Hodge, Only the relatives and immediate friends of the parties were present. Mr. and Mrs. Reichard went to Buffalo on their wedding journey, after which they will re-turn to their new home in this city.

Before the Mayor.

Yesterday morning in the mayor's court, Daniel Baker, an ex-policeman, was hauled up on three charges, drunkenness, non-support of his wife, and threats. Mayor Nicholas fined him $250 for the first offense, and held him in $500 bail for non-supporting his wife, and $1,000 bail for threats. Daniel had no money, and could not get bail, so as a result, was sent to jail.

Fire at Plainsville. Yesterday morning about 3 o'clock a building owned by Henry White, on the Plainsville flats, was burned to the ground. The family that occupied the house was away at the time, and lost

HOURS AND WAGES.

Formings Have Been Increased and the Day's Work Made Shorter.

From Lippincott's Magasine.

Since fifty years ago there has been here, as well as in England, a great reduction in the hours of labor. But this was not accomplished for the pleasure of the wage-earners; it was accomplished because experience proved that after a certain state of fatigue had been reached labor was unprofitable. The hours may be still turther reduced. A large volume of evidence has been collected in the last few years to show that production is even more economical with an eight-hour than with a nine-hour or a ten-hour day. Experiments in this direction are in progress. If what is claimed for the eight-hour day be proved—and it has been partially proved—the eight-hour day will come into general use. But otherwise no amount of ethics or philanthropy or Christianity will bring it in. Men are always, everywhere, trying to get all they can. If they can get in. Men are always, everywhere, try-ing to get all they can. If they can get more by working ten hours than by working eight, ten hours will they work.

Wages have been largely increased in the past fifty years, but this is due purely to economic causes. The "principle of Christianity which attaches purely to economic causes. The "principle of Christianity which attaches an absolute value, greater than that of all earthly things, to a human being as such," has not induced any employer to increase wages. It can be shown that this principle has led to improved condition of the laboring classes but it has done so in accordance with economic laws, and not by suspending them, or violating them, or substituting benevolent or selfish instincts. Invention and the extension of human control over the powers of nature have enormously increased the amount of product, of wealth, that can be got by the labor of each individual. This increase has been distributed, and the labor has got part of it; it is not material to this discussion whether he has got his share, or less, or, as some persons believe, more. The material fact is that he has been paid his increased wages out of an increased quantity of production, and not out of an accumulated fund of altruism. No amount of ethics or philanthropy would have been able to pay him increased wages had not someone's inventive skill enabled him to weave more yards of cloth and roll more pounds of iron in a week than his grandfather did.

JACK THE HAIR-CUTTER.

JACK THE HAIR-CUTTER.

Indiana Woman Loses Her Locks in Mysterious Manner.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Stella Schomeyer, residing in Haughville, a suburb, was the victim of a peculiar robbery at 6 o'clock this morning, losing her hair, which seemed to be the only incentive to the assault. While she was eating breakfast after her husband's departure a stranger entered the house, drew a pair of shears from his pocket and advanced toward her. She attempted to scream, but he clutched her by the throat and forced a napkin into her mouth. Mysterious Manner.

A desperate struggle followed, but she was soon overcome. As she sunk to the floor the stranger picked up the shears, cut her hair off close to her head and fled. It was cloudy and hardly light at the time, and before she could reach the door he was out of sight.
