and a most interesting meeting was held.

Among other things the officers for the following year were elected. They are as follows: President, William Walker; treasurer, James Stott; secretary, M. F. Norton. On the board of directors, Mesirs. Walliam Walker, C. R. Manville and S. S. Jones were relected for the next three years. The executive committee is as follows: Hon. B. B. Jones, Julius Moses and J. G. Shephero.

The association is nearly $2,000 be-hind this year and how to make this up hind this year and how to make this up took a great deal of discussion. It was finally decided that the best way would be to make an appear to the people— those who have not already contrib-uted. The subscriptions this time will be made to the business men and others who feel they are able to help the institution. This step was caused by the insufficiency of the state appro-priation.

The hospital has proved itself a great benefit to the people of Carbondale and they should take enough price in it to have it run properly.

The reports of the president and secretary were submitted and appoved.

AN ELABORATE SPREAD.

The Turkey Supper Given at the Baptist

Chapel's Gastronomical Success.

The turkey supper at the Baptist chapel Wednesday evening was a success socially and, financially. About seventy-five dolairs were realized.

The spread was one of the most elaborate ever attempted in the city and was gotten up at no small expense. Fifty cents was the sum asked and it was not too much. A very large number of the most fashionable people of the city were present and did justice to the toothsome viands. The chapel was profusely decorated with flowers. Two long tables extended the full ength of the room and were handsomely decorated, and four banquet lamps with their subdued light added to the beauty of the scene.

Mrs. Grant Nicholson's Sunday school class had charge of the confectionery department, the net receipts of which win be given as a Christmas offering. The supper was under the direction of the Hendrick Mission, a new organization, so nameu in memor" of the late Mrs. E. E. Hendrick, who was always an interested and busy worker in the church. Much credit is due the workers for the success of the smair, as it is their first effort and it shows that they not only "have the mind," but the ability "to work."

A DIFFERENT STORY.

The True Version of the Recent Keeney. Hunt Engagement.

The young man, Thomas Hunt, who was so brutally assaulted last Monday vening, is still in a bad condition and is unable to leave his bed. The blows he received were severe and his eyes are swollen shut. Besides this his body he received were severe and his eyes are swollen shuf. Besides this his body is completely covered with bruises.

An entirely new version of the affair has come out, in which it is said that the atfack by Keeney was entirely unprovoked. Keeney, who has a very ugly temper, it is said, went to the boarding house, where he found Mr. Hunt and Mrs. Lamb alone. For some reason or other this enraged him and he struck Hunt, throwing him to the floor and kicked him in a fearful manner. The noise aroused several other people in the house and one of them, a sister-in-law to Mrs. Lamb, cathe in to see the cause. When she saw what was going on she tried to stop Keeney, but was unable to do so. At last she threw herself upon the prestrate man and then he stopped.

The hearing was to, have occurred, but owing to the prosecutor not being able to be out it was postponed until he can. The story advanced by Keeney that Hunt was acting in an ungentlemanily manner toward Mrs. Lamb is entirely faise. gentlemanly manner toward Mrs. Lamb is entirely false,

THE BOOK RECEPTION.

The Columbia Hose Company Pleasantly Entertain Friends.

Enteriain Friends.

Yesterday the public was given a chance to visit the Columbia's hose house and go through the pretty rooms of the fire laddies. ...any persons took advantage of this and the number who were shown through the place in the course of the day was quite large. The affair was in the shape of a book reception and as a result the company's library will be somewhat enlarged. During the evening the out-of-town firemen who are here to attend the Mitchell fair were entertained.

The rooms have been fixed up in a most handsome manner, and present a cosy appearance. The wall was govered with many pretty pictures. Among them was a photograph of fourty-six of the company in full uniform. Another which attracted considerable attention was a picture of the company's team and wagon, which was presented by Photographer Crainer.

There are also large crayon portraits.

which was presented by Photographer Cramer.

There are also large crayon portraits of Chief Mofflitt and Abe Sahm. In one corner of the room, on an easel, was a crayon picture of Hon. J. B. Van Bergen. This was much admired. The Columbias are to be congratulated upon the success of their reception.

The two young men had had some trouble over some matter, and this resulted in blows. Suddenly the younger, whose name is Conners, picked up a large piece of rock and threw it with great force at Coyle.

Coyle tried to dodge the missile, but the attack was so sudden that he could not, and it struck him on the side of the head, hear the eye. The blow was terrific and the injured man dropped unconscious to the ground. Other workmen coming in found Coyle and carried him from the mine, when he was convoyed to Emergency hospital in this city. Doctors Shields and Manley, of Jermyn, took charge and upon exof Jermyn, took charge and upon ex-amination found that the skull had been crushed in. The young man is

Mischlevous Boys.

The Transit company is greatly annoyed by some of the boys around the cit—who change the signal lights along the line. These lights are placed on poles at each switch and show the motorman whether a car is on the sec-tion ahead or not. Thus they can reg-ulate their speed without the city and save collisions which would otherwise save comisions which would otherwise occur. The changing of these lights might result in a very serious accident, and the parents of the boys should warn them of the great danger, which makes the act a states prison offers

TUNKHANNOCK.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 20, occurred the wedding of Miss Lena M. Gunder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gun-der, of Russell Hill, and John C. Dean, of Dalton, Lackawwanna county, at the home of the bride's parents. A large number of friends gathered to witness the ceremony and enjoy the festivities, and all pronounce it a very pretty affair. The ceremony was per-formed underneath a large bell of festivities, and all pronounce it a very pretty affair. The ceremony was performed underneath a large bell of white chrysanthemums suspended from an evrgreen arch, by Rev. George Hine, pastor of the Tunkhannock Baptist church. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Frank Chaffee, also of Tunkhannock. The bride was attired in cream silk with white lace trimmings, and carried a wreath of bridal roses. Miss Rose Bunnell, of Meshoppen, attended her as bridesmaid, and wore a cream cashmere gown and carried white roses. The groom, faultlessly attired and perfectly self-possessed, was attended by Fred Bartron as best man, and at precisely 6.45 p. m. the words of the minister and the vows of the principal figures sealed the solemn compact. A long list of valuable presents testified of the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. After the wedding feast the couple drove to Tunkhannock and took the night express for New York city, where the honeymoon will be spent.
