Moffat and the Presbyterian church of Weatherly, do so with regret and only because both parties unite in the request and because from the representations made to us • • In sev-ering the connection the church loses a pastor to whom it is justly and strongly attached, and presbytery, a fellow labor-er, whose record of usefulness and success is not surpassed by any co-presbyter dur-ing the time he has been one of us. When he came thirteen and one-half years ago the church numbered 60 members; 150 have since been added on profession and by let-ter; many wanderers have been restored to the fold, and although twice the origi-nal number have been lost by death and removal from town, yet 140 active mem-bers are now on the church roll, thor-oughly united and loyal. At the time of his installation the church was dependent on the Board of Home Mission for one-fourth of the pastor's sulary, and was en-cumbered by a debt of nearly $1,000. In the third year it became self-sustaining and is now, and free from debt. During these thirteen and one-half years the congrega-tional expenditures amount to nearly $2,-00 and the church during the same time has given to outside benevolent objects $1,500. • • • With good reasons his peo-ple have been slow to assent to part with a pastor whom they greatly love and whose labors God has greatly blessed. Presbytery also with reluctance consents to sunder the tles which have hitherito bound them together. • • We pray that the Master will bless him and his in-bors in the field of the Lord more than ever before; and for the flock which he leaves we pray that the head of the church, according to His promise, will give them a pastor after His own heart, to feed them with knowledge and under-standing, to this end presbytery exhorts them to make it a subject of much prayer Fablo Romani Will Be Seen at the standing, to this end presbytery exhorts them to make it a subject of much prayer and that with purposes of heart they guard against divisions and cleave to the

about a reformation. His position was similar to that of Dr. Parkhurst. Yet HOOD'S PILLS have won high praise or their prompt and efficient yet easy ache conquered. To Accomplish the Right. Nothing will go right unless we be singular in this world and stand up alone against the masses in order to ac-complish the right. The chief field of moral action is the daily conduct of hu-man lives. He who yields is wrecked and ruined. That there is an absolute necessity for this non-resistance to evil is shown in the very make-up of our natures. We are all thrown into daily contact with sinfu humanity. Its influence. Easy yielding to the de-moral confusion. There is nothing more contemptible than a man who can be affected by every influence. Another consideration: What a poor four statist, trusted in, loved, rever-enced, obeyed, imitated, God ip Christ all-powerful motive; it strengthens a man for resistance and non-compliance to evil. In Christ we have a perfect pattern; we can imitate Him. God iyes us an all-powerful motive; it strengthens for resistance, because it gives the Ompipo-tent power for ourselves. Me socret of negative forbearance from evil take for your watchword. "Bo did not I, because of the fear of God." At the Frothingham. Nov. 28, 29 and 30 will be presented 'Gismonda,' Sardou's new romantic drama, which Fanny Davenport originally presented at the Fifth Avenue Theater, New Yors, and which was declared to be one of the most interesting and dramatic playsever turned out by the great Evence baseter pastor of the church, Mr. Moffat said that only with the co-operation of the members could his work be successful. In the evening the text was taken from Nehemiah, v, 15. Mr. Moffat gave a brief history of the life of Nehemiah. He told of his special work in Jerusa-lem and the condition of things when he returned to the holy city. It was in possession of a horde of robbers. The people were robbed by the thieves as Tammany pollutes the city of New York. Nehemiah changed this awful condition. But it was difficult to bring about a reformation. His position was turned out by the great French master of stagecraft. The present production is expected to prove one of the hand-somest, heaviest and most imposing ever given in this country. There is no other actress on the American stage to-day who is capable of doing the role of "Clamonde" during the topology of the solution. day who is capable of doing the role of "Gismonda" justice. It requires all the lights and shades of acting, and from comedy goes right into the heavy dra-matic work, taxing the great artist's ability to the utmost. Fanny Daven-port, it is said, has made the greatest triumph of her already successful career in this part. She is ably supported by Melbourne McDowell, and an excellent company. Sale of seats opens this morn-ing at the box office at 9 o'clock. White Squadron Wednesday Night, The new "White Souadron" will be

The new "White Squadron" will be the straction at the Academy on Wed-nesday evening. In the third act, the great maritime scene, the Congress of Navies, appeals directly to the patriotic Navies, appeals directly to the patriotic spirit of every nationality and, as the naval officers of this government are represented as being in ...e breach on every occasion, there is no lack of in-spiration for local patriotic outbursts. Over one hundred people are seen in this act, as officers, marines and saliors of the war vessels of the several partici-pating nations.

teaches a kindergarten composed of the little children of these newly arrived fami-lies; and he teaches a night school, made up of wild, rough, strong and rapidly grow-ing boys, mule drivers and slate pickers, from the mines, who speak Bohemian, Pol-ish, Slavic and Russian. Mrs. Kukol is a Bohemian who came to America in her childhood, and was educated in a normal school in the city of New York, and is a lady of culture and ability. This is the place to begin, with the children; and these are wise and hopeful methods. The process will be long and tedious, but suc-cess will eventually come, and these Bibles and testaments will yet yield large re-turns. When these little foreign children become the progenitors of large ramilies in America, their descendants may present a type of advanced Christianity even su-perior to our own. Reference to C. F. Mattes' Deconsed. "Ambition," from the per of Henry Guy Carleton, one of America's most bril-liant writers. His work is a fascinat-ing sketch of American political life in the highest circles. It is cleverly wrought and sparkles with humor and sentiment so cleverly mingled that neither interfers with the other. The story of the play is that of a man be-trayed by his most trusted friends, who form to overthrow him for their own ends, it depicting vividly the intricate machinations of political dealers. The Cuban question is a most import-ant factor throughout the entire play. Mr. Goodwin portrays the character of a United States Senator and Chairman of the Committee of Foreign Affairs. In the part he has scored a veritable triumph. It has been pronounced by York's most competent critics to be a grand climax in that great artist's
