

A LITERARY CRAZE

and Fashionable Fad prevails throughout the States for Artistic Posters of Books and Periodicals. Some people like to decorate a room with them when they can obtain enough to do so. The Publishers have sent these Posters this autumn with our stock. We exhibit them in our Large Show Window for a few days only, to show how live Yankies advertise. This Unique Window Display contains the names of some of the recent and New Books, of which our store is full. We invite attention to the largest and best selection of MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS we have ever exhibited. All the desirable new issues all the standard sets and single volumes in cloth and leather, suitable for Birthday, Wedding and Holiday Gifts; also, for Private, Public and School Libraries. Our stock is all "up-to-date," and the prices are "all right." Come in, look around and enjoy our Literary Feast. Plenty of room for a crowd. We are "At Home" now in our spacious new building and glad to see our friends.

TEACHERS' COMMITTEE REPORT

W. G. O'Malley Endeavored to Have the Report Amended But Was Unsuccessful—Protest Against the Late Hour of Calling Meetings to Order.

A formal protest against the late hour at which the school board meetings are called to order was entered last night by F. L. Wormser and O. B. Schriefer. When 8 o'clock arrived and there was no prospect that the meeting would soon be called, Mr. Wormser said it was time the tedious delays in regard to calling the meetings were called to a close. A committee consisting of having members consulting and committees meeting when the board should be in session. That was business that ought to be transacted prior to the meeting night, so that the board can get down to business at 7:30, the regular meeting hour.

A moment later Mr. Wormser and Mr. Schriefer walked out of the room and when President Carson and other members of the board came out of the secretary's office, where a committee meeting was in progress, they found themselves without a quorum. Within a few minutes, however, Controlier Jacobs and Williams entered in and Mr. Wormser returned for his umbrella. The meeting was at once called to order and he and Mr. Schriefer soon afterwards resumed his seat.

Report of Teachers' Committee. Chairman Williams, of the teachers' committee, presented the following report for their report: "The teachers' committee has the honor to report that the vacancy in primary A department in No. 6 school, caused by the death of Miss Sarah R. ... That Miss Lucy Cogbin be temporarily appointed to assist Mr. Burdick, principal of No. 2. That arithmetic be furnished to advanced pupils in night schools under the direction of the principal. That the principals of night schools, where one or more rooms are in use, shall be paid at the rate of $25 per month during such time as the attendance shall warrant the keeping open that number of rooms. That the schools of the city be closed from Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27, until Monday, Dec. 2, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

A. G. O'Malley moved to amend the report by substituting the name of Miss Jennie Durkin for that of Miss Mary Conroy as the successor of Miss Rogers at No. 6. The yeas and nays were called and the amendment was lost by a vote of 11 to 3. The report of the committee was then adopted.

The building committee reported favorably on a number of bills, among them one of $1,106.66 in favor of the Smead & Wills company for ventilating No. 12. The committee recommended that the contract for heating and ventilating No. 22 to the same company and the appointment of David R. Roberts as janitor of No. 28 to succeed Peter Cavello, be approved. The appointment to date from Oct. 1, 1895. The recommendations were adopted and bills ordered paid.

New No. 10 Building. After the building committee had made its report Herman Notz asked why nothing was said in it about the new plans for No. 10 building. Chairman Welsh, of the building committee, replied to the effect that they had reported in favor of adopting the plans because they are for a building that would be much wider than the lot they have to put it on. Mr. Notz said that they can buy the adjoining lot from Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips for $3,000, and he produced an option from her to the effect that she was willing to sell at that price. He moved that the building committee be directed to buy the land at the price named, but as the members could not see any money in sight to pay for it he voted down the proposition and referred the whole matter of securing a building to replace No. 10 to the building committee.

That was only done, however, after a good deal of speechmaking and explaining on the part of the members. The following bids for supplying the district with coal were read and referred to committee for consideration: W. H. Williams, First and Third districts—Chestnut, stove and furnace, $2.50; pea, $1.50. Consumers' Ice and Coal company, Second, Third and Fourth districts—Chestnut, stove and egg, $2.49; pea, $1.65. S. Short, First district—Chestnut, stove and egg, $2.49; pea, $1.65. West Ridge Coal company, First and Fourth districts—Chestnut, stove and egg, $2.50; pea, $1.60. James Flynn, Third district—Chestnut, stove and furnace, egg, $2.75; pea, $1.50. Fourth district, chestnut and stove, $2.50; pea, $1.50. James Kearney, First district—Egg, $2.75; pea, $1.50. Mountain Lake Land and Coal company, First district—Chestnut and larger sizes, $2.90; pea, $1.85. Second district—Chestnut and larger sizes, $2.90; pea, $1.85. John Byrne, Third district—Chestnut, stove and egg, $2.60; pea, $1.40. The bids were referred to committee for consideration.

NOW WORKING THE SOUTH.

Swindler O'Connor Who Operated Here is Also Wanted in Richmond. John T. Hall, captain of police in Richmond, writes here yesterday for information concerning John O'Connor, the photograph swindler, who operated in this city on September 9, last. O'Connor, it will be remembered, came to this city and representing himself to be interested in crayon portrait work, induced Photographer Henry Frey to negotiate with him for the work of filling the orders which he might secure. Having secured the use of Mr. Frey's office he advertised for agents and as a result a number of respectable gentlemen advanced $10 as security for the faithful performance of their duties. After securing a handful of golden eagles from his unsuspecting dupes he quietly slid out of town. As he had falsely represented that Mr. Frey was connected with him in the business that gentleman was subjected to no little inconvenience in explaining his innocent part in the affair.

This slick individual, it would seem from warning printed in the Photographers Magazine, has been operating extensively throughout the country since leaving here. He worked Richmond a few weeks ago and the police department there is making a strenuous effort to run him down. Remarkable to relate, he went under the same name in Richmond that he used while here.

NEW WARD MAPS

A Meeting to Provide for Them Will Be Held To-day. Owing to the rapid growth of this city the ward maps made a few years ago by Engineer Edmund Bartl are now almost worthless and a new set will have to be made. For this purpose a meeting of the board of appeals, board of assessors and city engineer will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the city clerk's office. When this project has been completed the entire lot and house numbering plan of the city will be revised so that there will be a uniformity throughout.

CARNIVAL OF HOLIDAYS.

It Will Open Tonight at the Peakville Presbyterian Church. An event that has been looked forward to with great interest, the Carnival of Holidays, will open to the public tonight in the Presbyterian church, Peakville, and continue three nights, closing on Thanksgiving night. The large number of booths have been beautifully decorated to represent the different holidays, and a grand sight will greet all who avail themselves of visiting the carnival.

THAT MUNLEY CASE AGAIN

Now Having Its Fourth Hearing Before a Jury in Court.

THE EAR OF SAMMY SCHLOSS

It Was Removed by a Dog and Is Responsible for a Trespass Case on Trial Before Judge Gunster in Court Room No. 3.

Judge Schuyler, of Easton, is assisting the local judges in disposing of cases this week, which is the last of the November term of common pleas court. He is presiding in No. 2 court room and the case of Mrs. Ann Munley against the city of Scranton was called before him for trial. Major Everett Warren and City Solicitor Torrey, represent the defendant, and counsel for the plaintiff are Attorneys I. H. Burns and Joseph O'Brien.

A coincidence of the trial is that on Nov. 25, 1888, exactly six years ago yesterday, a Patrick Munley, husband of the plaintiff, fell down the open area where the John L. Hull building now stands on Lackawanna avenue, and died the same night from the injuries sustained, and that for that accident the wife of the deceased is now suing for $25,000 damages. This is the fourth time the case has been on trial. The first time the jury brought in a verdict of $5,000 against the city. The second time the jury could not agree and now it is before a jury again. The other time mentioned John L. Hull, the owner of the lot, was defendant and court non-suited the case.

Patrick Munley was on his way to the Delaware and Hudson station, then on Bridge street, to take the 11:15 passenger train on the Delaware and Hudson railroad for Olyphant. He was on his way down Lackawanna avenue on the right hand side, going toward the bridge, and when he reached the Hull building, a plank sidewalk had been built and a deep excavation had been made underneath it. He was in a hurry to reach the station, and as the plank sidewalk was being laid, the plaintiff alleged, was being without due diligence, but the insecure condition of the sidewalk was responsible for the accident for which damages are now asked.

Remember the Hospital. In making your Thanksgiving purchases remember not only the poor of our city but the sick and disabled ones in the hospital. The Lackawanna Hospital has an unusually large number of inmates at present. Try and make their burdens lighter for one day at least by providing them with a Thanksgiving dinner. Anything that will help to make up such a dinner will be thankfully received at the hospital, corner Franklin avenue and Mulberry street, on Tuesday or Wednesday.

A Divorce for Haldeman. The case of James Haldeman against Irene Haldeman was called before Judge Archbald in the main court room and a jury was sworn. It was a divorce case. The husband some time ago filed a libel in divorce on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Haldeman answered and denied that her husband had deserted her, and she prayed that her case be put on the country. That is equivalent to asking for trial by jury.

The case was yesterday called and she did not appear. Haldeman & Vosburg represented Mr. Haldeman. On motion of Mr. Vosburg, Judge Archbald directed the jury to find a verdict for the libellant, without leaving the jury box; this, on account of the failure of the respondent to appear and urge her defense. That divides Mr. Haldeman from her. He resides in the North End, but her place of residence is not known.

Suit to Recover a Strip of Land. The suit of Karl Bruner against Fred Paril was tried before Judge Archbald and the verdict of the jury will be handed to court this morning. It was brought to recover a strip of land thirteen feet wide and 127 feet long situated on Brook street and Starbuck avenue, in the Nineteenth ward, South Side. Bruner and Paril bought four lots from Henry Meyers; Paril took the two nearest the corner of the street and Bruner the two adjoining ones. Afterward the street lines were changed thirteen feet and Paril moved his fence in that distance and encroached that far on Bruner's land. E. C. Newcomb appeared for the plaintiff and John F. Scragg was attorney for the defendant. A settlement of the claim having been made.

The suit of Knight, White & Co. versus J. L. Hull was settled and the case of the Commonwealth against B. S. Clark was marked off list. The case of P. T. McDonnell against Edward Hodgins was referred to a referee. Cases continued were Ingersoll & Sargent Drill company vs. the Greigville Salt Mining company; Patrick Loftus and others against the Scranton Traction company.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Ignatz Uram all proceedings are stayed until the rule for an exoneration of bail is disposed of. The auditor's report in the case of M. M. Jones against the Olyphant Sewage company was confirmed nisi.
