KILLED BY MOUNTAIN LION.

James Smith, a Colorado Prospector, Pound Terribir Lacerated.

Boulder, Colo., Nov. 23.—Prospectors west of this city came upon the body of a man terribir lacerated, lying face down in the snow. He was identified by the clothes as James Smith, a prospector of this city. Smith was afflicted with Bright's disease, and when the attacks came on the only relief was obtained by lying face down.

It is supposed that while in this position the mountain lion pounced upon him and killed him, as the tracks of the beast and the condition of the surroundings indicated a terrible struggle.
Smith's rife, filled with cartridges, was lying beside him. He was 80 years of

CHINESE - JAPANESE WAR

The Pirst Official Military Report

CAPT. ELLIOTT'S OBSERVATION

he Chinese Army a Little Better Than an Unorganized Mob-Variety of Arms Displayed-Out of Ammunitton and Other Supplies.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The first official military report on the Chinese-Japanese war to escape from the secret archives of the government is that of Captain G, F, Eiliett, commanding the marines on the flagship Baltimore, who guarded the legations at Seoul and Tien Tsin as well as landed at Port Arthur, Captain Eiliett's ebservations are all interesting and particularly his technical criticisms of the Japanese army, which are found worthy of high commendation. In describing the outbreak of the war he says that the Baltimore was erdered to Korea in June, 1894, to give a feeling of security to the missionaries and legation, Chinese and Japanese fleets were constantly steaming into the harbor of Chemulpo, anchoring and mooring out with the evident intention of watching each other's movements, The existing treaty of Tien Tsin between China and Japan stipulated that neither country should land treeps in Korea without due notification each to the either.

Early in July the Chinese landed 4,000 soldiers sixteen miles south of Chemulpo at a small village called Argan and

Early in July the Chinese landed 4,000 soldiers sixteen miles south of Chemulpo at a small village called Argan and went into entrenched camp, which was inland sufficiently to be out of range of navy guns. As seen as this move on the part of the Chinese was positively known, the Japanese landed in light order 8,000 sailors from the fieet, hired Korean cooles to carry supplies and baggage and attempted a night march to Seaul. The reads being bad they did not reach there until evening of the next day. They remained in charge of next day. They remained in charge of their legation in Seoul for about ten days, when they were relieved by the Japanese troops, Why they did not go by the river in their boats was never satisfactorily answered,

Condition of Chinese Troops. Captain Elliott gives a vivid account of the dangers the detail for guard at Pekin experienced in a frozen country. Amid a dangerous disorganized army on his march he noticed that the bodies on his march he noticed that the bodies of troops were armed with all manner of weapons, among them tower muskets, gingals, Remington rifles of several calibres, German carbines, magazine rifles of small calibre, bambgo poles with a small flag and spike, tridents, swords with handles four feet long and a variety of similar implements. He saw a thousand men mustered to pay honor to Li Hung Chang and they were unarmed. He did not believe that the troops near Pekin had a single cartridge.

In his opinion had the Japanese legaled in the district of Pechili 150,000 Cmi ed in the district of Pechili 150,000 C ni-nese soldiers would have been defeated and an immense rabble of armed men swarming through the country would have made the best of their way home. He also noted that there was not a haversack in the Chinese army.

BATTLE WITH A TRAMP,

He Hed Murdered One Man by Throwing Him Before s Train.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 28.—Tramps got into a fight in the western suburbs of this city last night and one of them was pushed in front of a train, and died this morning from his injuries. The tramp who threw his partner on the track boarded the train and made an effort to escape. The train hands locked the car door on him until they could reach the depot here.

When the train arrived there was a flerce fight, which was only ended by the officers knecking the murderer into insensibility. He may die from his injuries. He claims that the man whom he killed was attempting to rob him. Him Before a Train.

RIOT IN MICHIGAN PRISON.

Enraged Because They Have to Work, the Inmates Attack Their Overseers and Fatally Wound Deputy Warden. Jackson, Mich., Nov. 28.—The convicts at the state prison revolted and indulged in a riot today, in which Deputy Warden Northrop was probably fatally injured and two employes of the Brunk Shirt company severely bruised. When the shirt factory was started about three months ago 300 men who had been idle for a long time were set to work. This did not suit them and frequent mutterings have been heard. There was, however, no thought of a disturbance until this morning, when Foreman H. A. Mueller of the shirt factory reprimanded two men for not doing their rimanded two men for not doing their work properly. The men at once at-tacked him, knocking him down and kicking him under a table. The out-break excited the other convicts. Sev-eral of them joined the two who started the riot.

eral of them joined the two who started the riot.

Superintendent J. B. Coffee, hearing the disturbance, rushed into the room and was immediately attacked by the infuriated men. He was struck on the head, face and shoulders and felled to the floor. Three ribs were broken. An alarm was sent in and Deputy Warden A. C. Northrop responded. As he opened the door he was struck a stunning blow on the head with a hammer, and three convicts pitched on him, rolling him to the foot of the stairs and continuing to rain blows upon him until they believed him to be dead. A number of guards appeared at this time with muskets and the rioters were subdued. All the convicts in the room were marched to their cells and locked up. While the fight was at its height some one set fire to some cotton waste which had been soaked in oil, and a brisk blaze was started, undoubtedly with the idea of escaping while the fire was occupying the attention of the officials. The flames were extinguished by friendly convicts. Others of the rioters went through the shop and smashed over fifty sewing machines.

Deputy Warden Northrop was the worst injured of any of the officers. His injuries are very severe about the head, and, while no bones are broken. It is the riot.

worst injured of any of the officers. His injuries are very severe about the head, and, while no bones are broken, it is feared his injuries may prove fatal. The ringleaders in the affair are two of the worst men in the prison, Henry Huntley, a twenty-year man, who was shot through the body while attempting to escape a few years ago, and William Curley, a five-year man, who, about two years ago, assaulted a foreman in the stone-shop.

FROM PULPIT TO THE BAR. Mr. Feicke Abandons the Ministry

Rev. Mr. Feicke Abandons the Ministry for the Saloon Business,

New York, Nov. 28.—Rev. Julius Feicke, of Jersey City, who resigned from the pastorate of the First German Evangelical Reformed church on September 31, has secured a liquor license and opened a saloon in Hoboken. He was, while in the pulpit, reckoned a good preacher. In the saloon he is a good barkseper. Mr. Feicke says he does not think that he can do more good as a saloonkeeper than as a preacher, but he knows that he can make more money, and that is the reason he has changed his calling.

Mr. Feicke, as a preacher, received $700 a year, and he wanted $1,000, but didn't get it, so he decided to go into a more lucrative business. He soon found one. H. Wells wanted to sell his saloon. Mr. Feicke wanted to buy it. The trade was made.
