

CARBONDALE.

CHARLES BALL KILLED.

Seven Cars Pass Over Him—Both Legs Broken.

A shocking accident, by which one of our young men lost his life, occurred yesterday morning in the Delaware and Hudson yards. Charles Ball was employed upon Conductor Lewney's train, which was being put away in the yard. The young man was on a number of cars which were being dropped into a switch by him. Just how the accident occurred will never be known as no one witnessed it. It is thought, though, that while climbing from a box car to uncouple the cars, he lost his footing and fell beneath the wheels.

The cry he uttered as he fell was heard by his companions, who came to see the cause. They were shocked to find the young man lying across the rails, and evidently seriously hurt. Both legs were severed from the body, only hanging by shreds of skin. He also was badly bruised and his face cut in a terrible manner.

His fellow workmen placed him upon a stretcher and carried him to the Union station, where the ambulance was summoned. He was then taken to his home on Dundee street. Drs. Bailey and Jenkins were summoned, and they did everything in their power to relieve the sufferings of the young man. The doctors finally decided that it would be best to take him to the hospital. There was very little hope for his recovery and this was done as a last resort. It was very evident, however, that he could not live long, as he was very weak. All efforts to revive him were without avail, and at 10.30 he died.

The young man's mother resides in Archbald, and was notified of the accident early in the morning. She came to this city and went to the hospital, where she was in time to see her son before he passed away.

Mr. Ball's death will be a great blow to his many friends, for although he lived in this city but four years his kind disposition and sterling qualities had made him a favorite with all. He was married about two years ago to Miss Mabel Parker, who has the sympathy of the entire community. The shock has nearly prostrated her.

A RARE TREAT TO-NIGHT.

Wood's College Society to Give Their First Public Meeting.

The literary society of Wood's Business college is in the most flourishing condition, the weekly meetings being well attended and the programme rendered at each of them good. These meetings, however, have been previously confined to the members of the society. For some time they have been preparing to give a public meeting and accordingly have announced to-night's open soiree to all. The entertainment will be exceptionally good as a glance at the appended programme will show. It will be held on the first floor of the Burke building. Everyone is invited and there will be usher to look after those who attend. The programme is as follows:

Musical sextette, Misses Frances, Isabelle, and Marcella Maxwell; Messrs. Jerry, McMillen and Dimock; recitation, "The Old Spectled Hen," Amy Lewis; alto solo, Miss Ulmer; vocal solo, Prof. A. P. Thomas; mandolin and guitar duo, Messrs. Wilson and Hunt; address, J. F. Reynolds, esq.; selection, "The Old Spectled Hen," Amy Lewis; alto solo, Miss Ulmer; vocal solo, Miss Herring and Daley; vocal solo, B. Bulka; remarks, Prof. F. E. Wood; piano solo, Miss Annie Grady; violin solo, F. P. Mang, accompanied by Mrs. Hingray; reading, Mrs. John S. Miles; guitar, "Till We Meet Again," Misses Leonard and Snyder; banjo duo, Mr. Melvin and Miss Maxwell; good night, Prof. Gregory.

VERY SERIOUSLY HURT.

An Aged Lady Falls Down a Long Flight of Stairs.

A most unfortunate accident happened to Mrs. Hannah Palmer of Spring street, by which she received injuries which may prove fatal. The accident happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Maxwell, on Salem avenue, where Mrs. Palmer was going to make a call. At the home of Mr. Maxwell, the front and back stairs are opposite each other, so that a person walking up the front stairs and walking straight ahead would descend the back stairs. Mrs. Palmer, however, had been at the house before and was familiar with the stairs and how she made such a mistake is a mystery. The passageway was quite dark and she probably took the door for the one opening into the dining room, and stepped down the stairway.

Mrs. Maxwell heard the noise, and running to see the cause of it, found the old lady lying at the bottom of the stairs. She was bleeding from a laceration on the left side of the face and complained of pains in her chest and shoulders. The doctor could not find any broken bones, but the whole body is covered with bruises. She was removed to the hospital, as she lies alone. Yesterday she was much improved, though she can hardly move.

Mrs. Palmer is seventy-five years of age and it is surprising how she stood the shock. The stairway is eighteen steps in length.
