MINISTERS' MEETING.

ags of the sessions Held b

Methodist Episcopal Clergymen.
The Methodist Episcopal ministers net yesterday morning in the First Methodist Episcopal church pariors. Rev. J. B. Sumner was in the chair, and Rev. Mr. Labar led the devotional exercises. Rev. Mr. Peck said that in the absence of Dr. Johnson, who was at Atlanta, Rev. Mr. McDermott, of Kingston, would read his paper on "The Preacher and His Subject." He said: Preaching is a devine art, therefore the finest of the fine arts. The subject makes the preacher. His power resides in a skillful use of the means he has. The preachers as opposed to slavery helped largely to bring liberty to the slaves. There are temptations to the preacher to preach other things besides salvation in Jesus. The Jews and Greeks wanted Paul to give them signs and wisdom, but Paul preached Christ and Him crucified. Men want wisdom tolay. How can we meet the demands the day unless we have wisdom? Science and the church have no quar-Science and philosophy cannot save men. For personal salvation we must fall back on the gospel of Jesus Science cannot rebuild the Temple of Spiritual life. Jesus along can save. Why preach Christ? Why not preach God the Creator? Why not preach the Holy Ghost? The reason is that he who receives Christ receives the Holy Ghost and he who sees Jesus sees in Him the Creator and the Holy Ghost. Hence we preach Christ.

The preaching of Christ does not exclude the consideration of sociological questions, for Christ came to fulfill the law and it is not outside the stand-59c ard of Christ preaching to consider the law of the testament in its relation to new testament life, for we know that righteousness exalteth a nation. The largest field in which the practice of hristian ethics can be carried out is in the field of human needs and absolute wants. The speaker paid attention to the consideration of temperance in the pulpit. We ought to reach temperate and pay large attention thereto. ought to preach Christ the Son of God. the article in its exaltation of Jesus Christ was glowing with eloquence and the whole impress of the paper was marked with force and egrnestness.

TAYLOR.

Miss Schimpff, of Scranton, visited Miss Anna Blesecker on Sunday. The funeral of the late Mrs. Daniels who died on Friday last, took place yes terday afternoon from her late home in Hyde Park. The obsequies were attended by a large concourse of friends from this place who were well acquainted with the deceased. Funeral services were held in the Welsh Congregational church of Main avenue, of which she was a faithful member. She was the mother of the late J. B. Daniels, who died about two weeks ago.

Miss Jessie Owens, of Scranton, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Owens on Oak street on Sunday. The Taylor social club held a well at tended social at the rink last evening.

The Taylor mines will be idle to-day. John Phinney and wife have returned from a few days' visit in Wyomnig

The first alarm of fire was sent ou from the fire alarm system since it has been placed in the borough Sunday morning at about 6 o'clock. It came from box 25 in the Fifth ward, and as the gong sounded continuously i t aroused the whole town. The fire was located in a barn in Feltzville and was entirely consumed. The Taylor Hose ompany responded to the alarm but before they reached the place the fire had gained such headway that the only aid they could render was to prevent adjoining sheds and outhouses from catching fire. It is supposed the fire originated from incendiarism.

The street car which is due from Scranton to this place at 7 o'clock jumped the track at the railroad crossing above Oak street last evening. ere were a number of passengers the car at the time of the accident, but beyond a little fright none were injured. It required several hours to place the car in its position and in the meantime passengers were transferred from one car to the other, cars being on either side of the wrecked car.
