RESOLUTIONS' OF REGRET

Passed by Ber Association on the Death of E. C. Dimmick.

NUMBER OF SHORT ADDRESSES

Bar Enlogized Mr. Dimmick's Worth as a Man and Ilis Ability as a Lawyer.

In the law library of the court house yesterday the members of the Lacka wanna bar met to express their sor row at the death of Attorney Edward C. Dimmick. Judge Archbald presided in the absence of Justice Hand, the president of the Bar association, and explained the sad object for which the members of the bar had been called together. Letters of regret from Attorney James E. Carmalt and Attorney Charles du Pont Breck were read. The letter of the latter was as follows:

Hon. Alfred Hand. Hon. Alfred Hand.
Dear Sir:—Through you I desire to announce to the members of the bar of Lackawa_na county the death of the late E. C. Dimmick at his home at an early nour Saturday morning.

You will understand that his death, by reason of my relations with Mr. Dimmick and his family for years, is the cause of an inexpressible sorrow to me, rendering me incapable and unfit for participating in any public manifestation of regret. I therefore beg of you to say as much for me to the friends assembled on this occasion. Independent of my relations to his he was a friend and business as sociate for many years. A man of strict honor, imbued with the highest principles, he was an unselfish and noble friend. Very sincerely yours, Charles du Pont Breck.

The Resolutions Adopted. A committee on resolutions consisting of Cornelius Comegys, Major Everett Warren, George Sanderson and C. L. Hawley, was appointed and the following were reported and unanimously adopted: At a meeting of the members of the Lackawanna county bar called specially to consider the life and character of Edward C. Dimmick, who died at his resi-dence, in Green Ridge, Saturday morning, and held on Monday, Dec. 9, 1895, at the court house in the city of Scranton, the following memorial minute was suggested by the committee on resolutions and thereupon adopted, that among the permanent records of the association something hereafter might be found of the private and professional character of the man, as manifested to his fellows: Though leading for years prior to his death a comparatively retired life, Ed-ward C. Dimmick was a kindly and con-siderate neighbor. In the familiar circle of his friends and acquaintances he was rich in conversational capacity, genial and pleasant of manner, though modest rather than obtrusive, and possessing an unaffected graciathous of received. unaffected graciousness of speech and de-meanor that made personal contact with him invariably and uniformly delightful. him invariably and uniformly delightful. While a student of books and loving the solitude of his ilbrary, he brought to the management of extensive business affairs a judgment and common sense unrivalled among numerous associates. A lawyer of rare natural gifts and of exceptional scientific knowledge, as an advocate he was brilliant and as a counsellor wisely conservative in the direction of his clientage.

His was the gentleness of a gentle wo-man, and the manliness of a manly man, Number of Short Addresses.

Short addresses were delivered by the following in which the many good qualitles of the deceased were highly eulo-gized: Judge R. W. Archbald, Judge P. P. Smith, Major Everett Warren, Dis-trict Attorney Jones, City Solicitor Torrey and Attorney C. Comegys. The funeral of Mr. Dimmick will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be public but interment which will be made in Forest Hill cem etery, will be private.

The bar association will meet this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the law library to attend the funeral.

NOW HAS FOUR WARDS. Decree Handed Down Dividing the Firs

Ward of Olyphant. Judge Archbald yesterday handed down a decree dividing the First ward of Olyphant into two wards. The borough will have four wards now, a part of the First ward being made a new ward. The division is made by a line commencing at a point in the Lackawanna river 50 feet south of the Delaware and Hudson company's steam railroad bridge, where Hull's run empties into said river, thence in an easterly direction along said Hull's run to Seventh street to Fourth street: thence easterly along Fourth street and a continuance thereof to the intersection of the street called and known on the map | ford street; the resolution awarding to of the said First ward, as Eighteenth street; thence in a southerly direction along the center of said Eighteenth street to the intersection of the street called and known as Grand boulevard: thence in an easterly direction along same, to the point on the division line between the Third and First wards where the continsance of the Grand poulevard would strike the division line. The lines of the proposed new ward are as follows: Beginning at a point in the river and along the course marked out in the dividing line of the other ward until the continuance would strike the division ine between the First and Third wards, thence in a northwesterly direction along said division line to the Delaware and Hudson railroad; thence in a southerly direction along said railroad to the Lackawanna river, thence along the river in a southerly direction about fifty feet to the place of beginning.

The qualified electors of the Fourth ward of the borough thus created by this division shall elect three council-men, 1 for one year; 1 for two years, and 1 for three years; three school di rectors, 1 for one year, 1 for two years, and I for three years at the next mu-nicipal election to be held in the borough and such other public officers as are authorized under existing laws. It is further decreed that the said ward so created shall be a separate election district and shall hold its gen-eral and borough elections at the following places: In the building to be erected by the county commissioners at the corner of Bell and Railrond streets. The following were appointed election officers by the court: Judge of election, Edward Linsley: inspector of election, P. H. McCann; inspector of election, John Pickering.

The commissioners who divided the ward were Attorney F. W. Fleitz, J. D. Evans and County Surveyor A. B. Dun

WHAT BECAME OF THE PAPER?

Missing and the Commonwealt Cannot Go to Trial Without It. James Baird Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Forgery.

From present indications there will MINNIE MADDERN FISKE.—Those who remember Minnie Maddern Fiske most vividly as an actress of wonderful suggestiveness on lines of the highest art in plays that offered her poor opportunity will hardly be prepared for the evidence of development that she shows in her new play, "The Queen of Liars," which will be presented at the Frothingham this evening! Her reappearance after a retirement for five years has given such eveldence of another sensation in court and Attorney Cornelius Smith will play a leading part, unless a different phase omes over the face of matters in relation to the charge of perjury against John G. Jennings, of Minooka, Mr.

Smith's client. It is hardly necessary to repeat the case over in detail, but briefly; it will be remembered that last May when the trespass suit of Mr. Jennings agains the Lehigh Valley Railroad company was about to go on trial, the plaintiff study that is directed by genius itself. Critics everywhere have halfed her with enthusiasm as the one American actress who demonstrates a type of genius that heretofore has had kindred illustration only in foreign artists. In her new play Mrs. Fiske has a medium that fits all her expressive ability. In the leading cities "The Queen of Liars" has been declared to be the strongest and most interesting drama. at the instance of his attorney made an affidavit to the effect that Deputy Prothonotary Myron Kasson was guilty of drawing jurors illegally.

Mr. Jennings could not substantiate his allegation, and he was held by Judge Archbald for perjury. The affidavit was numbered among the rest of the papers in the Jennings' case. The my found a true bill against the affiant and the case was on the criminal list for yesterday. It now appears that the affidavit cannot be found in the files in the prothonotary's office, and the commonwealth cannot very well make out a case against Mr. Jennings without the paper. Mr. Smith has been allowed by order of court to take the files in the Jennings' case from the prothonotary's office for reference.

drama, it gains greatly from the illustration given to its leading character by Mrs. Fiske, and it is doubtful if any other actress could so vitally typify this part. Smith Says He Has Not Got It. SALVINI—Tomorrow evening at the Academy of Music theater-goers will have an opportunity of seeing Alexander Salvini in "The Three Guardsmen." This artist brings to the part an enormous but governed energy and unbounded confidence. To follow him It was thought that he took the affidavit out with him among the rest of the papers, but Mr. Smith denies posiunbounded confidence. To follow him as D'Artagnan makes one wonder what Salvini would do if he had to be quiet one whole minute. On the stage it seems imposible for him to do so, yet there is art in his noise, and novelty in his movement. The play is so full of life that were Salvini other than he is, he would not be an ideal guardsman. Considerable stress is laid on the scenic surroundings with which the play will be presented, for it has been case now which he intends to make an example of. Last summer Luigi Scalzo, a Carbondale Italian with some of flendish qualities of Nero of old, tried to blow up the dwelling house of Gabriel Pugliano with dynamite. He miss it.

HUMANITY—Manager W. A. Brady made a wise deal when he contracted to produce Sutton Vane's play in America. The success of "Humanity" in New York and Boston insures for it a long and profitable season. Already the "Cotton King" has shown itself a money maker and Mr. Brady thinks "Humanity" will do even better. Sutton Vane appears to have the faculty partially succeeded.

His arrest followed and he was held man in the sum of $600 and he swore before Judge Gunster that he owns of striking the popular chord in all his plays. His characters are so virile that they stand out as distinct creations, and yet they are but characters of every day in this bustling world. The scenic effects of "Humanity" are startling in the scenic effects of "Humanity" are property valued at $5,000.
