Poor Director Charles Tropp if in New York city.

A. W. Jurisch left yesterday for Sullivan county on a deer hunt.
Mr. and Mrs. Mulford, of Unadilla, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Luce, of Hyde Park avenue.
J. H. Laine is in the city.

Miss Carroll, who, for several years, was head clerk for the firm of C. G. Boland & Co., of this city, has resigned her position and will soon become a resident of Philadelphia.

Hon. Theodore Hart, editor of the Pittston Gazette, which has been pronounced by competent judges the most stalwart Republican daily in Luzerne county, called on Scranton friends yesterday afternoon, and inspected The Tribune's new plant. Mr. Hart has been asked by many prominent Republicans to be a candidate for national delegate from Luzerne county, and has consented to permit the use of his name. In 1890 he ran for delegate, but the convention elected Mr. Farnham, of Wilkes-Barre, and Mr. Albright, of Scranton, as delegates, afterward choosing Mr. Hart and Mr. Alexander, of Carbondale, as alternates. Inasmuch as Wilkes-Barre has several times had the delegations, Mr. Hart believes that next year the two extreme ends of the county will be accorded recognition, thus coupling his candidacy with that of Representative Leisinger.

THE JURY CANNOT AGREE

Guilt or Innocence of Joseph Thomas Is Puzzling Them.

CELEBRATED HIS ACQUITTAL

Thomas Kane, Accused of Robbery, Acquitted by the Jury and He Went Out and Got Drunk—Judge Gunster Sent Him Up.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury that heard the case against Joseph Thomas, the 17-year-old strapping fellow charged with a serious crime by Angeline Cockerill, a 12-year-old girl, retired to find a verdict but they could not agree and remained out all night. It is likely they will come into court this morning and ask to be discharged.

Thomas Kane, of Carbondale, was returned not guilty of robbing James S. Cobb, and immediately after the verdict was taken the case against him in which he is charged with burglarizing the house of John Higgins, of Carbondale, was called for trial. Kane appeared in court in a highly intoxicated condition and Judge Gunster ordered the sheriff to take charge of him. Warden Jay brought the hilarious defendant to jail and then Kane was sober enough he was taken back to court. Another case had been called and the case against him was not taken up. He may be tried today.

W. L. Weatherly and Collins Weatherly, his son, were tried in the main court for assault and battery upon Dallas Woodmaney. They live in Scott township and on June 9 got into a fight over some trivial matter. Woodmaney alleged that the father and son struck him divers times on the head with a club. The jury found the defendants not guilty and ordered the prosecutor to pay one-fourth of the costs and the other three-fourths to pay the three-fourths. District Attorney Jones represented the commonwealth and Attorney Hulslander & Vosburg the defendants.

Celebrated the Event.

Rosario Genachero was tried on a charge of felonious attempt upon the life of Mrs. Joseph Tomaine. Attorney John T. Martin defended the prisoner and District Attorney Jones represented the commonwealth. It was alleged that on the 5th of last September Genachero came to the house of the prosecutrix and without a word of warning or any provocation fired two shots at her, and one at her husband. The defense was that they had not been on good terms and when he heard of the shooting they were going back to Italy. He went to their house and fired the shots in a Fourth of July spirit to express his delight at their departure. The jury was out at adjournment. The case was tried before Judge Edwards in No. 2 court.

The next case was against Patrick and Rose Healey, an old couple living at the "Beach" in Spring Brook township. They formerly lived in Greenvou. Mrs. Mary Astor is the prosecutrix. Attorney John J. Murphy represented the defendants and Attorney David J. Davis the commonwealth. The charge is that on July 21 last five cows belonging to the Astor family got into Healey's barn and when Mrs. Astor crossed over to see about getting the cows out Mrs. Healey assaulted her with a club.

Clark, of Scranton, on trial. William A. Clark, a South Abington butcher, and a man about 50 years of age, atone and muscular looking, was tried before Judge Gunster for horse whipping a cripple boy, Arthur Dutton, 14 years old. District Attorney Jones and Attorney B. F. Ackery represented the commonwealth and Attorneys Hulslander & Vosburg, the defendant.

On Sept. 3 last, young Datsen and Harry Dymond, another boy, were gathering butternuts from a tree on the roadside skirting Mr. Clark's premises. The tree is about 100 feet from the toll gate. The defendant was returning from Scranton and he and his brother were on the tree when they saw the horse and ran after the boys. He horsewhipped Datsen severely, drawing blood from the boy's disabled leg and right shoulder.

The boy testified and so did young Dymond. The defendant's attorney tried to prove that the tree was on his premises. Mrs. Fannie Tinkham, the toll gate keeper, was an eye witness of the whipping. She was asked how far away from the tree the boys were at the time. "Well, sir," she said, "it was 6 rods, lacking 3 feet and 9 inches from where I was standing to the tree." She also measured the distance from the tree to the wall enclosing the defendant's premises and found the tree to be 2 feet and 19 inches on the outside. The case was given to the jury just before adjournment.

Defense That Was Offered.
The defense was that the Clarks did not strike the little boy at all; that he and his brother took nuts from the tree and was annoyed for a long time with their depredations; that she shouted to them to get away and in the hurry to get down from the tree that Datsen fell and hit his head on the stone wall and was thereby injured.

The defendant went on the stand and swore that the boys were very insolent, particularly the Dymond boy. He admitted that he applied the horsewhip to Dymond, but did not touch Datsen at all. The latter, he said, was injured by the stones of the wall falling on him. The jury went out to find a verdict a little while before adjournment.

ALLEGORY OF AMERICA.

Will Be Given for the Benefit of the Lackawanna Hospital.

On January 14 and 15 at the Academy of Music will be given the grand "Allegory of America" for the benefit of the Lackawanna Hospital. There will be about 300 persons in the cast, all residents of the city, and the entertainment will consist of dialogue and tableaux illustrating the history of America from the time of its discovery by Columbus until the present time. It is not only entertaining, but instructive as well. Every effort will be made to have the costumes and arrangement of the tableaux, as well as all of the dialogues, historically correct. To assist in raising funds there will be a handsome souvenir programme issued. In the compilation of which the merchants, manufacturers and others will be asked to assist.

MONEY IS PLENTIFUL.

New York Investors Are Buying Up Municipal Bonds.

Money is so plentiful in New York that the investors are seeking everywhere for a place to use it. Even street improvement bonds of municipalities are being eagerly sought for by big financial institutions which heretofore looked upon such investments as more trifling than worthy of consideration. City Controller Wideman is in receipt of letters almost daily from the financial centers asking for statements of the city's credit and whether or not we have any bonds for sale.

Yesterday at the request of the New York Savings Bank's association he compiled a statement of the issue of street improvement bonds and will forward it to them today. It shows that bonds to the amount of $190,522.22 have been issued; $144,960.36 has been paid for redemption, and on July 30, 1895, there was still outstanding $45,561.76.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

SALVINI—This evening Scranton theater goers will have an opportunity of seeing Alexander Salvini at the Academy of Music in "The Three Guardsmen." One does not realize the beauty of "The Three Guardsmen" until it is seen in action. Dramatized it is a masterpiece. Not a gap remains unfilled; not a word unadvised to the motive and result. The scene is laid in the French court at a time when kings were slaves to popes; when women were the merchandise to power; when honor was a thing of name flashed in the gleam of a rapier and he buried in the slime of deeds; when might was right and infamy owned both; when treason crawled before him who paid the service highest. In the latter day, when war is not a matter of a despot's whim, when a subject's head is his own, provided he respects his fellows, this page of chivalry comes a moral lesson and an amusing story. By "The Three Guardsmen" becomes as wine to the blood, since it is life, long-bottled in the flagons of history. Salvini plays the dashing guardman with the impetuosity of the born cavalier.

HUMANITY—The production of "Humanity" at the Academy Thursday and Friday evenings revives the memory of its substantial success achieved. There are twenty-six speaking parts in the drama, and fully one hundred persons are engaged on the stage, in addition to twelve thoroughbred horses and a pack of hounds. These are used in the hunt and battle scenes. The cast includes Joseph Gorman, Miss Phoebe Davies, Hardee Girkland, Miss Bebe Vining, Miss Arline Athens, C. Jay Williams, Clarence Ferguson, Fannie C. Jackson, John Haney and others. The scenery, a most potent factor in the production, is the joint work of John A. Thompson, Harley Merry and J. R. Wilkins.

THE ENGINEER—For the last three days of this week "The Engineer" will be the attraction at Davis' theater. It was produced here early in the season and Manager Davis thought so well of it that he booked it for a return engagement. The Philadelphia Call says of the drama: "The company is a very strong one, while good clean comedy is interspersed throughout, and several good specialties are introduced at the proper time and place. The play was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience present."

BIG ADVERTISING SCHEME

E. A. Keeling, of New York, Is at the Head of the Project.

Circulars were yesterday received in this city by the board of trade, Mayor Connell and a number of prominent private citizens explaining in detail and calling for support for a novel scheme to advertise the products of this county in foreign lands.

The concern is known as the American Expedition Association, and has temporary headquarters in New York city. It proposes to build a palatial yacht which will carry aboard a party of say 500 leading men of the county, representing every state and all of the larger cities, whose sole duty will be to just travel around and "praise things."

AS TO JUDICIAL SALES.

Taxes Must Be Paid Against Advertisements Before They Can Be Sold.

City Solicitor yesterday sent notice to City Treasurer Brooks that in accordance with an act of the last legislature taxes on lands advertised for sale must be filed against the property like a judgment before the sale takes place and are not collectable after the sale, as heretofore. The same rule, of course, holds good as regards county taxes. This law will do away with the hardship entailed upon persons who have purchased land at sheriff's or other such sales and afterwards were obliged to pay a big bill of taxes. The taxes must be satisfied out of the money arising from the sale of the property.

GUESSING CONTEST CLOSED.

Those Who Won the Prizes at Goldsmith's Bazaar.

Mershon, Waverly, second ladies' prize; Miss Lillian Bradley, city, third ladies' prize; Joseph S. Cary, city, first gentlemen's prize; John York, city, second gentlemen's prize; Arnold Roth, third gentlemen's prize. There were 1,546 handkerchiefs in the window. Ladies' nearest guess was 523; gentlemen's nearest guess was 1,500.

THREE BIG EQUITY SUITS

Warring Water Companies Will Battle in Court.

CASES DISMISSED IN WAYNE

The Courts Are Asked to Restrain the Scranton Gas and Water Company from Taking Liquid from the Lehigh River.

Three equity suits were yesterday begun in the office of Prothonotary Pryor against the Scranton Gas and Water company, of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, of Wilkes-Barre, the Bethlehem South Water company, of Carbon county, and R. C. Drum & Co., which embraces the White Haven Water company, the Carbon County Electric Light company, the Mauch Chunk Heat, Power and Electric Light company, the Carbon County Improvement company, and the Citizens' Electric Light company. This latter complaint representing the third complaint against the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, which has been filed in the Lehigh County court. The suits were filed in Wayne county first but were dismissed on the grounds of no jurisdiction. They have now been brought in this county.

The bill of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company sets forth that by an act of assembly approved March 20, 1813, Josiah White, George F. A. Hanco and Erskine Hazard, of the county of Philadelphia, who had and as assigns, were authorized to enter upon the Lehigh river, to open, enlarge and deepen the same in any part between the Great Falls and the mouth of the Lehigh river, to make a good navigation for ships, boats, barges, and to collect and receive tolls for the passage of the same thereon. The complainant after a large expenditure of money completed a canal and slack water navigation from the mouth of the river to White Haven, a distance of seventy-two miles, and the same became a public highway for the passage of boats, barges and rafts under rules and regulations lawfully adopted by the company.

In consequence of a flood in June, 1862, which destroyed the dams above Mauch Chunk, the legislature by an act approved March 4, 1863, authorized it to construct a railway from White Haven to Mauch Chunk, which relieved the complainant from keeping in repair its slackwater from Mauch Chunk.

Scranton People Notified.
After going through a history of the rights acquired from time to time by virtue of acts of the legislature the bill says that a representative of the complainant from keeping in repair its slackwater from Mauch Chunk.

It is impossible the complainant says to anticipate or to foresee all the mischiefs which would result from diverting the water from the stream even in time of flood. The work of constructing a dam across the Lehigh at a point near Gouldsboro has begun with a view of pumping the water of the Lehigh so as to carry it to the Roaring Brook or to pipes leading to Scranton foreign lands.

The concern is known as the American Expedition Association, and has temporary headquarters in New York city. It proposes to build a palatial yacht which will carry aboard a party of say 500 leading men of the county, representing every state and all of the larger cities, whose sole duty will be to just travel around and "praise things."

Answer of the Defendant Company.

The answer of the Scranton Gas and Water company avers that the complainants are entitled to prevent the defendant from building dams and works upon the land owned by the defendant; that it is not proposed to diminish the natural flow of water in times of drought; on the other hand that the more gradual supply of water which the forests preserve will be restored in a measure by the erection of the dam of the defendant, for it will keep back portions of the water and tend to keep up a more regular and gradual supply. That it is not proposed to take more water from the Lehigh river than always runs to waste in extreme high water at times of floods, and to store it in reservoirs solely and only for use in times of severe drought.

Ex-Judge Alfred Hand, ex-Judge H. A. Knapp and Attorney W. J. Hand represent the Scranton Gas and Water company. The complainants are represented by Attorney George Wharton Pepper, William B. Dozier and Samuel Dickinson, of Philadelphia; J. Davis Brodhead and H. S. Drinker, of Bethlehem. The court here has taken no action yet with regard to the suits.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Annual Meeting of the Lackawanna County Medical Society.

A well attended meeting of the Lackawanna County Medical society was held last evening in the arbitration room of the court house. Nomination and election of officers to serve the ensuing year was the most important business done. It resulted as follows: President, Dr. H. B. Gardner; first vice-president, Dr. Walter M. Reedy; second vice-president, Dr. E. M. Pennypacker; secretary, Dr. James Stein; treasurer, Dr. E. M. Gates; censor, Dr. J. E. O'Brien, three years; librarian, Dr. Gardner. The retiring president, Dr. Capwell, thanked his associates warmly for the courteous and thoughtful manner they had treated him during his incumbency. Dr. Gardner gave a short address to his sentiments for the honor conferred upon him when he took the chair. As is the custom for all retiring presidents, Dr. Capwell read a paper. The subject is usually the medical progress of the year. He said he took the liberty of deviating from this rule and prepared a paper on "Serum Therapeutics." It was highly commended by the members present.

LECTURE ON ANGELO.

Delivered by Attorney A. V. Bower in Green Ridge Presbyterian Church.

The lecture delivered by Attorney A. V. Bower in the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, illustrated by stereopticon views of the original paintings, was a rare treat to all who attended the church last evening.

The lecturer showed a thorough understanding of the life and genius of Angelo, a knowledge acquired by a careful study in the galleries of Europe, of the masterpieces of the great Italian. Mr. Bower has the rare faculty of completely absorbing the attention of his audience, and leading them back into the past.

The story of the life of Angelo is a wonder. The lecturer led his hearers all along the rugged path of the great artist from his youth until his death at 31 when he was still busy and active, but dwelt particularly upon his unparalleled achievement in the Sistine chapel in Rome; the tombs of the De Medici and the mighty Moses. It was new presentation of this wonderful man and one long to be remembered.

HAD TO STOP THE "AD."

A lady who had a house to rent called at The Tribune office and inserted a "House to rent" ad. The first insertion brought several applicants, while the second insertion kept her busy answering callers, and secured a proper tenant. The continuation of it caused her to leave her home and visit the office, to request that the "ad." be discontinued. She could have placarded the house with "To rent" for an indefinite period, and be the loser of several months' rent, but an "ad." in The Tribune saved all that, and she is the better for it. Many instances of this kind could be related. They tell a story. It pays to let the people know that you have a house to rent, a horse for sale, or if you want a servant. If you desire to prove the truthfulness of this story call at our office and inquire.

THE QUEEN OF LIARS.

Mrs. Fiske Scored a Triumph in It at the Frothingham.

After an absence of a number of years, the greater part of which she spent in study, Minnie Madden Fiske again made her appearance before a Scranton audience last night in the Frothingham. "The Queen of Liars," adapted from the French of Alphonse Daudet and Leon Hennique, by her husband, Harrison Gray Fiske, was the vehicle in which she made her appearance.

It is a fascinating psychological study of the motives that sway a woman with a heart as deep as a good man. This man she deeply loves and to prevent a discovery of the hideous past she lies. Each lie requires another to extricate her from the mesh the preceding one has entangled her in and at last overwhelmed by the embarrassments her prevarications have caused her she takes poison.

In the interpretation of this character Mrs. Fiske delighted the audience and showed that during the years she has been off the stage her powers as an actress have greatly matured and expanded. She brought a fine intelligence, the proper temperament and a natural artistic method of acting to the interpretation of the role that called forth the warmest tributes of appreciation from the audience.

Mrs. Fiske was supported by an excellent company, which included James Neill, Frank H. Mills, Albert Grau, Ida Waterman, Helen Macbeth and Mary Madden.
