WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Exercises Commemorative of Christmas Day Held in This Part of the City.

The choir of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church delighted a large audience last evening by rendering special Christmas music. The chorists, William Jones, had arranged a fine programme of solos, duets, chorusing singing, etc. At St. David's church special music was given by the choir at 7:30 a. m., and at 7:30 p. m. Rev. M. H. Hill, rector of the church, preached at the morning service.

An entertainment was given last evening at the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church. A large crowd was present. The members of the Sunday school received commendatory in small packages in honor of the celebration. Mrs. George Howell and Professor Evan Miles conducted the affair.

The Sunday school of the Belvedere Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church held appropriate exercises last evening. Rev. J. T. Morris presided. Recitations, solos and chorusing singing afforded excellent entertainment for the large crowd present.

A sunrise meeting was held yesterday morning at the Jackson Street Baptist church. The service was begun at 7 o'clock under the leadership of B. T. Stone. The audience was composed chiefly of young people.

Christmas tree exercises were held last evening at the Jackson Street Baptist church. There was a large attendance.

A Welsh costume tea party was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Tabernacle church. The basement of the church was used as the tea room. Several tables, neatly arranged, took up the entire floor. The waitresses were dressed in the regulations native Welsh costume, sugarloaf hats, etc. A concert was given in the evening, at which Rev. D. P. Jones presided.

Hungarians and Poles Fought. Last evening at 6 o'clock about forty men fought with fists, sticks and stones on Jackson street, near the Tabernacle. It was a race scrimmage. About half of the fighters were Poles; the rest were Hungarians. The crowd entered the saloon of Patrick Gannon, on Jackson street, and while inside a fight was started, the two nationalities taking sides with two of their countrymen. Afterward the battle was begun on the street. One Hungarian was badly beaten. The coming of police officers was noised about in the crowd and they dispersed, carrying with them the injured Hungarian. His name or whereabouts could not be ascertained. Hungarians celebrated the day at Feltville in their own novel manner. Several of them, dressed in curious costumes, paraded the street and visited the numerous hotel keepers during the morning. Five were dressed in white linen suits and wore high paper hats. Two of the party wore suits made of wolves' skins with the hair side out.

Has Improved His Property. That enterprising business man, Druggist John J. Davies, has improved the exterior appearance of his Main avenue pharmacy by a new coat of paint. The brick work has received a bath of red paint with white trimmings. The contrast is artistic and the general effect pleasing. Painter Frederick Becker personally supervised the job.

News Notes and Personals. An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell was buried this afternoon in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. Misses Jessie Owen and Winnie Stevens, of Wilkes-Barre.

A handsomely decorated Christmas tree, with a natural growth of miniature lakes, etc., was admitted to the school yesterday at the North Hyde Park avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. John Labar. The tree is placed upon an earthen platform in the front parlor. On the end opposite to where the tree stands is a small lake with several live fish in it. A miniature gunboat is stationed by a small tier. The whole creation is lighted by candles. Mr. Labar spent three weeks in its construction.

Tomorrow evening the social circle of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church will entertain its friends in the church parlors. A short programme will be rendered and refreshments will be served.

The children's festival will be conducted next Saturday evening at St. David's church. The day is known to Episcopalians as "Holy Innocents' Day."

Resolutions on Death of Allen D. Shiffer. At a regular meeting of Railroad Lodge, No. 422, Knights of Pythias, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

It is with heartfelt sorrow that we are called upon to announce the death of our brother, Allen D. Shiffer.

When God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our esteemed brother, thereby reminding us of the uncertainty of life; be it therefore resolved,

That while we bow in obedience to the will of our Heavenly Father, we deeply deplore the loss and shall fondly cherish the memory of our departed brother, Allen D. Shiffer.

Resolved, That we, the members of the bereaved family, especially the widow, be it resolved, that we will endeavor to lessen the sorrow of the heart, but earnestly wishing it were possible to take away the grief and anguish of those deeply bereaved.

Resolved, That as a token of respect for our deceased brother, our charter be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days; that a page of our record be dedicated to the memory of our brother; that a copy of these resolutions be presented to his mother, and that they be published in the Scranton daily papers.

A. J. Bruzanski, R. M. Tewksbury, J. J. Jernigan, Committee.

BALL OF EXCELSIOR CLUB. It was Held in Music Hall Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

The thirteenth annual ball of the Excelsior Athletic Club, which was held in Music Hall, dancing began at 1 p. m. and was enjoyed until 6 o'clock; then an intermission was taken until 9:30, when the festive dancing recommenced. The order of dancing comprised thirty-two numbers and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large attendance.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

Young Men's Political Club Organized in the Twentieth Ward—Officers That Have Been Chosen—Other News.

The Young Men's Political club is the name of an organization just banded together, comprising a number of the aspiring citizens of the Twentieth ward. James J. Brady is president; Patrick Flaherty, vice-president; James J. Touhill, treasurer, and James Herty, secretary. The aim and object of the club is to wield an influence in the coming spring election and to have a say about who is to be alderman, councilman and school controller.

The young men are energetic and active; they represent probably forty other young men equally as aggressive and can be relied upon to make their mark in the politics of the ward. They will meet after the holidays to formulate a plan of campaign.

Football at Moosic. The Juvenile foot ball club of the Twentieth ward journeyed to Moosic yesterday afternoon and contested on the gridiron with an eleven from that place. The Juveniles are a sturdy lot of young fellows under eighteen years of age and they had no trouble in defeating their competitors from the lower end of the county. The victory was a good sized affair, resulting in a 12 to 0 score in the South Side young men's favor. About five hundred persons from here went down to cheer their favorites on to victory. The streets were so crowded with enthusiasts that as many as two dozen were perched on the roof of every car coming from Moosic between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening.

Marriage at Greenwood. This evening a prominent young couple of Greenwood will be united in matrimony. George B. W. Doud will be the groom-elect and Miss Ann Eliza Rawson. Mr. Doud is bookkeeper in the office of the Greenwood Coal company. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rawson, by Rev. Mr. Lindamuth, pastor of the Moosic Presbyterian church. It will take place at 8 o'clock.

Shorter Paragraphs of News. The social of the Big Five at Germania hall yesterday afternoon and evening was a successful affair.

Tonight will witness the contest for the nomination of officers of the Scranton Athletic club. A year ago the same rivalry existed and about a half dozen came out bringing members from their homes and taken from our midst on account of the severity of the weather.

It is rumored that the South steel mill will resume operations the second week of January.

IS POSTPONED ONE WEEK. Superior Court Will Not Organize in This City Until Jan. 13.

It was the original intention to have the superior court organized in this city in the Federal court building on January 6, but it has been decided by the judges to postpone the event one week until January 13. As the list for the coming term is not very large the length of the term has also been cut down from three to two weeks.

Judge Rice will continue to be the president judge of the new court. The act of assembly creating the court provided that the judges after election should draw lots to determine who would be the president judge. This has been done and the honor has fallen to Judge Rice, of Wilkes-Barre, who was named as president judge by Governor Hastings when he made his appointments immediately after the creation of the court.

At the coming term a number of cases which were not reached at the last sitting in Philadelphia will come up for a hearing, having been certified to this district.

The new court will relieve the supreme court of a great deal of the business that has in the past encumbered that calendar. One of the members of the Lackawanna bar recently went through a volume of supreme court reports and found that about one-half of the cases there reported came under the jurisdiction of the new court. If that ratio holds true to the end of the higher court the new branch of the state judiciary will have plenty of work to do.

WAYLAD AND BEATEN. Russians Set Upon One of Their Own Countrymen.

John Kadettie, a Russian, whose residence is at the High Works, was received at the Lackawanna hospital about midnight. He had five deep scratches in his head and was otherwise badly battered.

He claimed to have been waylaid and beaten by enemies among his compatriots as he was walking home on the railroad track near Tripp's crossing.

No attempt was made to rob him, he says, and he attributes the assault to a grudge which some of his countrymen bear him.

RHYME, QUIP AND JEST. His Cross.

He crossed the seven times. Without a thought of fear; He crossed the rugged Alpine range, He crossed the Brooklyn trolley tracks, He trembled, but he didn't care, And yet he doesn't dare to cross His little brown-eyed wife.

—Atlanta Constitution.

Timely Pronouncement. "Have you thought about doing any Christmas shopping yet?" asked Mr. Hunnime.

"No, dear," was the reply, "it is a little early for such preparations, isn't it?"

"Yes, but it's as well to take time for the forelock, you know. Have you a memorandum book handy?"

"Yes."

"Well, you might jot down these little points. Here's the brand of cigars that I prefer. They cannot by possibility be purchased at a bargain. Here is the number of slipper that I wear, and you might make a note of the fact that my preference in neckties is dark red, with a small black figure, also that I do not need any suspenders."

And she thanked him, and wrote it all down, thereby saving no small share of future regret and embarrassments.—Washington Star.

Where Extremes Meet. Now gentle woman, the play man's wistful nature shocks.

By wearing, in her inconsistent way, So little on her shoulders in the far-off private box.

So much upon her hat in the parquet. —Washington Star.

IT WAS A GREEN CHRISTMAS

Weather Had the Flavor of Spring Rather Than Mid-Winter.

CITY STREETS WERE CROWDED

Day Was Observed in a Quiet and Rational Manner and There Were Few Disturbances Reported—Large Congregations in the Churches.

"It doesn't seem like Christmas, at all," was heard on all sides yesterday as the speaker would contemplate the spring weather, but it was Christmas and a right merry Christmas despite the decidedly un-Christmas like weather.

That Scrantonians did not allow the worldly side of the day to overshadow the true spirit of the occasion was evidenced by the crowded church auditoriums throughout the city. Everywhere the special Christmas services attracted large congregations and at the central city churches, where exceptionally fine musical programmes were rendered, there were instances of crowding to the doors.

The children had their inning at day-break and in any house where there were children there was no sleep from that time on. The streets did not begin to show much activity until after dinner except along the streets in the vicinity of the churches, which were thronged at the opening and closing time of the services. After dinner, promenaders were out in force and all disgruntled there was no sleep from that time on.

The streets were so thronged with promenaders that it was difficult to move along the sidewalks. The weather was so pleasant that it was difficult to believe that it was Christmas.

There were many visitors in the city yesterday, the day with its pleasant weather and many small dinner parties were held by reunited families in honor of those who came home to spend the holidays.

Amos Hollister, of Schultzeville, was in the city yesterday and stated that yesterday morning he planted two acres of meadow land without difficulty. This is a remarkable record for this region.

SAM HOUSTON'S BUSY DAY. And the Man Who Wanted to Fight Him Had to Wait His Turn.

From the Knoxville Journal. In the days of General Sam Houston duelling was much more common than now.

After removing to Texas, General Houston happened to give offense to a political opponent, who felt his honor insulted and sought a duel. Houston sent a challenge to Houston. The bearer of the challenge was received with courtesy civility. He handed the written challenge to Houston, who promptly read it, and taking up his pen wrote something across the back of the folded paper and placed it in a pigeonhole.

The bearer of the challenge with the pleasant conversation for which he was noted. After a time the man began to grow impatient, and reminding the general of the challenge, asked him if he was going to reply.

"Oh, yes," said Houston, "I'm going to reply."

"Well, are you going to accept the challenge of my friend?"

"Certainly I will accept it."

"No, you will not accept it for tomorrow?"

"No, not tomorrow."

"Next day?"

"No, not the next day either."

"Well, will you fix a date?"

"No, I am not going to fix a date. You saw me murder your friend's date; it is No. 49. There are forty-eight other blundered scoundrels ahead of your friend and I must take them first."

As soon as I have killed them off I will attend to your friend; but he will have to wait until his turn comes."

The bearer of the challenge bowed himself out; but of course his friend's turn never came and it is not probable that he was anxious for it to come.

In a Deadlier Field. Chicago Tribune: "I'll lick him yet!" roared the prizefighter. "I'm going to let my hair grow long, b'gosh, and some day I'll meet 'em in a foot ball game!"

Cynical, but True. Truth: Old Goodfellow: "My boy, there's always a silver lining to the cloud."

Young Grouty: "Maybe, but it's nothing but moonshine."

RESCUED. On Lake Erie's Shores—The Captain's Wife Tells the Story—It Will Interest Many People.

(From the Buffalo Evening News.)

If you were to call at 27 Front avenue you would find a pleasant elderly lady, Mrs. Captain Henery by name. Her kindly smile and joyous manner are to no small extent due to the escape she has had. Her own words can better describe her rescue and one can easily understand her present happy condition when they realize what she has gone through. She says: "About five months ago I had an attack of sickness which lasted for a week and since that time I have been in bed. I was unable to similar attacks, some of which were long in duration. It is hard for me to describe how I suffered. The pain would come in my head, after which it would seem to pass down my body and settle in my back, my sides ached, my back ached, and I had a feeling of great distress in the bowels. The increased pain which seemed to come from lying down, would be almost unbearable, my face and stomach would blot up and I could hardly stand on my feet, dizziness made it almost impossible; this feeling was always with me even after the violence of the attack passed over. The last attack I had was the worst, and was so bad I would not have been able to tell this story but for Dr. Henery's use of my medicine. I commenced their use I found immediate relief. The pain in my back and sides left me and the dizziness went with it. The blotting in my face and body disappeared and all distress in my bowels was gone. I have great faith in Dr. Henery's Kidney Pills; in a short time they did a great deal more for me than all the doctors and medicines which had resorted to in seeking relief and cure. I hope always to be able to procure their use."

PENNYROYAL PILLS. A Beautiful Pronunciation. A servant girl living in Gloucester. When told what to do simply to cheer her. "Twice her way. None, we must say. As far as we knew, ever boisterous." —Washington Star.

Dr. J. R. Schwartz, Harrisburg, Pa., says: "I have used it in dyspepsia, with charming effect, and am well pleased with it."

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD

FAMOUS LUNG HEALER

WHAT IS IT?

It is a medicine carefully put up and compounded, being a direct copy of a favorite prescription used by Dr. Alexander O'Malley, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a practicing physician for over twenty years, for all lung and throat troubles, and is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it. It is not a "cure all" but it will certainly relieve lung disease, cure coughs and bronchitis, avert pneumonia and prevent consumption by its timely action on the sensitive lung tubes and tissues. Thousands of bottles have been sold last year, and thousands of souls saved from an early grave by its use. Once used a family will never be without it in the house.

For sale by all dealers. 25 cents.

Danger Signals

More than half the victims of consumption do not know they have it. Here is a list of symptoms by which consumption can certainly be detected—

Cough, one or two slight efforts on rising, occurring during the day and frequently during the night. "Coughs" from exertion.

Short breathing after exertion. Tightness of the chest. Quick pulse, especially noticeable in the evening and after a full meal.

Stiffness in the evening, followed by a slight fever.

Perspiration toward morning and "Pale face and languid in the morning. Loss of vitality.

If you have these symptoms, or any of them, do not delay. There are many preparations which claim to be cures, but Dr. Henery's is the only one that has stood the test of years. It will arrest consumption in its earlier stages, and drive away the symptoms named. It is manufactured by the Acker Medicine Co., 16 and 18 Chambers St., New York, and sold by all reputable druggists.
