ENJOYING THE SLEIGHING.

Large Number of Turnouts Seen on the Paved Highways.

Though the amount of snow on the ground is scarce enough to cover the merry jingle of the sleigh bell was heard yesterday and long into the night. The paved streets, mainly Washington avenue, were the favorite speedways for horsemen and quite a number of turnouts dashed up and down during the afternoon.

It could not be said that the sleighing was good for the thin coating of snow was worn or blown off the pavements in spots but those who enjoy the exhilarating pastime of skimming along on steel runners behind a fleet horse could not resist the temptation of embracing such opportunity as was afforded them.

The small boy coaster was much in evidence on the hillside during the afternoon and at night his big brother plied over the snow and ice coated declivities.

WILL BE ARGUED TODAY.

He denied that he had mismanaged the estate, and said that he was ready and willing to give bonds for the faithful performance of his duties as executor. Attorney R. H. Holgate and Mr. Hall, of Waverly, were also called to the stand and gave testimony in behalf of Mr. Fell.

This morning the attorneys will present their briefs to the court and make their arguments.

CHIEF FERBER'S ESTIMATE

Made on the Basis of a Paid Fire Department.

MEN AND APPARATUS NEEDED

Total Cost of a Paid Service for the Year He Estimates Would Be $65,841.

08—Details of the Figures That He Gives.

Believing that Scranton ought to have a paid fire department and convinced that the growth of the city demands it, while there is not the intention on his part in any degree to underrate the efficiency of the present volunteer system, Chief Engineer H. F. Ferber, in his estimate presented yesterday for the fiscal year 1896, has included an item of $18,000 salary for thirty permanent men, in addition to the force now operating.

His estimate for the volunteer department amounts to $40,320; the $18,000 salary for thirty men and the purchase of two additional chemical engines, one for the West Side and the other for the North End, and also the purchase of other appliances which would be necessary if a paid service were inaugurated, would amount to $53,520. This added to the sum that is required to run the department as it now exists, would bring the cost of paid service up to $65,841.

The various items set forth in Chief Ferber's estimate for the fiscal year 1896 are as follows: Salary of chief engineer, $1,200; five engineers, each $4,000; five stokers, $150 each; $750; two permanent men for Neptune Engine company, $1,200; two for New York Engine company, $1,200; two for Franklin Engine company, $1,200; two for Crystal company, $1,200; two for Hook and Ladder company, $1,200; two for the General Phinney company, $1,200; one for the Eagle company, $600; one for the Phoenix, $600; one for the engineer, $720; one man for Relief Hose company, $600; one for Liberty Hose company, $600; one for the Columbia Hose company, $600; one for the Excelsior Hose company, $600; one for the Centaur Hose company, $600; one for the William Connell Hose company, $600; and one for Niagara Hose company, $600.

Maintenance of Quarters.

The items for the maintenance of the quarters and incidentals are as follows: Light and heat, $1,800; rent of fire alarm, $1,100; maintenance of 77 fire alarm boxes, $2,150; parade and inspection, $200; repairs of apparatus and harness, $1,000; supplies, $600; repairs on engine houses, $1,000; printing and stationery, $250; rent of engine houses, $2,000; purchase of fire hydrants, $1,500; repairs and erection of hydrants, $1,500; incidentals, $300; telephone expenses and medical supplies, $200; purchase of hose, $200; telephone for office, $50; substitutes for vacation and sickness, $500; pulling apparatus to fires, $100; keeping of 35 horses at $10 each, $3,500; repairing of hose, $100; total, $4,320.

Chief Ferber recommends the following and states positively that they would be of incalculable benefit to the city:

1. Purchase of horses, $1,000; purchase of a combined wagon, hose chemical and hook and ladder arrangement for the Columbia Hose company, $1,800; and a double harness for the same company, $200.

2. Combination wagon, hose, chemical and hook and ladder for the Excelsior Hose company, $1,800; fire alarm box for first ward, $125; one for Twentieth ward, $125; one at the corner of Gibson street and Clay avenue, $125; one at Vine street and Prescott avenue, $125; one at Penn avenue and Mulberry street, $125; one at Washington avenue and New street, $125; for glass boxes for fire alarm keys, $100; maintenance of six boxes, $166.66; team of horses for Niagara company, $400; shut off nozzles, valves, etc., $200; six district engineers at $150 each, $900; six bell strikers for district engineers, $20 each, $120; thirty permanent men, $600 each, $18,000; total, $43,520.

The argument in favor of a paid department is manifold, and the only one against it is that the taxpayers cannot stand the expense of it.

The estimate of the several departments were expected to be presented at the meeting of the council tomorrow night, but City Clerk Martin T. Lavelle stated yesterday that the estimates are being delayed and will be presented at the following meeting.

WILL APPLY THE LAW.

New Department Rule for Mutual Fire Insurance Companies.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—Insurance Commissioner James H. Smith, of a new department rule to apply to mutual fire insurance companies that issue cash policies or paid-up policies. Some of these companies do not hold a reserve fund according to the report made to the department, but hereafter, under the new rule, they will be compelled to do so as other companies and hold a reserve fund of 50 per cent. It was found in the report of one mutual fire insurance company that it had received $8,000 in cash for paid-up policies and yet at the end of the year it had but no cash on hand and there had been no loss on the policies.

If there had been a loss on these policies there would not have been money on hand to pay the loss unless an assessment were made on the holders of strictly mutual policies; either that or the company would have defaulted. The insurance commissioner has the law on his side and it is determined to apply it.

JABEZ PHILLIPS DECLINES.

The Wilkes-Barre Warrior Cannot Be Tempted to Fight for Cuba.

Wilkes-Barre, Jan. 8.—Cuban agents from New York in the interest of the revolutionary cause in Cuba are in this city endeavoring to secure officers of the Ninth regiment to drill their soldiers in Cuba. Lieutenant Jabez Phillips has been offered $100 a month and free transportation, but he, like others, refused the offer.

It is learned that two officers from Scranton and five from Binghamton have accepted the position and will leave for Cuba some time this week to become instructors in the insurgent army.

BOND BLANKS OUT.

Forms on Which to Submit Bids Are Being Distributed.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The treasury has begun the distribution of blank forms on which to submit bids for the new bonds. These blank forms will be obtainable at any sub-treasury by those wishing to submit bids. All national banks and others making application by mail to the treasury here or to sub-treasuries will be supplied with these blank forms.

They are not actually essential to the integrity of the bids, but are the most convenient manner of submitting them.

CLAIMS THE NEW ESTATE.

Grandson of the Great Field Marshal Summoned to Paris.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Emil Ney, grandson and only living descendant of Marshal Ney, duke of Elchenen and prince of Moskova, has for years lived among the people of this city without making public his identity.

Through Henry E. Highton, a lawyer here, Ney has been preaching his claims against Marshal Ney's estate for a portion of the $15,000,000 worth of that property, and he has at last received a summons to proceed to Paris in person, that he may properly lay his claim before the French department of justice. Ney has been gathering evidence to establish his right to the property, and as far back as 1832 he wrote his first appeal to the French government.

TRAIN WRECKER SHOT.

Is Killed.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 8.—Four months ago a train was wrecked in Illinois and W. G. Hogan, formerly of this state, was alleged to be one of the robbers and a reward offered for his arrest. He returned to Lincoln county, this state, recently, and this morning Charles Berger and Harry Brumfield decided to arrest him.

They found Hogan in the house of a friend. He refused to surrender, and began firing on Berger and Brumfield, who also opened fire, and Hogan was shot through and through, dying instantly. Berger was shot in the arm and hand by Hogan, but not fatally.

AN ANECDOTE OF FOREST.

Forrest, the great Confederate cavalry commander, was not without a sense of humor, although a stern man in the saddle at the head of his troopers. Here is a story which was current in his corps and always brought a smile to his handsome, dark face.

One day after his raid toward Memphis some of his cavalrymen overtook a Jew, with a one-horse wagon and a lot of sorts of goods, which he was peddling. They halted him.

"Hello, Shenny; what have you got in that wagon?"

"Oh, gentlemen, gentlemen, I swear by my father's grave I have nothing but some little threads and needles and dings for ladies."

The cavalryman proceeded to go through that wagon and find themselves out with boots, shoes, shirts, hats, blankets, tin cups, pipes, tobacco, and Tennessee whiskey. The peddler begged, wept, and pleaded to no purpose. Then the worm turned: "I report you every one. The general will make business men of you."

The cavalryman rode off loaded with their plunder, laughing and joking. The Jew, said he, choking with wrath and cut down to the bone by his loss, "does sojer mens vas shtop my wagon to de rote and one sojer man, too. 'Moses, dot hat on you had vas too big for you, no sojer man take every thing except de mule and de wagon. I vas ax de sojer mens vat dey vas."

"Guerrillas, Moses, guerrillas," and den dey winked at me and laughed fit to kill themselves.

"Fout! Dey call demselves guerrillas, but I tinks dey acts more like robbers."—Washington Post.

HE WAS EXCUSED.

In the mathematics class one day at Williams college, Professor Jones, who was rarely made the subject of college jests, was excessively annoyed by some man "squeaking a small rubber blade."

The noise seemed to come from near a certain Jack Hollis, and after querying each of his neighbors, and receiving a negative answer, Professor J. said sternly: "Hollis, do you know who is making that unbearable noise?"

Hollis, who had been the guilty person all along, assumed an air of stolidity and said calmly: "I know, sir, but prefer not to tell." Professor J. was angry face grew calmer, and with evident pleasure he replied: "I respect your scruples, Hollis. They do you credit, and should shame the guilty man, sir. Harper's Bazar."

WOMEN'S FACES

—like flowers, fade with the passing of time; the bloom of the rose is only known to the healthy woman's face. The ailments and pains peculiar to the female system, and the various troubles and worry of rearing a family, can often be traced by the lines in the woman's face. Well eyes, the salted, wrinkled face and those "feelings of weakness" have their rise in the derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. The functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic diseases of women, can be cured with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the young girl just entering womanhood, for the mother and child, for the woman who is "run down" by the "change of life," it aids nature in preparing the system for the change. It is a medicine prepared for thirty years in the dispensary of women, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the chronic inflammation of the lining membranes which cause such exhausting drains upon the system. It cures nervous prostration, general weakness, nervous debility and all disorders arising from derangement of the female organs and functions.

Mrs. Jennie Williams, of Mohawk, Lane Co., Ore., writes: "I was sick for over three years with blind dizziness, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such a weak tired feeling when I first got up in the morning, and at times nervous shudders."

The physician differed as to what my disease was, and I was told that I was of them did me any good. As soon as I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I began to feel better. I began to sleep well, and at night, and I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took in all three bottles of 'Prescription' and two of 'Discovery.'"
