DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. Officers Placed in Nomination on Tues day Evening. The Democrats of the city assembled Tuesday night in Music hall, South Main street. There was a fair attend-ance, but the convention lacked enthu-siasm. F. M. Nealon, the chairman of the city committee, having called the convention to order, J. E. Brennan, the secretary, read the call for the convention. B. A. Kelley was made tempor-ary chairman, and in a short speech dwelt upon the responsibility that devolved upon the citizens through their delegates in placing for nomination men of ability and integrity-he hoped the best man would win. The delegates were asked to present their credentials The delegates the only contest being in the Fourth district. Third ward. A committee on credentials was named and the two sets of delegates appeared before them. viz.: Michael Doogan and Joseph Alex-ander, Robert Sloane and Thomas Fox; the committee decided they were en-titled to half a vote each. The delega-tion being in order, Mr. Kelly was made permanent chairman. The permanent secretary, in a short speech, placed in nomination one to be their standard bearer, whose integrity and honesty had never been questioned, one that would carry the duties of the office with credit to the city; he named J. .. O'Neill, esq., and it was made unani-mous. For city controller J. ... Wheeler was nominated, and for city treas-urer Patrick F. Connor. The choice of the convention for city assessors were James Pidgeon, William Peet and J. J.

The Base Ball Prospects.

At the board of trade rooms Tuesday evening a few base ball enthusiasts met and talked of the prospects of a Carbondale club in the Base Ball State league next season. Owing to the small number present, no definite action was taken, but those present were determined that a league should be formed and franchises awarded with greater care and discrimination.

The Public Library

The centractor, Mr. Edgett, has the work well in hand; the walls have been papered and the first floor lower room of the city building, when finished, win a comfortable and accessible room the purpose specified. The city of Carbondale has stood long in need of this great boon, and it only needs to be opened to be appreciated.

A Horse for $10

C. G. Evans, the merchant tailor of North Main street, had determined to dispose by chance of his fine roadster, Mollie," and a complete outfit for driving purposes. City to remember that two councilmen are to be elected. Nine-tenths of the people of Forest City wanted to see a franchise granted to the Traction com-pany. The other one-tenth had the council on their side, though, and we have had to walk half a mile to take an electric car whenever we wanted to go to Carbondale as a result. Maybe we will get the road this year, if we see to it that men are put in office who will represent the majority of the people instead of carrying out their own sweet the following resolution was unantmously adopted:

Whereas, The Archbald Water company have decided to increase their rates to per cent, which, in the opinion of a large number of their patrons, is excessive and unwarranted, as the only reason assigned for their action is the fact that no dividends have as yet been declared on stock, which can be explained readily as the demand for water has been beyond their capacity to supply, which has caused the erection of storage dams, extension of pipe
