WANTED HIS WATCH.

The Course of Love Did Not Run Smooth in D. P. Elliot's Case.

D. P. Elicott, of Simpson, appeared at the office of the alderman of the First ward, W. R. Baker, last week where he alleged that his sweetheart. Annie Henry, had obtained from him by deceit, fraud and false pretense a gold watch with Waltham movement, No. 4.926.161, and case No. 334.428, and did convert same to her own use and that after repeated requests she refused to return the same On Saturday evening last Constable Faulkner had Miss Faulkner before the alderman and the matter was adjusted and the alderman made out an order for the return of the watch which had been handed by Miss Henry to Jeweler Burr to engrave her initials thereon.

Mr. Prentice preached a thoughful discourse from Joly xiv, 14: "If a man die, shall he live again." The interment took place in the Waymart cemetery.

Old Butler Mine to Be Reopened.

W. W. Watkins, of South Wyoming street, is just now organizing a com-pany with the purpose of re-sinking the old Butler mine, top of Belmont. This mine has been worked by several companies and it afforded employment for a great number of our citizens. The owners of this valuable property, Stroud & Cham-berlain, are about leasing it to the new company. Practical miners say that there are several veins untouched.

Kindergarten Work.

Mrs. Lucretia Willard Treat, of Michigan, is expected in the city very soon to lecture upon kindergarten work. She appears to be visiting the city at the instance of Mrs. Meaker. The subject is of great interest to all, especially educationists, and Mrs. Treat is of the most celebrated authorities upon the subject. It is to be hoped that the lecture will be well patronized.

Mr. William Law took the floor and read an extract which he had caused to have printed in the Archbald Citizen setting forth Distr reasons for Citizen, setting forth their reasons for so doing. After a lively discussion Mr. Law was finally asked if the advance was final to which he replied that it was. He further stated that the com-pany had not received any dividend from their investments and if any of the citizens thought there was a bonanza in it at the former prices he would furnish them stock in the com-pany for one hundred and five, and, if they wished, enough stock to make them one of the directors. A motion was introduced and carried that a committee of five be appointed to procure water from other sources and report it the same place on Saturday evening. Jan. 25. The committee were C. H. LERAYSVILLE.

The question which may arise to many of the Tribune's readers as to where the above "Cap" is situated, bears a little explanation. LeRays-ville is a borough situated in the eastern part of Bradford county near the Susquehanna county line; it is sixteen miles southeast of Towanda and has a daily stage line from that town, also from Laceyville and Rumerfield, on the Lehigh Valley, and Nichols, N. Y., which is situated on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. This little "burg" with about 450 in-habitants beasts of having trade from the most thriving farming country. ARCHBALD

After a long illnes John McAuvick, of Pine street, died yesterday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Michael Kearney. Mr. McAuvick was about 45 years old. He was born in Wayne county and came here with his parents about thirty-live years ago. Mr. Mc-Auvick was a brother of William Mc-Auvick, of Scranton, and Mrs. Michael Kearney, Mrs. John Pender, Miss Bridget McAuvick and Patrick McAuvick, all of this place. The deceased was a quiet and industrious man, whose upright character won and retained many o'clock, Intermet Catholic cemetery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Caw-ley, of Pine street. It was not general-ly known that the young lady was siek. and the announcement of her death was therefore received with mingled sorrow and surprise. The deceased had just passed her eighteenth year and her brief career gave promise of a noble womanhood, but death, the inevitable, claimed her, and she was obliged to respond. Miss Cawley's death may be traced to an attack of diphtheria two years ago, which so weakened her that she had been in rather delicate health since. Miss Cawley took considerable interest in church work and was a member of the Angels' work and was a member of the Angels sodality and other societies connected with St. Thomas' church. The time at which the funeral will be held has not yet been fixed, and will probably not be until her brother, Rev. M. H. Cawley, of Jacksonville, Ill., is heard from. Archbald Conclave of Heptasophs will hold a banquet and social at Odd Fellows' and Moyles' hall on Thursday night. Following is the programme arranged for the banquet: Music on night.
