TO MANUFACTURE NEW GUNS.

General Flagler Submits Estimates of Appropriations Required.

Washington, Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the senate committee on coast defenses today, General Flagler, chief of ordnance, United States army, submitted estimates as to the amount required in addition to the appropriations made for the present fiscal year for the run-ning of the Watervliet gun factory. also as to the authority required to make contracts for material during the present fiscal year. His estimate for the next fiscal year made July last for his department was $5,327,578. His pres-ent estimate for prosecuting the work for the next fiscal year in all the branches of his department to the full capacity of existing facilities of all kinds and providing for working the shops sixteen hours per day, is $18,589,-877. This includes the amount named in his July estimate.

General Flagler gave the committee information as to progress of development of the various inventions and improvements relating to artillery and coast defenses made during the past twenty-five years; he stated that the advance in improvements of this char-acter since 1870 has been as great as had taken place in the fifty-five years previous to that time (or between 1815 and 1870). To meet present require-ments all the guns and mortars must be of new and modern character. He stated that very little had yet been done in this direction owing to lack of sufficient appropriations. That the plans of his bureau are fully prepared for gun carriages and other appliances as well as for guns and mortars, even to the extent of being able to supply a suitable disappearing carriage for the 12-inch in place of the expensive lift

He strongly impressed on the committee the necessity of providing for the manufacture of 16-inch guns, which is now fully apparent, although up to the present time no appropriation has been made for the production of one of the proposed 16-inch guns. He strongly im-pressed on the committee the importance of immediately commencing the construction of a type of gun of this

DEATH CURES A CORN.

Jerseyman Cuts His Toe Off and Dies of Blood Poisoning.

New York, Jan. 14.--Charles Heinz mann, 25 years old, of Union Hill, N. J., dled from blood poisoning following amputation of the small toe of his left foot, in order to rid himself of a troublefoot, in order to rid himself of a trouble-some corn, friends having jokingly told him that was the only way in which he could cure the corn. He did not in-form his young wife nor his parents of his intention, however, fearing they would restrain him, but two weeks ago he procured a butcher's cleaver, and, placing his left foot on a block of wood, chopped off his toe at the first joint.

After the amputation he carelessly bound up the stump in a piece of cloth, and, as the toe did not receive proper attention blood poisoning set in. He

GUARD AGAINST INDIANS.

Old Couple in the Hoosier State Possessed of a Singular Notion.

Wabash, Ind., Jan. 14.—Two miles west of Rich Valley, this county, lives an old couple who cook, eat and sleep in one room, and who have their team of horses in one end of the squalid apartment. A day or so ago a passerby, Abe Shilling, entered the place and found the pair alone, with their horses tied to the posts of their bed. An ugly looking shot gun stood near the door at half cock.

The people greeted Shilling very coldly and he didn't tarry. They are said to be possessed of the hallucination that Indians are running at large over the country, and for that reason have collected their belongings all in one room. an old couple who cook, eat and sleep
