CITY NOTES.

John G. McAfee has been chosen secretary of the Scranton Fire Underwriters' association.

There will be an art exhibition and New England supper in the Datto Methodist Episcopal church this evening.

The eighth quarterly meeting of the Interstate Homeopathic association took place yesterday at Binghamton.

James Hurley, of Orchard street, is the holder of the lucky ticket which won the hand-painted dinner set valued at $60 at the Sheridan fair.

The Mess Rouse social club will give a prize prize and social at Senley hall tomorrow evening. The grand march will take place at 11 o'clock.

Joseph Tomera, of Princeton, was committed to the county jail by United States Commissioner Colburn for taking from a postoffice a letter which did not belong to him.

The funeral of Miss Mary Cawley, of Archbold, will take place this morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Thomas church, Archbold, at 10 o'clock, and interment will afterward be made in the Catholic cemetery.

W. W. Watson, acting for Scranton capitalists and coal men, purchased for $200,000 at sheriff's sale the colliery of the Chamberlain coal company at Port Jervis, yesterday. The Chamberlain company is composed of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre parties.

A charter has been granted to the Artisans' Building and Loan association of this city. It has a capital of $10,000. The directors are: J. J. Campbell, Fred Wagner, James C. Vaughaun, O. B. Partridge, B. B. McKearney, M. J. Kelly, B. L. Carlsen, F. E. May, A. J. Collins, Henry T. Kitchener, C. T. Boland, E. J. McNally and L. R. Squire.

James Sweeney, of Carbondale, underwent an operation at the Lackawanna hospital yesterday which resulted in the removal of his right eye. Two or three months ago a piece of steel struck him in the eye, and it was necessary to remove the eye, and the operation was performed by Dr. Frey, who found a small piece of steel imbedded in the posterior part of the organ.

annulation, and elected as temporary chairman William Hackett, of Easton, and as temporary secretary William H. Peck, of this city.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Bankers' association will be held at the Hotel Hamilton in Philadelphia on the 22d, 23d and 24th inst.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

The Mackay Opera company that opens a week's engagement at the Academy on Thursday next will present a number of operas of recognized ability, the cast comprising such favorites as Louise Moore, Fessie Burton, Emma Richards, Marie Farnham, Danieles, Frank Nelson, Jules Cluzette, Frank Moulin and Lee Dougherty.

The "Killarney" which will be presented at the Davis theater the last three days of the week, is a beautiful comedy-drama of most intense interest, combining all the elements of a popular success.

Theater-goers will have a treat next Saturday night, when the clever company presenting "The Merry Widow" will play in the evening. The dramatic portions are deftly sandwiched with the humorous, and the sensational episodes awake interest. The strongest scene is the great bond robbery takes place.

AFTER MR. MORGAN.

Others Want the Minister Scranton Hoped to Possess.

The popularity of Rev. Charles T. Morgan, of Philadelphia, and the difficulty which may be experienced by the Penn avenue Baptist church in securing him for its pastor, is indicated in the following paragraph from Monday's Philadelphia Ledger: "At a meeting of the First Baptist society in Haverhill, Mass., yesterday a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Charles T. Morgan, pastor of the Spring Garden street church, of Philadelphia."

The Penn avenue church of this city very recently extended a call to Mr. Morgan, but it was not at all certain that he could be engaged. It was feared that his well-known ability and characteristics so peculiarly fitting him for a strong pastorate would encourage other congregations in their endeavor to secure him. Consequently the news is not unexpected that the Haverhill church, which is described as having a large and influential congregation, has made a bid for the man the Penn avenue people hoped to possess.

If Mr. Morgan fails to choose Scranton, his decision will be all the more unfortunate to the city at large that to the immediately interested Penn avenue congregation.

IS SOMETHING NEW.

The American Public, Holding Standard Course Tickets, Look to It.

The simple title "Miss Jerry" which described last night's number on the catalogue of the 1895-96 standard course at the Young Men's Christian association tells undoubtedly how the compilers of the catalogue failed to conceive a brief manner of giving an idea of what the entertainment is like and in demand simply not down "Miss Jerry."

The audience at Young Men's Christian association hall last night was as large as the hall would accommodate and its hearty appreciation must have been very gratifying to Mr. Hark. The story, pictures and the reading shared equally in the applause.

SCRANTON CLUB MEETING.

Proposed by Laws Are to Be Discussed Saturday Night.

A call has been issued by Major J. W. Oakford, secretary of the Scranton club for a meeting of club members Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the board of trade rooms.

The meeting will take action on the proposed by-laws. What other business may be transacted has not been learned.

HUYLER'S COCOA AND CHOCOLATES are unsurpassed for their purity and deliciousness of flavor. All grocers.

BAILEY NAMED FOR MAYOR

Told a Tribune Reporter That He Would Not Accept.

BOLAND FOR CITY TREASURER.

Work of Yesterday's City Convention. Mr. Bailey Will Meet Boland, Robinson and Others This Morning to Discuss the Situation.

No tamer convention was ever held by the Democrats of the city than that which convened in Masonic hall yesterday. The candidates nominated a city ticket. The candidates chosen were: Mayor—James G. Bailey, Treasurer—Christopher J. Boland, Controller—Donald J. Robinson, Assessors—James T. White, of Providence; Charles Voss, of the West Side; and D. P. Battle, of the South Side.

At 2:25 the curtain at Music hall was raised and D.W. Vaughan, acting chairman of the city committee, and Attorney M. P. Sandoz, secretary, announced the stage. Mr. Vaughan made no remarks in calling the convention to order, but contenting himself with instructing Secretary Sandoz to read the call for the convention. This done credentials were called for. Attorney John M. Corbett assisted Secretary Sandoz in the work of receiving and recording them.

There was a large crowd present though not so many as thronged the hall a week before at the Republican convention. It was a strangely orderly crowd for a city convention. No waves of enthusiasm ebbed or flowed across the convention hall and the "glad hand" was not once given to any of the candidates. Usually at such gatherings the appearance of a man of any renown in the city is a matter of great interest, but yesterday's convention was unusually silent and cold.

Several Contests Instituted.

At 2:45 the credentials were all in the possession of the secretaries and Mr. Sandoz read the call for the convention. The following contests were announced: Sixth ward—Second district—Stephen Gaggins, of the West Side, against the third district, Patrick O'Hara contested by J. P. Kelly.

Eleventh ward—Third district contested by John Schwenk. Thirtieth ward—Third district, John Holleran, of the West Side, against the second district, Patrick O'Hara. Chairman Vaughan said he was ready to hear nominations for temporary chairman and Robert Toole, of the sixteenth ward, nominated Edward J. Givens, of the eleventh ward, who was also nominated and declined and Mr. Blewitt was unanimously chosen.

There was much applause as Mr. Blewitt accepted the nomination. The delegates for the honor conferred upon him and called for nominations for secretaries. Attorney M. J. Donahoe and Attorney Charles A. Murton were elected without opposition. Mr. Blewitt then appointed the following committees: Resolutions—A. P. O'Boyle, M. J. Donahoe, William J. Burke, Nathan Vidaver, F. J. Fitzsimmons.

Resolutions Adopted.

The Democracy of the city of Scranton, in convention assembled, renews its allegiance to the principles of the great party founded by George Washington, and though other parties may come and go, so long as they are not inimical to the principles of the great party, we will support them.

We take pleasure in commending the manly and patriotic by-law proposed by the Young Men's Christian association of the city of Scranton, and we believe it is the duty of every citizen and every patriotic citizen to support it.

We deplore and denounce the methods used by our opponents in this city in their attempt to gain control, as such means are calculated to defeat the popular form of government which the Republic is founded on.

heart the preservation of the purity and stability of our form of government, local and national, to put the seal of their approval on the good and honest and patriotic practice. It is needless to call any further attention to the character of the and shameless exploitation of the corrupt use of money power that has been witnessed in the recent Republican primaries in this city.

We pledge the hearty support of this convention to the candidates who shall be placed in nomination here today.

Bailey Named for Mayor.

Chairman Blewitt said they had now reached the important work of the convention and called the nominations for mayor. Attorney Nathan Vidaver took the floor and in a speech embellished with theatrical effects named James G. Bailey for the office. He spoke of this as the opportunity of Democracy and said that he branded as false the statements that they were without candidates. There were plenty of candidates, who were willing to accept nomination and it remained for the convention to decide upon the most available ones.

Who is the man that stands out prominently among the many mentioned for mayor? the man who will be supported by the solid Democracy? Who is this man, I ask?

Mr. O'Boyle replied for a moment with finger poised in air and then a delegate to his left who knew his business shouted "James G. Bailey."

Mr. O'Boyle cried "Victor ever resuming the thread of his address. 'You anticipated me but you're right! That's the man I would name and if the united voice of the Democracy is in favor of the nomination he will accept.'

The nomination was seconded by A. P. O'Boyle, of Providence, and was accepted by unanimous vote.

For City Treasurer Attorney M. J. Donahoe named C. G. Boland to whose qualifications for that office he paid an eloquent tribute. He said that while Mr. Boland was not a candidate for an office he believed the nomination was made by acclamation.

John Kearney, of the Twelfth ward, nominated his old schoolmate, Edward J. Givens, of the Eleventh ward, for city controller. A. P. O'Boyle, of Providence, and the nomination was made unanimously.

For city assessors the following were nominated: James T. White, of the First ward; James J. Gallagher, of the Third ward; Charles Voss, of the West Side; D. P. Battle, of the Twentieth ward; John C. Doud, of the Nineteenth ward. The first ballot resulted as follows: James T. White, 25; James J. Gallagher, 25; D. P. Battle, 25; Charles Voss, 25; John C. Doud, 25.

SLEEP TO-NIGHT.

Stop Insomnia Before it Becomes a Habit.

Neglected, Shabbily Treated Nerves the Cause.

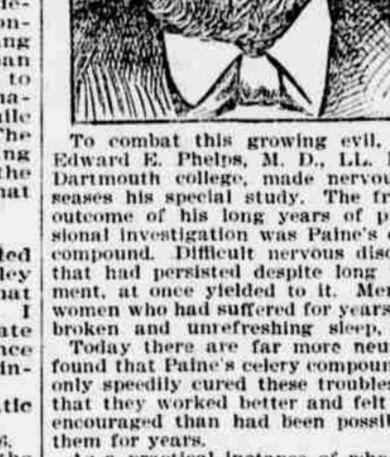

Rev. Dr. Smith of the Age of 86 Loses no More Sleep.

Unbroken Rest Natural to a Fully Nourished Brain.

Paine's Celery Compound Has Never Failed to Cure.

From childhood to old age health is very much a matter of sound, refreshing sleep. No one can digest well, work well, feel well, or be well, who is night after night deprived of good sleep. It is physically impossible for any brain to keep on providing a nervous energy unless the nights are devoted to nourishing its used-up parts. Protracted sleeplessness, where the mind is made feverish and the irritable nervous system, ends in nervous prostration and insanity.

Today there are far more neuragic headaches, far more rheumatism, sleeplessness and nervous prostration than during the last generation.

To combat this growing evil, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, made a nervous disorder his special study. The fruitful outcome of his long years of professional investigation was Paine's celery compound. Difficult nervous disorders that had persisted despite long treatment, at once yielded to it. Men and women who had suffered for years from broken and unrefreshing sleep, from general debility, from nervousness, from indigestion, from all sorts of ailments, found that Paine's celery compound not only speedily cured these troubles, but that they worked better and felt more encouraged than had been possible to them for years.

As a practical instance of what this remarkable remedy is doing all over the country, the following from Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith, of the Age of 86, is given. Dr. Smith is to-day 86 years of age, yet energetic, better health than ever in his life, and never loses a single good night's sleep. He writes:

"Dear Sir—In my early days, by great and prolonged mental suffering, I broke down in health and became a dyspeptic, being obliged at one time to give up my work in the ministry on account of ill-health. I am now 86 years of age, and during my long life have suffered greatly from dyspepsia, torpid liver, constipation and insomnia, at times which the candidates have been invited to meet with the committee appointed to notify them formally of their nominations and to persuade them to accept. The committee consisted of Colonel Frank Fitzsimmons, John Flanagan, Frederick Warnke, M. J. Donahoe, A. P. O'Boyle, Nathan Vidaver and Conrad Lutz.

When asked what action would be taken in case of declination Mr. Blewitt said that the city committee will be appointed forthwith to fill any vacancy or vacancies filled by the committee.

POLITICAL JOTTINGS.

At a Republican caucus held at Dickson city borough on Monday evening the following borough officers were nominated: High constable, Samuel Carls; auditors, John Wieland, John H. Lewis.

POULTRY SHOW TODAY.

Will Open in the Hall Over Samter's Clothing Store. All interested in fine poultry and pet stock will be glad to learn that the finest exhibition ever held in Pennsylvania opens this morning in Samter's hall. The object of the association is not to make money but it is to bring together the finest specimens of poultry and pet stock, thus giving not only themselves but all who attend an opportunity of learning the true standard of perfection.
