CONCERNING BOND ISSUE.

Deposit of Gold is Refused-The Outlook

for a Popular Loan is More Payorable. New York, Jan. 15 .- The fact that the receipts for gold deposited in the sub-treasury to be examined and counted were offered for sale in Wall street led the sub-treasury today to refuse to accept a deposit of $180,000 by Zimmer man & Forshay. The firm thereupor telegraphed to the secretary of the treasury: "We have tendered $180,000 in American gold coin to the sub-treasury here. It refuses to accept it. We want to leave some there for bonds. Must it accept it or not? Please

This reply came late in the day. "The assistant treasurer has no au-thority to receive the gold mentioned in your telegram. No subscriber for bonds should deposit until notified of the acceptance of his bid. See circular of the 9th inst."

of the 5th inst."

Washington, Jan. 15.—The action of J. P. Morgan in dissolving the bond syndicate aroused little attention in the senate when the fact became known through the medium of the United Press bulletin. This action had been discounted and members of the finance committee declined to discuss the ques-tionWhile not talking for publication two or three of the leading members stated their belief that the dissolution of the syndicate meant that the mem-bers forming it intended to bid sepa-rately for the bonds and on the whole the outlook for the popular loan was, perhaps, brighter than it was when the ndicate was in existence.

NO STOP IN RELIEF WORK.

The National Committee Will Go on, Whatever the Red Cross May Do. New York, Jan. 15.-The National Armenian relief committee will not relax its efforts to succor starving Armen-

This official statement has been issued from the headquarters of the relief committee:

"The reported intention of the Turkish government to refuse the American Red Cross society permission to enter Turkey will not cause the National Armenian relief committee and its branches throughout the country to re-lax their efforts for an instant in raising funds to save the 350,000 Armeniwho rae perishing from starvation "The National committee is the authe National committee is the au-thorized agent throughout the country for raising funds and supplies to be dis-tributed by the Red Cross, provided it enters the field, but in case the Red Cross is excluded, the national committee has authority to exercise existing agencies on the ground or organize new ones, so that all contributors may be assured that their gifts will as speedily as possible reach the sufferers for whom they are intended. "Many are not aware of the fact that

"Many are not aware of the fact that relief work to the extent of $100,000 has already been successfully carried out in Turkey the past three months under the direction of a strong and representative committee of foreign residents and diplomats in Constantinople through European consuls, and the Americans who are found in all the principal cities of the interior.

"A letter received from Constantinople dated Dec. 27, states that sixty bales of clothing had been forwared that week to Caesarea, and that, it is now possible to forward large amounts of money safely to those engaged in this work in the devastated regions. The Red Cross could greatly enlarge last three candidates have issued cards amounting their candidacy and expressing their presidential preferences. Zook says he will "vote for either Harrison, Reed, McKinley or Allison." Hershey announces that he 'will vote for Harrison for president as long as his name is before the convention." McKinley is the sheriff's second choice, Harrison is Herr's first choice and McHarrison is Herr's first choice and McHarrison. Harrison is Herr's first choice and Mc Kinley the second.

In Our Own Section. William Connell and John T. Williams have been chosen to represent the Eleventh district. Mr. Connell rendered valuable assistance to the combine in the fight for the state chairman, but he has said that that fight, so far as he is concerned, ended at the last convention. He is now one of Senator Quay's closest friends. Mr. Williams is also a friend of the senator. In Luzerne Congressman John Leisenring is unopposed, and his running mate will be attack.

ring is unopposed, and his running mate will be either Theo. Hart, of Pittston, or a man from Wilkes-Barre.

There will be lively contests in the Schuylkill district for the two delegates to which that county is entitled. Major Sam Losch and "Jack" Whitehouse have been suggested to make the fight for the combine. Ex-Representative D. D. Phillips and Major John F. Finney are the choice of many of the Quay people. There are scarcely two leading politicians in the county in accord and the election of delegates will depend largely upon the individual strength of the candidates and the combination they can make.

The delegates from the Fifteenth district will probably come from Susque-hanna and Wayne counties as the party leaders in Bradford and Wyoming con-cede them that honor. Fred Wright will likely be the choice of Susquehanna county and Senator Hardenbergh, a member of the Philadelphia "Lexow" committee, the representative from Wayne. The aspirants in Bradford are Wayne. The aspirants in Bradford are Representative Floyd L. Kinner and Charles L. Tracey. Fred I. Wheelock, of Wyoming, who was a delegate from the district in 1892, wants to go again. A Fight in the Sixteenth.

There will be a bitter factional con-test in the Sixteenth district between the combine and Quay forces. Attorney General McCormick is supporting Elias Deemer, of Wiliamsport, who is being opposed by Henry C. Parsons, a prominent member of the Lycoming county bar and a sturdy follower of Senator Quay. Ex-Congressman Hop-kins, who carried Clinton county against the combine in the fight last summer, and H. J. Landers, of Wellsboro, are also candidates. The indications are that Parsons and Hopkins will be the delegates in spite of the opposition of delegates in spite of the opposition of the attorney general and that Landers will be the elector. Indications point to the election of U. Y. James, of Danville, and C. E. Geyer, of Catawissa, in the Seventeenth district. Their opposites are well. district. Their opponents are W. K. Holloway, of Danville; W. B. Faust, Mt. Carmel, and J. H. Wagner, Watsontown. Jere B. Rex, of Huntingdon, secretary of the state Republican com-mittee, and resident clerk of the house of representatives, is reasonably sure of being chosen as one of the delegates from the Eighteenth district. Captain John A. Seiders, of Chambersburg, is Franklin county's choice, but as the congressman from the district lives in that county his chances of election are not encouraging to his friends. Union not encouraging to his friends. Union and Snyder will make a hard fight for the other delegate with the prospects in favor of the former.

Charles H. Mullin, of Mt. Holly, the Quay leader in Cumberland county: Dr. James A. Dale, of York, secretary of the state fish commission, and a combine lieutenant; Robert A. Shetter, of York, a Quay supporter; S. L. Hines, of McSherrystown, the largest individof McSherrystown, the largest individ-ual cigar manufacturer in the state; W. A. Hines, New Oxford, and W. B. Mcenny, Gettysburg, are rival candilin and Dale are admitted by both fac-tions to have the best chances, although Shetter is giving the fish commissioner the hardest fight of his political career.

The Outlook in Alleghony. Chris L. Magee and Senator Flinn are reasonably certain of being chosen to represent the Twenty-second district, although they will be given a hard fight by the Quayites in Pittsburg. There is no opposition to Congressman William no opposition to Congressman winam A. Stone and Robert A. McAfee, of Ane-gheny, in the Twenty-third district. Both are warm friends of Senator Quay. There are a number of candidates in each of the four counties in the Twentieth district, and matters are in such chaotic shape that nobody can tell at this time what will be the result. tell at this time what will be the result. The fight for congress and senator will figure in the contest in the Twenty-first district. The candidates for delegates are Harry Denney, Ligonier; Major Joseph G. Beale, Leechburg; John M. Leech, Indiana, and John Wick, of Armstrong, All the candidates are friends of Senator Quay. Denney's chances are very good, and Wilson is almost certain to win, as he Wilson is almost certain to win, as he

Wilson is almost certain to win, as he has the support of the party leaders in Jefferson and Armstrong counties.

The delegates from the Twenty-fourth district will come from Fayette and Greene counties. Ex-Representative John R. Bryne, a Quay supporter, is the choice of Fayette, Greene has not yet made its selection. The elector from this district will come from that from this district will come from that part of Allegheny county embraced within its borders. Washington county within its borders. Washington county has the congressman and is satisfied with this distribution of the honors. Senator Quay will be a delegate from the Twenty-fifth district through the courtesy of the party leaders of Lawrence and Butler, who have practically agreed to waive their claim for the honor. The other delegates will either be Simon Perkins, of Sharon, or ex-Conbe Simon Perkins, of Sharon, or ex-Con-gressman McDowell, of Mercer, chief clerk of the national house of representatives, either of whom is satisfactory to Senator Quay.

Joseph Johnson, of Erie, is the choice Joseph Johnson, of Erie, is the choice of the party leaders of that county for one of the delegates from the Twenty-sixth district. Senator Andrews, chairman of the Philadelphia "Lexow" committee, may be chosen to represent Crawford county. Venango and Warren will send the delegates from the Twenty-seventh district, which also includes McKean and Cameron. ExSenator O. C. Allen, of Warren, is the choice of that county. Venango has not yet made its selection.

Harry R. Wilson, of Clarion, will be one of the delegates from the Twenty-eighth district. He has been endorsed by the Clarion county Republicans and by the Clarion county Republicans and has the support of Senator Quay. Gov-ernor Hastings is talked of for the other ernor Hastings is talked of for the other delegate and will probably be chosen. James Reed, of Elk, and A. E. Patton, of Clearfield, are candidates. Reed has the better chance and will be chosen if the governor is not a candidate. From the governor is not a candidate. From this review it wil be seen that Senator Quay and the Pennsylvania delegation

With an increase of 1,070,-898 tons in anthracite and bituminous coal tonnage, there was an increase in transportation earnings of only $79,317, while an increase in miscellaneous freights of 1,166,740 tons shows increased earnings of $566,204. The latter tonnage, which was about 25 per cent, greater than in that of 1894, would have been still larger, the report says, but for the lack of cars and motive power. Y., on which he has been at work for many years, and the great plant is in running order. The scheme is an interesting one, in that there is no human intervention during the entire process from start to finish.
When the cars of ore and rock are dumped in large masses into the massive crushers that form the first step in the process the rest of the process is entirely automatic, the crushed rock and ore being carried automatically from one set of crushers to another by means of endless belts and bucket ele means of endless belts and bucket ele-vators, till the material is reduced to the requisite fineness, and then another series of belts and elevators carry it to the separating house, where the mate-rial falls in a fine stream across a field of large electro magnets, which divert the iron from the direct line of fall and drop it into one receptacle, while the refuse and rock fall into another. Au-tomatic carriers take the iron ore tomatic carriers take the iron ore thence to the bricking plant, where, by ingenious mechanism, over which the great inventor has spent thousands of dollars in experimentation, the ore is mixed with binding material and pressed into small brick for convenience in handling. These are then baked and are ready for market.

Pittston Item: Simpson & Watkins have changed their plans of sinking the main shaft at the Mt. Lookout colliery while a new breaker is being erected. The sinking of the other shaft will be the only work carried on in the mean-time. Work has already been given to man living in the common leving and men living in the company houses and large wagons have been secured to transport the men to the Forty Fort and Duryea, where they are employed. The work of rebuilding will occupy at least five months. The best time ever made on reconstructing a breaker was at No. 3 Plymouth, which was completed in 100 days. HORRORS OF SUPERSTITION.

From the Chicago News. Under the early English law two furies were present in the interests of the accuser and the accused. The ordeal the accused went through was as lows: After three days' of fasting and prayer a caldron was made to boil in church and a stone was dropped in it. Both juries tested the water and when they agreed it boiled the accused bared they agreed it boiled the accused bared his arm and took out his stone. His arm was then wrapped in a cloth an sealed up. On the third day it was unwrapped and if perfectly healed he was innocent and allowed to go. Another method was to carry a bar of red-hot iron a certain distance. It is suggested that the clergy had a server method for that the clergy had a secret method for curing burns.

In southern India in the last century In southern India in the last century native Christians would hold the arm in boiling oil and come out scathless. This is testified to by foreign priests. One woman whose husband was intensely jealous at last said she would go through the oil ordeal to prove to him she was innocent. Her husband himself heated the oil to the boiling point and she kept her arm in it till be said and she kept her arm in it till he said she might remove it. The arm was un-harmed and the woman claimed that the oil felt like tepid water. It is known that the human hand can be plunged used by the men who go through the fire ordeal.

In Fiji a recent traveler not only saw but photographed the natives walking barefoot over hot coals. The fillets of grass about their ankles were not even

At Pondicherry in Bouchet's time there was a very disagreeable ordeal. A deadly snake and a ring were in-closed in a hollow ball and the accused had to rescue the ring without being bitten by the snake. A substituted ring probably saved many lives.

If in the hours of clear wisdom we should speak the severest truth, we should say that we had never made a sacrifice.
