THE WORLD OF BUSINESS

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 17.—This was an unusually dull day at the Stock Exchange. The transactions aggregated 113,150 shares. The dealings were almost entirely professional and the movements in quotations exceedingly erraite. Generally speaking, the market ruled higher during the first hair day and lowed toward the close. In the early improvement Manhattan, Tobacco, Sugar, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Jersey Central were most conspicuous. The gains in thes varied from % to 1% percent. As the day advanced the street seemed to have renewed apprehension as to the effect upon the local money market of the prospective payments for the new government loan. At any rate the talk to this effect was made the pretext for a raid upon the market and prices declined all around. The bears were most successful in the case of the Industrials, Leather, preferred, selling down 2%, to 65%; Colorado Fuel and Iron, 1% to 29%, and Manhattan, 1% to 39%. The railroad list yielded ½ to 1%, the latter in Rock Island, and the market left off dull and rather weak in tone. Net changes, show losses of ½ to -% per cent. Lake Shore and Southern Railway, preferred, leading. The loss in the Industrials ranged from % to 2½ per cent.

The Waterbury Board of aldermen has passed a resolution criticising the poor train service of the New England road and has appointed a committee of city officers to appeal to the New Haven city officers to appeal to the New Haven railroad managers. The New Haven officera, in reply to similar complaints elsewhere along the New England road in regard to changes in the passenger service, have replied that on taking control of the New England road they found that the passenger service did not pay for itself and that the reductions were compelled as a matter of economy.

The Baltimore and Ohio directors at their meeting Wednesday took no ac-tion on either the presidency or the proposed change in the management of the road, both being laid over for the February meeting.

MUSICAL MATTERS.

Professor Tallie Morgan, who will to-morrow take charge of the music at Washington Square Methodist church, New York city, is probably one of the best choir masters in this valley. Mr. Morgan became first known as a choir leader at Simpson Methodist Episco-pal church, where he successfully con-ducted the music for some time. He was subsequently employed at the Providence Baptist church; the Provi-dence Methodist church and at the Plymouth Congregational church. For the past two years Mr. Morgan has had charge of the music at the First Prescharge of the music at the First Pres-byterian church and has been very suc-cessful in keeping the chorus choir to-gether. Perhaps Mr. Morgan's great-est work was the organization of the choir for the Mills meetings. These meetings were held during the World's fair, at a time when 1,000 of our best known vocalists had been selected to compete for the great surize at the Chicompete for the great prize at the Chi-cago elsteddfod. When a can was made for a chorus of 600 additional voices to take part in the Mills meet-ings several choir leaders in the city refused to undertake the task of organizing such a chorus, declaring that it would be an impossibility. Mr. Mor-gan, however, finally consented to try gan, however, finally consented to try the experiment of gathering a chorus from the highways and by-ways, and went actively at the work about six weeks before the opening of the revival meetings. A chorus of 500 voices was organized, and the majority of the singers were unknown in chorus work. The success of the venture is best evidenced in the statement of Evangelist Mills. in the statement of Evangelist Mills, who said that it was the best chorus that had ever furnished music for his meetings. From this chorus was or-ganized the association that presented the "Fall of Babylon" at the Frothingham some months later. During his career as choir leader Mr. Morgan has had marked success in keeping his chorus singers interested in their work, which has doubtless been a great aid in

The Mackay Opera company, which is presenting popular operas at the Academy of Music at popular prices, is an organization of more than usual merit. The company includes a nummerit. The company includes a num-ber of excellent principals, two really funny comedians and a large and effi-cient chorus, whose vocal efforts are more successful than their claims to beauty. The company is a nearer ap-proach to the old Bennett & Moulton standard of excellence than that of any standard of excellence than that of any organization that has been seen here of recent years. Manager Mackay's idea has very evidently been to present the different operas in such a manner as to provide as much merriment as possible, and he has succeeded very well. The costumes are good and in every way the company is superior to any popular priced comic opera company that has appeared here for several years. At the matinee this afternoon Gilbert & Sullivan's "Pirates of Pen-zance" will be sung, and at the evening performance the bill will be "Oli-musical achievements, and it is prob-

Alfred Wooler, tenor at Elm Park Methodist church, is becoming promi-nent as a song writer. His sentimental nent as a song writer. His sentimental compositions are equal to the best English ballads published and ought to make the writer celebrated. "Sweet Little Mary," recently published by Ditson & Co., has already had a large sale, and he has several other meritorious compositions that have not yet been published, which will no doubt be received with equal favor. received with equal favor.

George Noyes Rockwell, the well-known organist and composer, has adopted a novel method of securing a new collection of original hymns for church service. Mr. Rockwell began on Jan. 1 writing one hymn a day, and now has a collection of seveteen tune-ful melodies. At the end of the year he proposes to make selections from the list, which will be embodied in a book of original hymns.

Sousa's band is now on a tour through Oregon and California. The band will return to New York in time to play the usual summer engagement at Manhattan beach. While on this tour Sõusa's band will visit Scranton. The manager promises the best entertainment this season that has been given by this popular musical organization.

By special request the Christmas choruses will be repeated by the choir of the Penn Avenue Baptist church at THE MAGAZINES.

To put the record of the world's progress for a month into a magazine of fifty-six pages requires careful condensation; but the makers of the publication called The Progress of the World are doing it right along. Their January number has departments chronicling the salient achievements in history, politics, science, mechanics, commerce, agriculture, finance, literature, religion, ari—in fact, every recognized and creditable department of human endeavor. Many portraits of notable men, as for instance Cleveland, Oiney and Salisbury in connection with the Venezuelan complication, and Justices Peckham, Field, Grey, White, Brewer, Harian, Brown and Fuller in connection with the reorganization of the United States Supreme court, appear in its pages, and there are also several illustrations, notably those of different types of horseless carriages. This publication is exceedingly instructive.

This brings us, as a matter of course, to Chap-Book itself. Mr. Bok has been telling the public that these saucy little 5-cent magazinelets don't sell any more; but so far as Chap-Book is concerned he must be mistaken. We see copies of it in enough hands in Scranton—copies that have been bought and paid for—to convince us that if this ratio keeps up the country over its fortnightly sales must be considerable. And why not? For the price of a bad cigar one who buys the current Chap-Book can get, in neat print and handy form, a brilliant series of little essays by Zangwill, a clever story by Clyde Fitch; three drawings that are probably as good as

We often wonder, when we see and hear such things, how the other half of the world lives, especially when so many spend their money, and, worst of all, their vitality, in smoking cigarettes. If you don't think cigarettes, in fact, any form of tobacco-using hurts you, watch the cigarette smoker who has indulged the habit for some time. See how his hands tremble; the anxious look on his face tells of irregular heartbeat; his nervousness betrays itself in a dozen ways. If you are a cigarette smoker, you are never feeling quite at ease unless you are puffing a stinking little nerve wrecker.

Sterling Remedy Co.:
I bought a box of No-To-Bac three weeks ago, from your agents here—Kirkland & Trowbridge—and it cured me in less than one week, since which time I have recommended it to several others, and have induced at least half a dozen to begin the treatment, all of whom say it is helping them.
I weighed 155 pounds when I begun the treatment and now I weigh 163—a gain of eight pounds within three weeks. I am 24 years of age and have used cigarettes and chewing tobacco since I was 12 years of age, smoking on an average for the last five years of about twenty-five cigarettes a day.

Yours respectfully, what was formerly the Social Economis' now appears in enlarged form as Gunton's Magazine of American Economics and Political Science. The first (or January) number since the change comprises eighty pages, treating of such themes as these: "Philosophy of the Monroe Doctrine;" "The President's Financial Plant." "The Banks and the Greenbacks;" "Retire the Greenbacks Without Issuing Bonds;" "Non-Partisan Politics;" "The Reed-Dingley Revenue Bill;" "Negroes Under Northern Conditions." Another strong feature is the department headed "Economics in the Magazines," which is a digest of important papers in other periodicals. Professor Gunton, the editor, is a sterling protectionist, and has no superior as an economist in this country. one which will command widest attention from the mass of readers is Dr. Sterling Wines' careful monograph on "Hypnotic Suggestion and Crime." The conclusion which he draws from the experiments of others, supplemented by his own experience, is that while some danger probably exists with regard to those already criminal or vicious, and in whom a latent propensity for evil is capable of being called into play, yet with those of sound moral principles and previous rectitude of life there is no just cause for apprehending mischief as a result of hypnotic suggestion.

Beginning with its issue for Jan. 1 the New York weekly "journal of protest," Chips, which is modeled in contents after the better-known Chicago Chap-Book, resumes the monthly style of publication and gets itself up to look like Chap-Book—with this exception, that it is more attractive in appearance, thanks to black-and-red cover design, black-and-white interior designs, marginal illustrations, and a gorgeous white-and-black-and-red full-page pictorial "impression" of "the girl page pictoria! "impression" of "the girl of '%," the latter done by Thomas M. Peirce. In Chips' handsome twenty-four pages there are many clever, quaint and conceited things, so well varied as to give almost any reader his 5 cents' worth.

The January Ev'ry Month contains, as usual, as its principal feature—music; four delightful compositions, in which are included an exquisitely tender ballad by Charles Miller, entitled "Will Jack Ever Come Back;" a lively scottische of southern tone, by Maryland, called "Old Massa's Birthday;" "On the Rialto," a march two-step, by Will C. Carleton, and a love-song of true merit, entitled "Their Golden Honeymoon." The magazine contains some fifty illustrations of popular interest, and reading matter of varied and charming character.

The January McClure, in addition to its The January McClure, in addition to its Lincoln life, which is rapidly growing in interest, contains a notable paper by Murat Halstead giving reminiscences of James G. Blaine. Mr. Halstead shows by hitherto unpublished correspondence that, in '84, Mr. Blaine did not want the presidential nomination, but instead tried hard to induce General W. T. Sherman to take it. After the election he took his defeat philosophically, blaming it on Burchard and the weather. The article is well worth reading.

The Popular Science News, published at 19 Liberty street, New York, has been very considerably enlarged and improved by its present conductor, Benjamin Liiby its present conductor, Benjamin Lilliard. The January issue comprises twenty-four pages, with new departments on electricity and invention. This is the only journal of popular science in the United States of any account, and it is a publication which ought to be in every household. It literally covers the whole circle of scientific progress, month by month, in understandable fashion, for only a dollar a year.

The Ladies' Home Ideal, published at 403 Main street, Vincennes, Ind., is a carefully edited and very interesting monthly magazine for the home. The January number contains many things of profit and useful-
