ANNUAL POLICE REPORT.

Less Arrests in 1895 Than During the Preceding Year. It will be a source of gratification to Scrantonians to learn that in addition to the fact that this city is growing healthier as it grows larger, it is also growing morally healthier, as the subjoined tables and comparisons will show.

There should be a decrease in crime last year as compared with the year previous is remarkable, but a fact, nevertheless. In 1894, according to Chief Simpson's report, there were 2,174 arrests, in 1895 there were 2,045, a decrease of 129. Drunkenness and its attendant crimes, disorderly conduct and fighting, which constituted the greater part of the offenses, also showed a marked decrease.

Table with 2 columns: Category and 1894. Categories include Total arrests, Drunkenness, Disorderly conduct, Fighting, Fines.

Details of the Report. The details of the report for 1895, which follow, will be found to be of interest. Whole number of arrests, 2,045; males, 1,812; females, 233; native born, 1,237; foreign born, 808; for drunkenness, 707; for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 396; for fighting, 163; for vagrancy, 10.

Remaining 638 arrests were made for one or the other of the following greatly varied array of crimes and misdemeanors.

Inmates of disorderly houses, disorderly conduct, inmates of houses of ill fame, proprietors of disorderly houses, larceny, proprietors of houses of ill fame, receiving stolen goods, officer, assault and battery, interfering with officer, abusing family, felonious wounding, false pretenses, defrauding witnesses, carrying concealed weapons, insulting, discharging firearms, assault with intent to kill, highway robbery, skipping bail, obstructing sidewalks, gambling rooms, gambling, shoplifting, picking pockets, abusing parents, insanity, threatening, cruelty to animals, robbery, riot, attempted larceny, passing bogus money, house breaking, fast driving, faking, reckless driving, suspicion of robbery, suspicious character, skipping bail, obstructing sidewalks, arson, manslaughter, assault on officer, murder, resisting arrest, violating city ordinance, waywardness, horse stealing, film flash shark, nuisance, forgery, neglecting children, inciting riot, truancy, children and various crimes against the purity of society.

Arrest by Months. The arrests by months were as follows: January, 127; February, 144; March, 178; April, 198; May, 200; June, 205; July, 169; August, 169; September, 206; October, 150; November, 149; December, 170.

HE WAS MARRIED. Hence the Young Woman is Sorry She Acted as She Did. From the New York World. I know of a young, plump and pretty girl who summured on the coast this year and became madly infatuated with a winsome physician there. Of such force fervor was her affection that, not satisfied with carrying his photograph around, she had his initials printed on her pretty arm, near her shoulder. Not tattered—that was too vulgar; besides it hurt—but by tying the letters, cut out of leather, around her arm and baring it to the sun's rays for weeks. The letters look like ivory or mahogany, but she isn't showing them as much as she was, for the doctor has turned out to be a married man, much to her horror and indignation. She is using all kinds of creams and emollients now, in the hope that the horrid initials will disappear before her first social function, for her arms are very lovely and her gowns cut accordingly. They will go off with the tan, of course, but if not in time it means a sleeve or gloves to the shoulder.
