A LIVELY

SESSION

HELD

They Were Endorsed by F. J. Johnson and Others - Short Addresses by Dr. P. O'Hara-Plan to Increase Treasury Reserve.

A special meeting of Lackawanna County council of Irish-American soleties was held in Ancient Order United Workmen's hall last evening from 7.30 to 10 and the session was from brst to last one of the most interesting yet held.

Senator J. C. Vaughan was the presiding officer, and when the special business was transacted he called on Frank J. Johnson for a speech or a song, either or both. The respondent first gave an eleguent address on the Irish race and then he favored with The Pretty Maid Milking Her Cow," which he sang in clear musical tone, Secretary Dawson sang an Irish ballad, James Dounegan rendered two selec-tions. Thomas Folan sang a tenor solo, and with a sudden jump the meeting leaped to a spirited discussion of the American Protective association ques-

Delegate McTiernan was the one responsible for this. Some one made a motion to adjourn to meet the third Sunday evening of February. He Sunday amended it to meet the second Sunday and explained that it would be well for them to come together before election, for there might be some candidate seeking office who deserves "a cutting," as he termed it. The third Sunday will come before election and Mr. McTier-nan's amendment was not necessary. After this the eloquence waxed forth

A delegate from the North End said that there was a meeting in the after-noon in St. Mary's hall of the societies that would not join the council be-cause the name Irish was prefixed to it. He said that the chief kicker is now a candidate for office and it would be well to remember him. Honan Became Indignant.

P. J. Honan was at this stage aroused to an indignant pitch, and he flayed the son of an Irishman who is too proud to acknowledge his extraction, despite that it is only accident that causes the son to be born on this side of the line and the father on the other. The dele-gate from Providence said that the new organization of societies banded to-gether those whose membership includ-ed Catholics of other nationality.

Mr. Honan said that the other na-tionalities prove themselves well able to look out for their own interests, and the man who will not affiliate with the Irish-American council in order that he may be at liberty to help along the Polander, the German, or any other one, is a coward at heart.

"He can't play in my back yard, nor won't slide down his cellar door," concluded Mr. Honan.

Mr. Johnson spoke again. The class of Irish-Americans referred to by the previous speaker, Mr. Johnson characterized as Irish American Protective associations, who are doing more harm to their race than the insidious organitions working sliently in the dark. H. Griffin, James H. Brown, Peter Clifford, John H. Devine and C. C. Donovan made remarks, the tenor of which were that the Irish citizen is forced into a position of defense and must take a firm stand against the attacking foe or else be crushed out. The Irish will fight it out to the bitter end, Dr. P. J. O'Hara was present from Branch 35, Catholic Mutual Benefit as-sociation, and he made a short address of much interest, in which he commend-and one-half inches in breadth. The tale sounded somewhat pisca-torial, and one of The Tribune's young men investigated it. The story was correct in the main details as printed, with this exception: Instead of being a living fish seven inches long and one-and one-half inches broad, it was a chunk of cheese about three+ and one-half inches long and hair an inch in breadth. breadth.

At least Dr. Fulton, who was the first to pronounce the fish story untrue, said it was cheese. Dr. Donne, who made an examination of the ejected substance, said it was undigested milk, coagulated, and formed much after the shape of a fish.

At all events Dr. Donne says it was not a fish, and Dr. Sullivan, who was present at the examination of the substances, agrees also that it was not a fish. That it was not a fish Dr. Donne is willing to stake his reputation as a
