GEORGE CORRELL BURIED.

His Funeral Largely Attended From the

Late Residence. The funeral of the late George Correll, the Delaware and Hudson brake-man, who departed the life last Thursday morning, took place Sunday afterneon. A very impressive service took place at the residence of the deceased. The Rev. T. E. Jepson, the pastor of the Berean Baptist church, officiated and took for his text, "As the Lord liveth and as thy soul liveth, there is but a step between me and death." The funeral procession was an exceedingly large one and the members of several organizations attended in a body. The pall-bearers were the fol-lowing: Irwin Wint, P. F. Foster, D. W. Humphrey, Robert Carter, George Brandow and Alexander Copeland. The floral tributes were elegant. The remains were then conveyed to Maplewood cemetery and the ritual of the order of Masons was performed at the grave.

Rumored Strike

There was a false rumor in the city this morning that a strike had taken place at the new silk mill. About fifty girls were seen this morning early, wending their way back from the mill, which gave rise that the girls had struck for want of better wages. Last Saturday being their first pay day. But from inquiries afterward made, the reason that the hands were laid off for a day was to enable the winders to catch up to the others for want of the machinery necessary to carry out the work.

He was at once taken to his home, and it was ascertained that his injuries were of a very serious nature, especially about his head and shoulders.

Evans--Evans.

At the parsonage of the Welsh Bap-tist church, Pittston, Miss Eliza Evans, of this city, and Daniel Evans, the youngest son of Christmas Evans, of Wilson Creek, were joined in the bonds of matrimony. The Rev. W. Thomas performed the ceremony. Miss Evans and John Evans acted as bridesmaid groomsman respectively.

demning the action of the company were made by several gentlemen and it was the universal opinion that the movement for a reduction of the rates should be kept up until the company agrees to much more reasonable terms than now prevail. James F. McAndrew, Philip Behle and John O'Rourse were appointed a committee to frame resolutions expressing the sentiment of the people with regard to the increase, which resolutions will be given to the water company. A committee was also appointed to ask the water company to reconsider its action or give reasons for it. This same committee was also requested to ascertain how many patrons of the company were satisfied to abide by the new arrangement. The members of the committee are P. J. Swift, Henry Myers and Philip Behie, of the First ward; James F. McAndrew, Edward Lane, Thomas Maione and John P. Kearney, of the Second ward, and James O'Rourke and Thomas J Kielty, of the Third ward. The com mittee canvassed the different wards yesterday and report a practically unanimous sentiment against the ac tion of the company. With few exceptions, the members of the committee state, the patrons of the company will order the water shut off rather than pay at the increased rate. The com mittee has already asked the directors of the water company to meet them on Wednesday,
