WEST SIDE EVENTS.

All Public Spirited Citizens Should Make An Effort to Attend Tonight's Vinduct Meeting.

In St. David's hall, on North Main ave nue, a citizens' meeting will be held this evening in the interest of the West Side viaduct. It will be the first shot in the viaduct war on the West Side. Much enthusiasm has been aroused here since the passing of the measure through councils. The West Sidewill vote solidfor themuchneeded safeguard. No one is objecting and a determined effort will be made to win the fight at the polls next month. At the meeting this evening speeches will be made by several prominent men. Those who will lead in the talking are:

Hon. T. V. Powderly, W. Gaylord Thomas, C. R. Pitcher and Hon. John R. Farr, President T. F. Mason, of the board of trade, will be chairman. The plann for the viaduct will be explained and comparisons will be made with the other plans have been discarded as unavailable aferior. Every citizen of the West Side should work for the viaduet and the best way to show sympathy with the pro-ject is by attending this evening's meet-

Stealing a Hall.

The building is a snugly built wooden concern measuring 18x25, yet an attempt was made last Saturday to really steal it. John Colosky is a Hongarian. He lives at Throop, and the idea that through the saloon door led the way to fame and for-tune struck the foreigno some months ago. He rented a hotel from Mrs. Mary Oligation and started business, Amui-tion stirred Colosky on to further efforts Withou: the consent of Mrs. Gligallon be built a hall on the rear of the lot. The owner of the land objected. She wanted more rent and Colosky would not pay, Whereupon the owner threatened to sue While Mrs. Gilgallon, through her brother in-law. John Larbin, was obtaining warrant, Colosky assembled a number of his fellow-countrymen, and hired them to move the hall onto another lot, several rods distant, Meanwhile Mrs. Gli-gallon came down to Alderman John, of the Fourth ward. "They're stealing my hall," she cried. Constables Jones and Davis went up to Throop and found everything in readiness for the removal. Colos Edward Bamfield, of Throop. He entered ball in the sum of $600. The hall still remains; so do the blocks and Colosky's de

Funeral of Arthur Price.

The funeral of Arthur Price, the young man who was fatally injured in the Mt. Pleasant colliery last Saturday, was largely attended Tuesday afternoon from his home, 125 Sherman avenue. Services were conducted in the Sherman Avenue mission by Rev. William Bell, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, after which interment was made in Washburn Street remetery. The pall-bearers were: Harry AVAIDAMS. There were many beautiful floral tributes, which were carried by the following: John Morris, Edward Hichsympathy after the death of her son.

Alderman Peter Robling Asks for a Re election, Although He Has Two Years Yet to Serve.

Although Peter Robling, sr., the present ncumbent, has been nominated for alder-nan by the Democrats of the Eleventh ward, and Fred Schumann has been similarly honored by his Republican fellow-men, the fact is that the term of alderman does not expire until 1898, two years hence. The responsibility for nominating causi-dates for this office at this time is charged p against Mr. Robling.

He caused the impression to go out, Mr. Schumann's friends allege, that his term was about to expire to sound his chances for re-election, and in this way the nominations were made. Leopold Schimpff, now leceased, was elected alderman of the yard in 1879, but he refused to serve, and he governor appointed Theodore Hessin ger, now also deceased, to serve until 1880, when an election was held and the appointer was elected for a term of five re-election, but was defeated by B. F. Moore, who neglected to take out his com-mission, whereupon Morris Zwick had himself elected in 1883. Zwick never took out his commission either, and the ward went along without a qualified alderman for two years.

Mrs. Iulherin's husband was instantly killed n the Lehigh Valley Railroad accident at Mud Run on Oct. 19, 1888. She had not been in good health for more than a year past and her death was not unexenected. Until she became ill she possessed a robust constitution and was apparently marked out for long life. Through her kindly qualities of mind and heart she had made a host of friends. The funeral will be held this morning at 9 o'clock. ## BURKE CETS THE OFFICE PROCLAMATION.

Will Take the Seat Plyan Has Occupied Nearly Two Years.

DECREE OF JUDGE ARCHBALD

It Was Handed Down in Court Yesterday. Borough of Olyphant Will Have to Pay the Large

Bill of Costs.

Judge Archbald handed down a decison yesterday in the councilmanic contest of the Third ward of Olyphant borough, which gives the office to Edward J. Burke, the one who was defeated on the face of the returns and dispossesses James J. Flynn, who has served for two years. The election was held on February 20, 1894. The court orders that the borough of Olyphant pay the costs of the proceedings. Burke was returned as having received sixty-three votes, and Flynn, sixty-five; but on a recount of the ballots each was found to have received sixty-six.

The evidence brought out at the contest showed that twenty-nine ballots were cast by persons who were not qualified to vote by reason of the nonpayment of taxes, non-registry, allenage, or some other disqualifying cause. Of these illegal votes eleven were found to have been cast for Burke and thirteen for Flynn; five votes wer blank or defective. This left the total number of legal votes cast for Burke to be fifty-five and for James J. Flynn fifty-three.

He Was Not Naturalized.

One of those who were found to have voted illegally was Anthony McHale. He was disqualified on account of being an alien, who voted thirty-seventh on the list. When the ballots turned up no No. 37 could be discovered. There were two No. 36s; it was evident that one of these was the missing 37.

Under the circumstances the two voters, Thomas Sheridan, who voted 36, and Anthony McHale, whose ballot was the missing 37 evidently, were called into court to testify how they voted. Upon their examination in open court, Sheridan said he voted for Burke and McHale said he cast his ballot for Flynn. This latter vote being cast by an illegal voter it was rejected.

Burke will take his seat at the next meeting of the Olyphant council and will serve one year, when the term expires. Judge Archbald in passing upon the ballots found four marked for Burke by a single stroke instead of a cross; held that these votes should not be thrown out because the purpose of the voter was shown and indicated for whom the votes were intended.
