Roads Covered with Ice. Some one ought to pay attention to the entrance of Wyms court on North Main avenue. A few weeks ago a gentleman from Binghamton slipped on the ice at this point and a fractured leg resulted. Yesterday a well-dressed lady slipped on the ice and fell in the mud, to the damage of clothing. An overflow of water from the hydrant on Price street between Garfield and Fillmore avenue, has made the road a sheet of ice. In the summer, the road was muddy and in winter the mud gives way to ice. The attention of the ward councilmen is called to the defect. Luzerne street, near Main avenue, is also in a bad condition. The ice near the corner covers half of the road and the entire southern sidewalk.

The Press Deserves Freedom. "Resolved, That the freedom of the press is a necessity," was the entertaining subject for debate at last night's meeting of St. Brendan's council's literary circle. The affirmative side was after one of the most earnest discussions ever held by the organization. The debaters were: Affirmative, James Shea, Thomas Fleming, Morgan Sweeney, negative, Jim McCoy, James Quinn, Joseph Barrett. Though the negative side was handicapped by an almost unbroken subject, yet the arguments brought out were novel and showed much study. An essay on "Manual Labor," by James F. O'Malley, showed thought, and "The Engineer" was well recited by Charles Canavan. T. F. Carroll gave a select reading which pleased the society and holding better sessions at each meeting.

Endorsed the Viaduct. At last night's meeting of the West Side Republican league the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas, The question of the construction of a viaduct on West Lackawanna avenue, between Seventh and Ninth streets, over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad tracks, is before the electors of the city to be voted on at the election to be held on Feb. 18; be it Resolved, By the Republican league of the West Side in regular session assembled, that, realizing the justice of the claims for the viaduct, we hereby heartily endorse the question of construction of said viaduct and agree, as members, to do what lays in our power to bring the project to a successful issue.

Lodge Services Tomorrow Night. In memory of the late respected W. George Fossel and Elmer L. Williams, Robert Morris lodge of Ivorites, of which both of the deceased were members, will conduct sacred services tomorrow evening in the First Welsh Congregational church on South Main avenue. E. E. Robathan, W. Gaylord Thomas and Howell Harris will deliver eulogies on the departed and a programme of sacred purport will be carried out. The public is at liberty to attend. Past President W. R. Lewis will preside. The programme will consist of an address; solo, Morris Thomas, solo, Miss Lizzie Reynolds; solo, Phillip Warren; sacred recitation, Miss Martha Davies, and vocal selections by a party led by William R. Evans.

Death of a Former Resident. Mrs. Sarah Watkins, who died this week at Philadelphia, was well-known on this side, where she lived for a number of years. Death occurred at Philadelphia. The deceased is survived by a husband and four children. Mr. and Mrs. David C. Williams, of Luzerne street, have returned from an attendance at the funeral. The deceased was Mrs. Williams' sister. Several years ago Mrs. Watkins was connected with the Jackson Street Baptist church, and a large number of friends mourn her demise.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. [Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.] A LETTER IN DENIAL.

Editor of The Tribune. Sir:—J. H. Fellows, in a letter published in today's Republican, connects my name with an alleged election fraud, supposed to have taken place at the late Republican primaries in the First district of the Twelfth ward, and in justice to myself and others mentioned I trust you will publish this statement of facts, which I claim to be true and correct, and which can be substantiated by affidavits if necessary. An explanatory I wish to state that Messrs. Louis Follet and Fred C. Ehrhardt were the regularly elected and returned vigilance committee men and as such were published in a list by Chairman Clemens and attested by Secretary Dale. Mr. Ehrhardt being a candidate for delegate declined to serve on the vigilance, whereupon Mr. J. H. Thomas, chairman of the county committee, in conformity with rule three of the rules for the government of the Republican party, appointed Mr. Freeman Gower to fill the said vacancy and furnished him with a certificate of his appointment.

When the time arrived for the opening of the polls, Mr. H. M. Cople, a well-known Democrat residing in the Second district and who owned the polling place, aided by other well-known Democrats and a few Republicans, prevented Mr. Gower from taking his authorized and legal seat on the board by keeping the polling place locked, and then by a motion declared carried at the curbstone, Mr. William Wetzel, residing in the Second district, was recognized as the Republican candidate for the county committee. This act disgusted a majority of the Republicans present and another caucus was the result with Mr. Gower, elected by a vote, acting with Mr. Gower, the legal vigilance. Now why was Mr. Gower denied his right to serve on the committee when it was a well-known fact that Mr. Follet was out and out Mr. Gower and they were thus assured a fair and honest count? At this caucus nearly fifty votes were polled and Mr. Wetzel, acting as the Republican vigilance, was recognized as the Republican candidate for the county committee. Again, if Mr. Linder had been grossly outraged, as alleged, when the committee was suggested by the name of Mr. Ehrhardt as the delegate, would it not have been natural for him to have booted with the rest? But being a true and honest Republican he refused to follow the straggling fellows and they were obliged to call upon Mr. William Wetzel, the bogus vigilance, to represent that district at the meeting in Follet's hall.

Fellows' present claim of being a true, consistent and clean Republican is in ridiculous contrast with his cowardly and treacherous attitude toward the Republican candidates, Scranton, Clemens and Barth, whom he fought but failed to defeat. He was, it is true, successful in defeating Mr. Davis for the county treat-ership, but he failed in a like purpose when he openly canvassed the South Side German wards with Mr. Durkin, then the Democratic candidate for clerk of the courts, in an endeavor to defeat Mr. J. H. Thomas. Firm in the belief that he could handle and deliver the German Republican vote of the South Side, he was in the infancy of its use, construction and means of propulsion.
