CITY NOTES.

The Women's Christian Temperance union of Green Ridge will meet Tuesday at 2.30 in the hall, 1610 Dickson avenue. A good attendance is desired, In the case of Brennan vs. Prudential Insurance company, 220 January term, 1895, an appeal from the common pleas of this county, the supreme court yesterday re-fused to grant a re-argument.

The central Women's Christian Temperince union will hold a "mother's" meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Frank will preside at this meeting, and a full attendance of the members should be pres-

Lucy Campbell, who claimed Scranton as her home, died Saturday in the Phila-delphia hospital, where she was taken by the police when picked up in a dying condition from the effects of a criminal operation performed by herself.

Improvements are in progress at the Delaware and Hudson station on Luckawanna avenue to increase the warmth of the lower floor. Doors are being placed on the staircase to prevent the heas from ascending to the upper portion of the bentitive. building.

A "leap year" social was conducted as Excelsion hall last night, at which a large assemblage of young folks of the city was present. Bauer's orchestra of five pieces. assisted by Miss Nellie Curran at the plane, furnished the music. The social was under the direction of Misses Kittle Ryan and Mary Reedy.

All young women desiring to pass pleasant social evening, are invited to the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association at 8 o'clock. Stanley Swartz will render several selections on the banjo, and a pantomime will also be given, rep-resenting one of Cariton's well-known poems. Admission free.

The following board of directors was elected by a meeting of West Ridge Coal company stockholders yesterday after-noon: T. C. von Storch, E. A. Chark, J. H. Rittenhouse, Alfred Harvey, G. A. Chenrwater and A. S. Roe, of New York city. The board organized by electing Mr. von Storch president and Mr. Chark secrevon Storch president and Mr. Clark secre tary and treasurer.

There were twenty-eight deaths from all causes last week according to the returns made to Secretary Briggs of the board of health. There were four new cases of contagious diseases, but it is remarkable that there was not a single death from any contagious disease. All in all, the report for the week shows it to have been the healthlest in some time.

The following new contributions for the St. Joseph's Foundling Home fund are acknowledged: Edward Walsh, Luckawan na avenue, $10; James Callahan, $7; A Friend, $5; Higgins & Wall, $5; M. J O'Malley, Wyoming avenue, $10; Grimes & Fiannery, $10; A Friend, $5; T. J. Lane, 25; George Felton, $2; John J. Gorman, $5; Dr. John J. Barrett, $5; A Friend, $10; John J. Shes, $5; P. J. O'Malley, Third street, $5; total, $87; previously acknowledged, $589; grand total, $676.

The out door players, who represented the Young Men's Christian association on the diamond and in the field last year, will play indoor base ball next Saturday night with the champion Company H team. The game will be played in the Providence armory. The make-up of the Young Men's Christian association team is as follows: James Nolan, catcher; James Dean, pitcher; David Gwens, first base; T. Brooks, second base; W. Coughlin, third base; J. Brooks, shortstop; W. Hoffner, right field; Frank Reeke, center field; Frank Mallott, left field. Frank Mallott, left fleid.

The Young Men's Christian association announces the second number of the "Members' Course"—so called because "Members' Course"—so called because members are given specially low rates—to be given by Captain Jack Crawford in Association hall on Friday evening next. Captain Jack is a splendid specimen of the class of men who have all but disappeared from our American life, since the "unknown west" has become a part of American civilization. It will be both entertaining and instructive to hear his word pictures of the borderland, recitations of his own quaint poems, stories of life in camp and field, exciting and humorous experiences beyond the hill of divilization, songs of the plains and mountains, "Pony Bill's" quaint cowboy sermon, etc. The Young Men's Christian association has certainly secured a suitable ntertalnment for the young men who fre quent the building. The reserve seat hart is open at the Young Men's Chris-tian association office.

BIDS FOR HEATING NO. 10.

Were Read at Meeting of the Board of School Control. The school board last night opened blds for the heating and ventilating of the new No. 10 school building. Four proposals in all were received and all were for steam heat.

P. F. and M. T. Howley propose to do the work complete for $3,984. The Smead-Wills company, of Philadelphia, offer to put in their system for $3,550. Hunt & Connell submitted two propositions. ## ROSE HILL FOLLY COMPANY.

Gave Pleasing Entertainments at Davis' Yesterday Afternoon and Evening. Rice and Barton's Rose Hill English Folly company gave a fine variety per-formance at Davis' theater yesterday The company arrived here at 1.15 in the afternoon from Pittsburg, but there was no evidence of that tired feeling in the performance. On the contrary, all was snap, vim, spice, novelty, and in fact all that goes toward pleasing a

Davis' theater audience. The best single feature of the show is the knock about work of Crawford Scranton had made an alliance with and Manning. The curtain raises on a the Democratic leaders by which he pretty nautical scene, with a dozen ladies dressed in various colored sailor suits on the stage. A "trip to Newport" is made with an eclat of mirth and merriment. Then comes the special ties and they are all so good it would be vain to particularize. The boxing match between the boys should be cut The show closes with a melange o clever marches, pretty costumes, striking groups and chorus singing, under the title of "Seaside Frolics," performance will be repeated this and omorrow evenings with afternoon matinees, and crowded houses are surto greet it J. P. Scanlon, of this city, is with the company as stage manager and transporttion agent.

REYNOLDS, THE MESMERIST. Opened a Week's Engagement at the Frothingham Last Night. Prof. John Reynolds, the well known mesmerist, opened a week's engagement at the Frothingham last evening before a large audience. Subjects were scarce and the professor had some difficulty in getting volunteers to go on the stage. For that reason the entertainment dragged somewhat. The subjects who volunteered their services were not easily controlled and the demonstrations of the professor's power were not entirely satisfactory to him. Andrew Logan was the one most completely under Prof. Reynold's power and he did any number of laughable things. One time he imagined that he was Blondin walking a tight rope across Niegaga Falls. His efforts to keep himself balanced on an imaginary rope were most ludicious and kept the audience convulsed with laughter. Daniel Jordan and John Jor dan were the best of the other subjects. Miss Lulu Du Bois was the only lady who volunteered to go on the stage and Professor Reynolds was unable to get her under mesmeric influence. Before the entertainment closed the professor said that usually on the first right of any of his engagements it is lifficult to get good subjects but after whichProf. Lindsay is leader, was greatly remarked. Their presence much to the even-

FATAL WORDS PRONOUNCED

Judge H. M. Edwards Sentenced Crezenzo Merolo to Death.

PRISONER MUCH APPECTED

Lost His Self-Possession-When Asked If He Had Anything to Say Why Sentence Should Not Be Pronounced tle Said He Had Not:

Murderer Crezenzo Merolo was senenced to death yesterday morning by Judge Edwards.

The prisoner was brought down from the county jail by Warden Jay and soon after court was convened District Attorney Jones moved for sentence.

Merolo was led from the prisoner's dock and he walked before the bar of justice with a cowering demeanor.

Judge Edwards asked the murderer if he had anything to say why the sen-tence of the court should not be passed upon him according to law. The was through Interpreter Morisini, as follows: "I have nothing to say now: I have already spoken." Judge Ed-wards then pronounced Merolo's doom. While sentence was being imposed the prisoner stood like one who had given up all hope. His face lost all its selfpossessed expression and he qualled under the words of the court. This is what Judge Edwards said:

what Judge Edwards said:
There is no question in the mind of the court, each of the judges, but that the vertice was absolutely just, and that any other verdict would have been a miscarother verdict would have been a miscar-riage of justice. I will not discuss the case any longer, but I will proceed to pro-mounce sentence, it is certainly not a pleasant duty to sentence a man on a verdict of morder in the first degree, but it is the judgment of the law, and we are simply here to execute the law.

The sentence of the court is that you.
Crezenzo Merolo, be taken hence to the Lackneanna county prison, there to re-main till the time shall be fixed by executive warrant for your execution; that then you be taken to the place of execution within the walls or yard of said prison and there to be hanged by the neck till you are dead. And may God have mercy

Attorney Joseph U. Brown was presnt as one of counsel for the defendant while sentence was being imposed. Merolo was immediately taken back to the county Jail.

NEW ALLIANCE FORMED.

Number of Conferences. Within the last few days there have been a number of conferences between Congressman J. A. Scranton, ex-Mayor John H. Fellows and C. G. Boland, Democratic candidate for city treasurer. One of these conferences was held yesterday and plans to secure the election of the Democratic candidates were considered. It has been currently reported that James G. Bailey, Democratic candidate for mayor, also attended one of the meetings but this story could not be verified.

Mr. Fellows more than a year ago renounced Republicanism when he openly attempted to secure the defeat of Republican candidates and actually claimed to have succeeded in defeating Thomas D. Davies for county treasurer. Congressman Scranton also changed his political faith a short time ago and the Democratic leaders say that from now on until election time Mr. Fellows and Mr. Scranton will be found working shoulder to shoulder for the success of the Democratic candidates. It was reported yesterday that Mr. hoped to retrieve his waning political power. Just what the Democrats pro-

Diamond at the Base Ball Grounds Will He Changed. The park plans of the Scranton base ball club management will have to be slightly changed through its acquiring possession yesterday of 50 additional eet of land on the west side of the park and 20 feet on the south side. The diamond will be laid out so that a line from the plate over the second base will point more toward the east than at present, or the diamond will retain its present directions but be moved 20 or 25 feet farther west and 10 feet farther away from the grandstand. Probably the latter change will be made.

It developed yesterday that Manager McDermott's trouble in signing Pitcher "Dick" Brown was caused by a claim of over $100 held against him by the Baltimore club. The Scranton club has paid the claim and will deduct the mount from Brown's salary.

There appears to be little or no foundation for the general impression that Massey is unwilling to play here. He is held in Carbondale by contract and reserve and could not sign with Scranton if he so desired. If the state league fails to organize, or if Carbondale will consent to release Massey it is probable that he will wear a Scranton uniform. At present first base is the only position which is practically unfilled Manager McDermott is now in Fall River. He will be here next week to remain permanently.

court in the case In 1835 one Sandy McDonald squatted on the land in dispute and fenced it in. There are four veins of coal underlying the tract. The top vein is seventy-five feet from the surface and is two feet thick; the next vein is fifteen feet deep er and is eight feet thick; the third vein is three feet below the second and is six feet thick; the fourth vein is twenty-five feet farther down and is three feet thick.

The railroad company mined all around the acres. They claimed title to the coal, but Mrs. Mary Barrett leased it to Daniel Hughes and William Watkins. Judge Gunster stated in his opinion that she had been in continuous possession of the tract since 1850, she and those from whom she derived the title.

TONIGHT'S CONCERT.

Will Re One of the Leading Musica Events of Year. The concert for the benefit of the Home for the Friendless tonight will be one of the most brilliant events in the musical life of Scranton. Resignation Accepted by the Dickson Manufacturing Co. Directors.

SUCCESSOR " " H. ZEHNDER

Manufacturing Compar Will Come to Scran in Triight and Assume Charge t O ice.

The resignation of President James P. Dickson was accepted at a meetng of the directors of the Dickson Manufacturing company last evening. Charles H. Zehnder, president of the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing company, of Berwick, was elected to succeed Mr. Dickson. Mr. Zehnder will come to Scranton onight and will at once enter upon the duties of his position. Last night's meeting of the directors vas held in the company's office on

Penn avenue, There were present President James Dickson, James Blair, C. S. Weston, William Connell, W. R. Storrs and A. H. Vandling, the vicepresident of the company. The two absent members of the board were W. W. Scranton and C. R. Manville, of Carbondale. It required only a few minutes to formally accept the resignation of Mr. Dickson and elect his successor. meeting began at 7.30 o'clock and lasted, but half an hour, which indicated that the business in hand had been prevlously mapped out and received unan-mous action. Mr. Dicksen, who had courteously declined to be interviewed since the fact of his resignation was made public, was asked by a Tribune reporter after the meeting what his future plans would be. He remarked that he had no immediate plans in view. He politely declined to make any further statement for publication.

Mr. Dickson's Successor.

Charles H. Zehnder, Mr. Dickson's successor, is one of the best known men of the Iron-manufacturing trade in the state. The Jackson & Woodin com-pany, of which he has been president for several years, manufactures freight and coal cars, car wheels, castings and bar iron and employs from 1,000 to 1,400 hands according to its contracts. The plant in Berwick occupies an area probably as great as that of the South works of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company in this city.

Mr. Zehnder is about 40 years of age and a self-made man. Ten or twelve years ago while general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at Berwick, his executive ability and energy attracted the attention of C. R. Woodin, who controls the Jackson Woodin company stock and who was then president of the company.

Mr. Zehnder was taken into the employ of the company and in a short was made its secretary from which position he by gradual promotion was about three years ago made its president. The company which had always been successfully conducted, has continued to thrive under his presi
