WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Elaborate Entertainment of Lackawanna Council, No. 1133, R. A. in St. David's linil-Number of Social Events-

Arcanum, gave their annual entertain- the camp. Rev. T. Bell preached an ment last evening to a gathering of in- | eloquent sermon at the Plymouth Convited friends that filled St. David's hall, gregational church, where services were gallery and all. The auditorium had been neatly decorated for the event, Brundage, Miss Margaret Jones, W. W. which was pretentious to a remarkable audience and covering the entire side, a large American flag added color to the surroundings. Potted plants on the platform, with numerous other decorations at different points in the room made a very pleasing picture. The entertainment was greatly enlivened by the Lawrence orchestra, with Professor Lindsay as director. During the evening the orchestra rendered several pieces which pleased the large audience, as the hearty encores showed.

John Proud was chairman of the evening. He made a short address in the beginning of the programme on the "Aims and Benefits of Our Order;" "King Cotton March" was played by the orchestra as a programme opener. A recitation was rendered by Miss Anna E. Kuncle, William B. Prosser gave a trombone solo, and the Misses Joseph and Kahn sang "Rest Thee on This Mossy Pillow." The singers were compelled to repeat the selection. Miss Lulu Sylvester and Charles Doersam gave an instrumental duet from Flotow Mrs. Alfred Connell sang "Thine." There was then an intermission, during which the orchestra played "Jacinta," Miss Cora Griffin's recitation at the beginning of part second of the programme was one of the finest numbers of the evening. Her selection was "The Spanish Mother." She responded to continued hand-clapping with a humor-semi-humorous. He told charming litpoints, and in bringing out the pur-poses of the Royal Archnum. His re-marks were very effective. Miss Second bass—Sterling E. Burial of Joseph Phillips.

The funeral of the late Joseph Phil-lips was held Wednesday from his late iome on Jackson street. Many of the friends of the deceased attended and the many floral tributes testified to the steem in which the departed was held. As a lodge member he was popular. This was shown by the large delegation from Enterprise lodge, Loyal Knights of America, and Camp 178, Sons of America, both of which attended the funeral in a body. A "Gates Ajar" was presented by the Enterprise lodge, and the Sons of America gave a floral shield. The pall bearers were: From the lodge, John T. The Twentieth ward Republican club LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of in-terest will be published when accompa-nied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held re-sponsible for opinions here expressed.] LETTER FROM CAPTAIN MOIR. Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: In this morning's issue of your paper my name appeared conspicuously in connection with others and, notwith-standing my aversion to letter writing, political letter writing especially, I feel it to be my duty to myself and others to demur to some of the statements made in article aforesaid, and a previous article in reference to a six-months' conspiracy. I ought to say I am sorry to find myself the innocent cause of all this municipal trouble, but I am not, and if you will accordine space I will try and briefly state by case, as far as, it relates to others. My name has been mentioned in connection with the mayoralty for some time buck. Three years ago it was mentioned back. Three years ago it was mentioned, In fact it had narrowed down to two, myself and the gentleman who now fills the position. My name on that occasion was discussed and several delegates were instructed for me at the convention. On present mayor even urged me to allow my name to be used at the convention and be not being an anxious candidate proposed that I should announce myself as a candidate in the paper, he at the same time announcing his withdrawal as a candidate on the ground that he would only run if the nomination was unanimously ten-dered him, but I was not at the time a candictate and had been a warm supporter of W. L. Connell, and it appeared to me that if I had changed my mind and went in for the nomination it would have sayored of trickery or taking advantage of good nature.

So I entered the convention as a delegate and had the honor of pixeing Mr. Conneil's name before the convention. Since that time occasionally my name has appeared time occasionally my name has appeared among the possibilities, and last summer I was so far left to myself as to think that I might be able to till the bill and that I might possibly be acceptable to my party. I nagarally looked around for others in the party that favored my wild scheme. I had tacitly pledged myself to run, believing I had the same right as any other Republican and still laboring under the delusion that I might possibly be indersed by t.c. party, as I had been or supposed I had been a straight Republican, not committed to any faction in the party, laboring, as far as in me lay, at all times for harmony and the far-

at all times for harmony and the fur-therance of Republican principles.

In August a delegation from the Central Labor union waited on me and tendered me an indersement of my candidacy, should I be a candidate. I informed them that I would be a candidate and stay. nue, is absent from her duties in the There will be no meeting of the South Side board of trade until Friday even-

I soon learned through the Democratic press that I would be opposed and that it was all understood and arranged who VOTERS OF THE COUNTY would be the Republican nominee. A number of my friends convened in the rear of my place of business and discussed the matter. Among others who were there was the Hon, J. A. Scranton. Before that time I had no talk with him on the subject; did not know whether he would favor ject; did not know whether he would favor my candidacy or not, and I was glad I had found one newspaper who was with me. Another gentleman was present, John H. Fellows, and there was no har-mony to speak of on that occasion between him and Mr. Scranton. They were not oven speakably acquainted. The chasm, opened in the fall campaign of '91, had not been bridged over. I quote all this to show that my candidacy was no premedi-tated six-months' conspiracy nor based tated six-months' conspiracy nor based on anything anti-Connell. I know that the two most preminently mentioned men, Mr. Scranton and Mr. Fellows, had no dealing up to within two months of the No-vember election. I entered the fight with singleness of purpose, the only purpose being to secure from my party, if possible the nomination for mayor. I was no anti-tion of an ite; but having entered the arena I welcomed every supporter so long as he was of my party.

So far as Mr. Scranton is concerned in

So far as Mr. Scranton is concerned in his attack upon me and his having no further use for me, why, that is all right; there are thousands of Republicans who feel as he does. They believe that after our now famous primaries and the sub-sequent city convention, the factional spir-it displayed, the one act of the committee on contested seats (that committee could give Tammany pointers), the evident de-sire to crush any and all opposition, to trample on fellow-Republicans who differed for the time being, only as to who should represent our party in municipal affairs—it was this that embittered so many Republicans and created the desire for a third ticket. They believed that I ought to head such a ticket and that it was my duty to do so, but I had to consult my own interest and act for myself, although my action has alienated many of my friends and gained no new friends. But as I am now a private, very private, citi-zen with strong Republican proclivities left, I can say I am no office-seeker; I want nothing neither from the Conneil nor Scranton or any other faction of our party, but I can never forget that when I did have the audacity to aspire to an hon-orable public office the Hon. Joseph A. Scranton gave me his unqualified support. While in the quarter I was foolish enough to suppose I had friends; there were not clubs enough to be found to knock out my political brains. Respectfully, James Molr.

Sigel, 111., September 23d, 1895. Gentlemen: I write you a note in praise of No-To-Bac which I took near-ly three years ago. I had been using tobacco nearly 50 years. The habit had grown on me to such an extent that it grown on me to such an extent that it required a pound every ten days. It so affected my nervous system that I could not sleep, had no appetite and was used up generally. On the 19th day of January, '93, I commenced the use of No-To-Bac and gained 15 pounds the first month. No-To-Bac entirely destroyed my desire for tobacco, and I have not tasted the yile weed since.
