WEST SIDE EVENTS.

'he Snow Failed So Our Young People Wont Out Riding in a Band Wagon.

There was at least one "sleighride" party on the West Side last night, and that can hardly be called the correct article inasmuch as the conveyance used was George Brown's band wagonon wheels. It only showed the pent-up desire that West Siders have for a glide on "beautiful snow.". About twenty-five young people were in the wagon and four horses drew them to Archbald and return. It was evidently a satisfactory trip. When going down hill the driver put on the brakes, there-by sliding the wheels. This had some resemblance to the real glide.

Then there was another incident in the "sleighride." When Jackson street was reached one of the horses stepped on a street car track and fell as if dead.
It was a false alarm. The animal arose after a few moments' rest. A large crowd witnessed the halt.

The heirs of the Fellows estate have ecided to make an offer to the city of the old cemetery on South Main avenue to be used as a public park. The only condition to the offer will be that the city stand the expense occasioned by removing the remains now interred in the cemetery to the Forest Hill burial ground. For several years the board of trade of this side have tried to have a sidewalk placed in front of the property. But the trustees of the estate being dead no one could be pe-titioned who were responsible for the laying of the walk. This sidewalk agitation has brought about the offer of the Fellows' heir..

LIVELY WEDDING EVE.

Polander Arrested After Causing Great Excitement at Providence.

At a time when Providence square was crowded with people on their way from church, last evening, a hatless and breathles man running at the top and breatness man running at the top of his speed with Patrolman Perry in hot pursuit caught their attention and the chase had hardly left the square before two hundred people were run-ning pell-mell throught the snow, all worked up to the highest pitch of exoltement.
No one stopped to ask what the fugitive had done but all joined in the hue and cry and finally after repeated calls to "stop that man," "trip him up," and the like, the fellow was brought to bay about two hundred yards down the street. With the assistance of two of the ablest men in the crowd the captive the ablest men in the crowd the captive was conveyed to the station house and securely locked up. Then inquiry as to the cause of all the excitement was made and it was learned that the villain had refused to go home immediately upon being told by the officer. When the officer went to force him along he gave him the foot and the blue coat sat down so hard that he got real mad. And thus it was.

A GUARANTEE OF PEACE.

From the Chicago Times-Heraid.

Five hundred millions of unexpected and available gold are an invincible guarantee of peace plus the Monroe doctrine on the American continent. International arbitration, when Uncle Sam desires it hereafter, will be promptly conceded. Five hundred millions of gold outside the national vaults and ready for use is a better protection for a nation than a standing army. But some of it ought to go into a navy, and more of it into a merchant marine that, if need arise, can be made auxiliary to a navy.

JUDGE'S

It Drew a Large Aggregation of Sports to Music Hall.

M'CARTHY DID NOT APPEAR

lie Was to Spar with Judge and Jame McCadden, of Wilkes-Barre, Was Substituted - Others Who Put on the Mittens.

Between 500 and 600 were present at the benefit performance given for Champion James Judge at Music hall last night, and the programme was all that could be desired in the boxing line. The spectators much appreciated the various performances and their applause was liberally bestowed. "Bull" McCarthy, of Philadelphia, did not show up.

In contrast to some boxing events run under individual auspices this one was singularly free from any exhibi-tions of brutality or slugging which tend to bring the science of the manly art into disrepute. Larry Ketrick was master of ceremonies: Richard Evans, referee; and Councilman Morgan Sweeney was timekeeper. It was nearly 9 o'clock before the curtain was lifted for the first bout, which was between Toby Gardner and John McGuinness. This, as well as the rest of the bouts, was three rounds.

At the outset Gardner pursued rush-ing tactics. It was announced as a friendly exhibition, but was anything friendly exhibition, but was anything except that. McCuinness met his competitor's advances with stiff nose punches and the red fluid made its appearance on Gardner's face. The three rounds were hotly contested and were all in McGuinness' favor. He was the heavier of the two and if it were a knockout contest, could have floored Gardner without any trouble. They are both lightweigths.

Gardner without any trouble. They are both lightweigths.

John Creedon and Martin Guernsey engaged attention next. They made no pretense in the way of offering the least offense to each other by any manifestation of hard hitting and the jeers and laughter with which they were received.

Bout Between Judge and McGuire. The third bout was between Patrick Judge, of Bellevue, and Harry McGuire, of Newark, N. J. Judge is a deaf mute and travels as a cyclonic fighter, but his prowess was overmateed and he went down. They were only one minute boxing when Judge took a tumble against the ropes. McCulvel and was behind the force that Guire's fist was behind the force that drove him there and that ended the performance. But McGuire was sev-eral pounds heavier than him.

performance. But McGuire was several pounds heavier than him.
Frank Guerens and Arty Price, the former white, the latter colored, both sixty pounds in weight, and mere boys, furnished considerable amusement in a three-round "go." The colored boy adopted a style of boxing similar to his noteworthy compatriot. Peter Jackson, and led out strongly with his head down. His Caucasian rival was more clever and got the decision at the end of the third round. "Jack" Glibride acted as the darkey's cornerman.

Michael Kane and Michael Duddy, of Minooka, were the next to don the mittens. The latter fought a battle with Steve Judge, brother of the champion, at Taylor last summer and was vanquished at the end of the eleventh round. Kane looks like Jim Corbett, and is a clever boxer. Though the bout was friendly, several lively blows were exchanged.

Edward Harrington, of the North End, gave a slack wire performance very cleverly. He made his appearance dressed as a wandering Willie and was lifted to the wire by Mr. Ketrick. On the wire he disrobed of his tattered garments and appeared in neat black tights. He had just begun to show his supple skill when the wire snapped asunder a few feet from where he was standing in the center of
it. The upright iron bars fell in the were exchanged. it. The upright iron bars fell in the midst of a group of onlookers in the wings of the stage. No accident re-sulted, but the performer was hindered from going on any further.

Dick Hicks vs. John Kelly. "Dick" Hicks and John Kelley, both of Scranton, next went into the ring. They boxed cleverly and gave a scien-tific exhibition. Hicks had all he could do to keep away from the swift leads made toward his face and he was un-successful in evading some of them. Frank Kelley was next on the bill. He gave an exhibition in club swinging in capable style.

The last bout was between James Judge, the champion, and James Mc-Cadden, of Wilkes-Barre. When Mr. Ketrick was introducing them, and after he announced that Mr. Judge stands ready to meet any lightweight in Eastern Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia, ex-Councilman Patrick Golden, from the front row, said some-Golden, from the front row, said some-thing which was lost in the shouts from the gallery. Mr. Golden was there-upon informed to bring any 135-pound man in the state to meet the champlon at any time and place, or forever hold his peace.

McCadden is in training to fight at Wiliamsport next Saturday night a celebrity of the lumber region known as "Scaldy Bill." The bout was nothing more than a sparring exhibition. Lieutenant of Police John Davis was at the ringside to terminate any slugging. The spectators were made up of many doctors, lawyers and prominent business men, despite the fact that boxing is looked upon as a lost art.
