Mr. Cleveland Not in Sympathy with the Pattison Boom. WANTS TO NAME THE NOMINEE The President Thinks That the Next

SNUBBED BY HARRITY

Lender of the Democratic Hosts Should Be Some One Connected with His Administration.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Tribune Bureau, 515 14th St., N. W. Washington, Feb. 13.—The meeting of state committee of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg on Wed-nesday, and the launching of ex-Gover-nor Pattison's presidential boom thereat, caused some comment among Dem-ocratic politicians here. The friends of President Cleveland are inclined to re-gard the action of Boss Harrity and his machine as a triffe presumptous, if not ungrateful. If Mr. Cleveland is not a candidate himself, it is but natural that he should want to have at least some say in the selection of his succes-sor if for no other reason than to have plan his administration endorsed. There is plenty of good presidential timber in the president's official household, and just why Mr. Harrity, who distributed all of President Cleveland's loaves and fishes in Pennsylvania, should now de-sert him has caused the latter's friends some little surprise. If not disappoint-ment. Surely, President Cleveland de-served better treatment from Mr. Harhis administration endorsed. There is President Cleveland has a keen appreciation of the importance of a dele-gation as large as that which Pennsylgation as large as that which Pennsyl-vania will send to the next national convention. He believes that he is en-titled to some consideration at the hands of the Democracy of this country, and especially by those whom he has favored with patronage. To be turned down, ignored, squelched by a man whose lease of power in the state has been extended, if not perpetuated, by him, must, indeed, be humiliating to Mr. Cleveland. The president has his own views about the nomination. If he doesn't want it himself he contends that he is entitled to the endorsement that he is entitled to the endorsement which was accorded to those great two-term Democratic presidents—Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson—re-ceived from their party—the nomina-tion of some one conspicuously identi-fied with the policy of his administra-tion. President Cleveland has in his cabinet Mr. Carlisle, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Olney, distinguished Democratic statesmen, his trusted associates, the great leaders for currency reform, tar-iff reform and the unquestionable and universally popular foreign policy of that he is entitled to the endorsement

Mr. Harrity evidently proposes to is-nore the president and his associates in the selection of a candidate at the in the sciection of a candidate at the coming Chicago convention. committee is opposed to admission to any additional states at this time. The senators believe that none of the territories now seeking admission have reached a stage that congress would be justified in permitting them to assume sovereign powers. Behind all of this is also a feeling that it would be a power of advocates for the free coinage of silver, the members of the committee believing that the senators who would represent these new states would be for free and unlimited coinage of silver. This phase of the case has never been openly discussed in committee but it is supposed to be the most potent argument against a further admission of territories. The house foreign affairs committee

Cullom and the Vice-Presidency-Mekinley's Provision for the Uncertainties of Politics -- Ex-Governor Camp bell Enters the Democratic List.

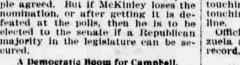

Washington, Dec. 13 .-- Senator Quay, whose candidacy for the presidency was announced this morning, today received a great many telegrams and letters from friends in various parts of the country. "The report sent out last evening." said the senator, "is accurate in every particular. I have con-sented to permit my name to be used at the St. Louis convention. My friends have urged me to become candidate and I have consented." The Cullom Boom.

The fact that Senator Cullom has ex-pressed his willingness to have his name presented at the St. Louis convention has served to further compli-cate the labors of the men who have allied themselves with other booms. When Cullom was first mentioned lit-tle attention was paid to the "boomlet." An important bearing of his can-didacy upon the Reed campaign, how-ever, has since developed. The senti-ment of Illinois was naturally favorable to McKinley, especially under the lead of Mr. Kohlsaat and his great newspapers. The switching off of this support from Ohio's favorite son to Cul-lom is believed to be an entering wedge for is believed to be an entering wedge for throwing the delegation to the man from Maine. Cullom hardly imagines that he is really a national figure of presidential size, but his friends hope that by having at their disposal the vote in convention of the third state of the Union they will be able to make some valuable alilances. With Reed at the head of the ticket, Cullom would be recognablically suited for the vice presidential or the detet, contom would be presidential nomination, and his friends have made no secret of his will-ingness to accept this honor.
