All those different sizes and shapes are traced to the fact that sentiment has changed, and nowadays the valen-tines sent, if sent at all, are elaborate and costly things and are something more than the antiquated bunch of lace paper surounding a scrap picture. The present day valentine costs money, much money, and its safety cannot be trusted to a simple envelope. It is en-closed in a box or some other kind of secure wrapping, and that's what an-noys the postman, because it loads him down like a woman after a weekly shopping expedition, and the govern-shopping expedition, and the government does not pay for extra men as it does during the holidays.

There are many authorities, variously interpreted, for the existence of St. Valentine's day. The generally accepted story is that the word "Valentine" is a corruption of "galantin" (a lover, a dangler) a gallant. St. Valentine was selected for the sweethearts' saint because of his name. Similar changes are found in "gallant" and "valiant" (Latin, "valens"; vain, Weish "gwan"; vale, Welsh "gwael"; guard, ward, etc.)

NEVER SWAP HORSES WHILE CROSS-ING A STREAM,"

Editor of The Tribune. Sir:-The true man; the tried man; the faithful man; the man weighed in the halance and not found wanting; one always true to his friends, to the best interests and truest substantial good of all citizens; a man of the people, one whose whole life in this community shows and proves his fitness for any office the people of the peopl ple can give, unselfish, loyal of character, pure and upright, a big-hearted, disinterested friend to all that are worthy of a friend-Colonel E. H. Ripple is emblematical of all we look for in a first citizen, Don't swap horses while crossing a stream. Stand steadfast to that you know from experience to be true. "Ripple" is a symbol of truth and honor. His character, habits and methods are beyond scurrilous attack. No honorable man pays the least attention to such. There has never been a man put under the search light of a public contest for any office in the gift of the people but has to stand the barkings, yelpings and biting of disgruntled curs and envious, ambitious men. Not even our own great Washing-ton was free from it. It practically amounts to little. The mass of the people can easily detect the counterfeit par-tisan from the true metal of the genuine man and benefactor, for as a public benfactor we look upon Colonel E. H. Ripple too busy in his greatness and disinteres: edness to accumulate pelf, giving his time to the help of his fellows and the benefit of his city. My friends, "don't swap horses while

VOTE FOR DANIEL WILLIAMS.

Editor of The Tribune, Sir: There is a name on the Republican ticket that I should like to see at the head of the list when the war is over and all things righted, and that name is Daniel Williams, Mr. Williams is qualified to fill the position of city treasurer from a score of standpoints. His integrity is beyond question; in fact he was never cut out for a politician. He has Alderman Bailey, of Green Ridge, committed Anthony Conway, of Dunmore, to the county jail last night on the charge of desertion to answer at the next term of court. favor of trades unionism. The prospects for engaging seats in The prospects for engaging seats in the body of the theater or in the bal-cony for tonight are very slim. The 150 checks given out yesterday morn-ing entitle the holders to 1,200 seats at a rate of eight seats for $5. As the ticket-speculators hired boys to stay up all Fedge night to obtain the checks all Friday night to obtain the checks, it may be inferred that nearly a thou-sand seats will be sold to scalpers before the general public gets a chance to get within speaking distance of the box office. It is probable that the scalpers will buy for tonight's performance almost exclusively, which will give others an opportunity to obtain seats for the matinee. The box office opens at 9 o'clock.

with Letters Yesterday. St. Valentine's day was yesterday, and, like this day of the years immediately preceding, shows a decline in the custom of sending through the mails or leaving on the doorstep the so-called comic valentine and the same decline in the rest of the "two-for-five" love. in the use of the "two-for-five" love-sick epistle. On the other hand, there was shown an improvement in the real sentiment of the festival—if it may be designated as such. These are the conclusions suggested by a Tribune reporter's visit to the postoffice, which is a dumb but correct witness of the valentine sentiment. Whatever delight the day brought to lovelorn young women or lovelorn young men, the patient postman had none of it in his. On the contrary, he was sorely tempted to swear—and may-be he did—and if he did, he cannot be be he did—and if he did, he cannot be blamed. It is estimated that within the city limits there were 9,000 extra pleces of mail matter yesterday. The thirty-three postmen, averaging two trips each, could, under ordinary circumstances, have met the emergency without being much bothered, but the handling of 9,000 extra pleces of matter, no night at the armory.

There are hundreds of men in Scranton who have worked for him who can testify to the same, and if there is one among them who will say that he ever did wrong by them then I will take back all I have said. I think it is the duty of all trades union ists in the city to give such a man as Mr. Williams their hearty support, and never be abused by him.

Therefore I call upon all who have to work for their living, both union and nonunion, to show their appreciation of true worth by voting next Tuesday for Daniel Williams for city treasurer,

Several police-men report having seen the bill posters pasting up the placards but thinking them to be nothing more than an ad-vertisement for a ball or something of the sort paid no heed then and consequently could not tell even who the bill posters were. People in every walk of life have reason to be grateful to Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth, the eminent scientist who discovered Paine's relery compound. He understood the peculiar needs of the nervous system; he knew that the backache, headache, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and disordered blood all mean that the nerves are weakened and inadequate to the demands upon them. The experience of thousands has proven all over this broad country that only Paine's celery
