First Sorgeant Harry Decker Elected First Lieutenant of Company F-Fred Mason Will Resign.

At a meeting of the rank and file of Company F, Thirteenth regiment, last evening, in their armory at St. David's hall, on North Main avenue, First Ser-grant Harry Decker was elected to the geant Harry Decker was elected to the rank of first lieutenant, made vacant by the resignation of Walter Briggs, secretary of the board of health. Second Lieutenant Fred Mason was Mr. Decker's opponent, and the election and preliminary work was highly exciting and very hotly waged by the friends of the two men. Lieutenant Mason was entitled to the position by right of regular promotion. He is a model soldier and is well up in military technique, as lar promotion. He is a model soldier and is well up in military technique, as was shown by the capable way in which he captained Company F in the absence of Captain E. D. Fellows during the inspection held before the election.

Mr. Mason's fitness could not overcome Mr. Decker's popularity among the members, and by a vote of 28 to 16 the latter was elected. The election was held from 9.30 to 10.15 o'clock. Colonel Coursen presided. When the nominations were called for, E. W. Thayer named Mr. Decker, seconded by Robert Williams. Mr. Mason was nominated by Sergeant George Barth, seconded by W. S. Freeman. Twenty-eight votes were necessary for a choice and Mr. Decker received this number.

and Mr. Decker received this number. One of the outcomes of the election will be the resignation of Second Lieu-tenant Mason. He stated to a Tribune reporter last evening that he would immediately retire. Mr. Mason organ-ized the company in July, 1850. He worked hard toward its success, and was a rigid disciplinarian. It was this very strictness which caused his rejec-tion by the members. Mr. Decker is a soldierly looking young man. He has been connected with the company for a long time and has obtained the re-gard of rank and file. Mr. Mason's re-irement will leave another vacancy in the company.

Before the election a preliminary inspection of the company was conducted by Major G. W. Whitman, of Hones-dale, and Colonel Coursen of the Thirteenth regiment. Sergeant Major Al Davies, of Eynon street, was also pres-ent. Second Lleutenant Mason led the company in the absence of Captain E. D. Fellows. The company had a good attendance. The inspection included the dress appearance of the company. arms, manual of arms, movements, ex-tended order and guard duty. The regular and final inspection will be held
