St. David's Day Banquet Held in the Weish Tabernacle Congregational Church-Other News Items.

St. David is the patron saint of Wales, and the Welsh people regularly pay tri-bute to him on the first day of March in each year. Last evening the people of the Welsh Tabernacle Congregational church celebrated the event with a banquet. The church has held similar festivities for several years, all of which were very successful. The affair of last evening, in point of attendance and in bounteousness of enjoyment, eclipsed any former efforts. The church was crowded and it was only with difficulty that passage could be made through the Beginning at 6 o'clock supper was served until after 10 o'clock with an hour's interruption for the mental entertainment of the evening. Down-stairs, where the repast was served, six tables were arranged, each of which bore a homogenous quantity of edibles. Each table had its corp of pretty young ladies, who served the special courses under the supervision of the following: Mrs. D. P. Jones, Mrs. Thomas W. Jones, Mrs. Redmund, Mrs. Elbridge. Mrs. W. S. Jones, Mrs. Reese W. Lloyd, Mrs. Morris Jones, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Richard T. Edwards, Mrs. John D. Jones, Mrs. Sarah Morgan and Mrs. Howell Phillips. The general commit-tee included Evan G. Reese, chairman; Thomas J. Lewis, assistant; David Hop-kins, treasurer; David M. Jones, secre-tary; John F. Williams, Richard E. Thomas, Mrs, Reese Lloyd, Mrs. Jonah Redmund and Mrs. Reese D. Reese. Those in charge of the entertainment were Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the church, Hugh Jones and Howell G.

Reese. At 8 o'clock the entertainment began in the main auditorium, which was well filled. Assistant District At-torney John M. Harris presided. He made a few remarks in opening the programme. Mr. Harris said that whatever he had attained in the way of success he can attribute to the teachings he obtained in a good Welsh home. He admired St. David. He represented a land that has made itself felt in every walk of life. He advised the parents.

Both were plensing to the auditors. David Stevans, who has won several prizes for his excellent tenor singing at the local and nearby Welsh eisteddfods, gave a solo last night. The address of Pro-fessor George Howell, superintendent of the public schools, was a fine orator-ical effort. Mr. Howell had not prethe life of the saints. He is a wor-shiper at the throne of Sr. David, and when the people of the country could gather and express their veneration for the religious model of their land. St. David was a great man, but though not disparaging his personn who caused his greatness. Without a great land behind a great man his greatness falls from its station. Gladstone is honored for the great nation. he represents. The Saint, David, represents the Welsh people. Mr. Howell does not admire the man with the great head more than he does the man of the great heart. The speaker drifted into his favorite theme, "Heart Cul-ture." He paid a tribute to the Welsh nation and compared St. David to a moving star in the heavens that shonamid the immovable bodies. During the talk the speaker was frequently interrupted by applause.

After Mr. Howell had concluded, Mrs.
Howell G. Reese sang and Mrs. M. J.
Boston-Williams. John W. Jones,
basso, of the well known Jones family of Bellevue Heights, sang as the clos-ing numbers of the entertainment. The accompanist was Mrs. D. B. Thomas. Summing up the entire affair with its several prominent features the banquet of last evening was a fitting tri-bute to the immortal saint, and in hon-oring St. David the members of the Tabernacle church honored themselves. After the entertainment the supper was again partaken of in the church basement. The church throughout was specially decorated. A large and pe-culiar specimen of the "leek," which is the Welsh national emblem, formed a prominent part of the decorations. "St. David's Day" in letters of blue were stretched across the westerly side of the basement. TWO NEW VEINS.

If the experienced globe-trotter of the present day were asked to name the wickedest suct on earth he would almost certainly name Port Said, and he who would validly contradict him would have to discover a very wicked spot, indeed. It would be quite safe to say that there is no evil feature of human life that is not in some degree represented in this parched-up-way-side inferno. The scourings of every continent on earth, the very dregs of human society are to be found there in man society, are to be found there in their most repulsive forms.
