RELY UPON MR. CLEVELAND

Spain Does Not Believe That He Will Follow Congress.

WHAT STEP WILL HE TAKE?

The Probable Course of the Man of Destiny Is a Mystery--General Weyler Hopes That Extreme Measures Will Be Unnecessary.

Madrid, March 4.--The opinion prevalent in official circles here that President Cleveland will not approve of the Cuban resolutions adopted by the United States congress, General Weyler has cabled to the government on the subject, and referring to the question of American intervention, says he hopes it will not be necessary to resort to extreme measures. He added that no alarm was felt at Havana.

The official dispatch also says that in the latest important engagements between the Spanish troops and the insurgents in Cuba, in which General Weyler's troops were the aggressors, they were protecting the so-called Cuban government. The Spaniards lost ten killed and wounded.

THE MYSTERY.

Washington, March 4.--What will the president do with the Cuban resolutions which the United States congress has just passed? Will he refer them to the conference committee and reach him? The fact that it was an open secret that the president and Secretary Olney were disposed to proceed in a very conservative manner in regard to Cuban resolution, fully appreciating the many difficulties surrounding the question, was stated by United States dispatches in Feb. 23, and has since been repeated and confirmed from other sources. It is well understood in congress that but for a knowledge of this fact and the consequent delicacy to embarrass the executive, a joint resolution, instead of a concurrent resolution, would have been adopted by both houses of congress.

But will he take such a step? That question was put today by a United States reporter to a number of prominent Republicans and Democrats in the house. The Republicans claimed to have no knowledge of the executive's intentions and said the only person competent to speak with intelligence upon the subject was Mr. Cleveland himself. The Democratic leaders were equally uncertain. In their opinion the president will study the situation carefully, and if he should be satisfied from the official correspondence that Weyler proposes to inaugurate a reign of terror in the island, he will incline more strongly to accord the insurgents belligerent rights than would otherwise be the case. It is not believed that the president will act until he has consulted the matter for several weeks, should he do so at all.

SOUTHERN OPINION.

It is asserted that the opposition to the resolutions would have been greater in the house had not a yea and nay vote been taken in the southern caucus. A representative of marked prominence said today that the legislature of his state had passed a resolution calling upon their members of congress to support any proposition expressing sympathy with the Cubans, and that he voted for the resolution, therefore, because, as he expressed it, he did not desire to fly in the face of his constituents.

SEÑOR KLUAYEN RESIGNS.

Spanish Students Again Create Disturbance--Several Persons Injured in a Riot.

Madrid, March 4.--Senior Kluyayen, who was recently appointed minister of foreign affairs in succession to the Duke of Tetuan, has resigned. A meeting of the cabinet was held this evening at which Señor Kluyayen announced that he had tendered his resignation because it was considered desirable that the same person who began negotiations with the United States and other countries in regard to Cuba should complete them. It is understood that the Duke of Tetuan will succeed the retiring foreign minister, and that he will take the oath of office tomorrow.

At the meeting it was decided that the universities should be closed for the present. The ministers also agreed to an unlimited credit for the purchase of artillery and to call for recruits of naval infantry and other soldiers. A demonstration was attempted this afternoon by the students of the university but the police were on the alert and the meeting was dispersed. Later 400 students of the school of medicine and a number of citizens who had joined them were dispersed by the police. They soon reassembled, however, whistling and jeering at the officers. One group of students who were standing close by a lieutenant of police called the latter a coward and several of them attempted to strike him whereupon the lieutenant drew his revolver. The police then charged with drawn swords upon the rioters. In the melee which ensued a few persons were injured. All places of business in the neighborhood were closed.

A despatch from Havana to the Imperial says a notice has been posted there in Havana stating that President Cleveland has approved of the action of the United States congress with reference to Cuba.

The despatch also says that Gomez and Maceo are hard-pressed by the government troops.

FIVE THOUSAND MEN SLAIN

Attitude of the Roman Populace is Threatening--Rioters Are Fired Upon at Milan--The Disturbances Elsewhere--Story of the Slaughter.

Rome, March 4.--The excitement, grief and anger caused by the defeat of General Baratieri's forces in Abyssinia were increased this morning, when despatches were received placing the number of Italians killed at the battle of Adowa, and in the long, harassing retreat which followed, at 5,000. It is not believed that even these terrible figures really tell of the full extent of the disaster. No reliable information is at hand from the wounded and it is feared that those who fell wounded during the long retreat, more than fifty miles, according to general reports, and in a private burial ground, which followed, are those who were killed on the spot.

Throughout the night the garrison here was kept under arms and mounted on their guns. The city streets, which were filled with people all night, were crowded with excited men and women. A number of outbreaks of riotous conduct took place, and the indications are that the people are taking a very threatening attitude, not only in this city, but throughout Italy.

Senator Hale said this afternoon that he understood that there was such a plan contemplated by Mr. Blaine, but he did not know whether anything would be done in the immediate future looking to the removal of Mr. Blaine's name from the United States. He thought, however, nothing would be done until spring was well advanced. He added that he is familiar with the spot said to have been chosen by Mrs. Blaine, and that it is a beautiful location.

owned by a wealthy Augusta publisher, and transferred by him into a private park. Mrs. Blaine contemplates purchasing a portion of this tract and converting it into a private burial ground, such as are often seen in New England. The spot chosen for the final resting place of the great statesman is on the brow of a hill, from which there is a fine outlook over the Kennebec river.

Senator Hale said this afternoon that he understood that there was such a plan contemplated by Mr. Blaine, but he did not know whether anything would be done in the immediate future looking to the removal of Mr. Blaine's name from the United States. BALLINGTON BOOTH'S PLANS.

Commander Booth, in an interview today, said: "I shall support no one." He said, "and shall see no property which belongs to the Salvation Army. Neither will I accept any corps unless they make a written application to me, signed by the majority of the members. When a corps joins the new movement the members must cease to meet in the old place, and must find new quarters in the vicinity or even in another part of the town. Where possible, the officers in charge must be with the movement and resign from the Salvation Army before declaring the corps independent. Faithful officers and soldiers are of far more value than big halls and valuable property. We will begin to receive trusts. I shall appoint no officer to command a corps until I have his or her assurance that he or she has resigned honorably from the Salvation Army, or has been dismissed for defending what they believe to be the right. I must also have a formal resignation of the work of the corps. Major Glen will be planning to hire the Music hall for Sunday night and will invite Major Glen to address a demonstration."

DIVISION AT ORANGE.

The Salvation Army corps in Orange, N. J., is divided. A meeting was called in the home of one of the officers last night by Mr. Condit, a convert of the Salvation Army and one of the wealthiest and most influential men in the city. He has for several months contributed largely to the support of the corps and has each Sunday night paid for the Music hall, which seats 1,500 people, in which special meetings have been held. He, with Color Sergeant Quimby and Samuel Harris, one of the largest contributors to the corps and a soldier until Ballington Booth was dismissed, with five of the soldiers, stood for Commander Booth, while about an even number stood for the Salvation Army. The full membership of the corps was not present.

BOOTH WANTS VOLUNTEERS

The New Salvationist Will Begin His Crusade at Once.

EVA BOOTH'S ACCUSATIONS

She Estimates That Ballington Has Failed to Speak the Truth at All Times--Division in the Ranks at Orange.

New York, March 4.--The trouble between Ballington Booth, ex-commander of the Salvation Army, and his sister, Eva Booth, the present head of that organization in this country, is becoming bitter, and it is evident that Miss Booth and her chief associate, Colonel Nicol, will do all in their power to prevent officers and soldiers deserting the army to follow Ballington Booth in the new religious movement he has announced he will lead.

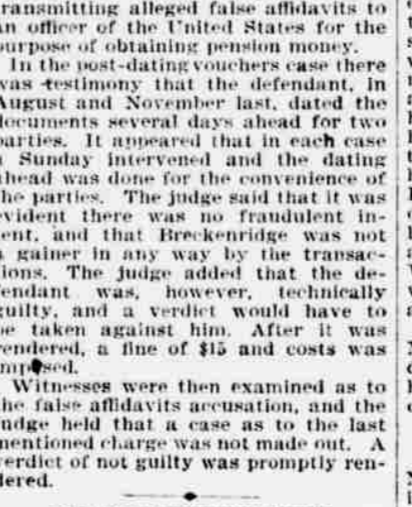

Colonel Nicol said today: "We consider the statement to the officers of the army by Ballington Booth that his announced intention of starting a movement similar to our army a deliberate attempt to disrupt the forces of the army in this country, despite his private and public promise not to do so."

It was learned today that Major Stephen Swift, Captain May Wilson and Captain Charles Clark, all American women, who have been working with the army in England, are now on their way to this country to aid Miss Booth. All of the young women mentioned are college graduates. Miss Swift is a Vassar girl. Her father is a banker in a small town in this state. Miss Wilson is a daughter of Henry Wilson of this city, and Miss Clark's father is Dr. Clark, of Brooklyn. At the army headquarters they say the stories that a great many of the soldiers and officers were resigning were denied.

Commissioner Carroll, the head of the Salvation Army Banking and Insurance department, has been ordered bound for this city, to look after the transfer of the army's property by Ballington Booth.

KILLED BY A CAR.

Murder Theory Abandoned in the Case

Norristown, Pa., March 4.--The murder theory advanced in the case of Michael Lannon was exploded this evening at the coroner's inquest. Motorist Brown's testimony was to the effect that his car was running at the rate of twelve miles an hour, when he saw the man on the track, and before he could stop, ran over him.
