GEN. BOOTIPS MANIFESTO.

It Is Read to Officers of the Salvation Army - Mistake Somewhere - Elder Booth Claims That No Attention Was Paid to His Messages.

New York, March 12 .- The manifesto abled by General William Booth from London to the officers and soldiers of the Salvation army in America is being widely discussed today by the friends of Ballington Booth, as well as those favorable to the Salvation army. The manifesto was read to the officers at a meeting last night by Commissioner Eva Booth, until she broke down at a reference to her father's love for his on, and Commissioner Carleton concluded the reading. The manifesto in full is as follows:

Comrades:-I tind it impossible to de commarks of sorrow with which 1 am overwhelmed today. On receiving de-tails of the great loss which has failen upon as in the action of my son, your late commander, every high antichation of my heart for him for nearly forty years winnin P. Aldren vs. Gason A. dis-bins, from the Fourth Alabama dis-trict, was begun and continued for sev-eral hours, under an agreement that seven hours should be allowed for de-bate. In this case there were three re-ports, two by the Republican majority, presented by Misich was checked and would not discuss his father's maniagreeing that Aldrich was elected and should be seated, but differing as to the size of his majority. The minority admit that the majority of 3,736 returned for Robbins should be reduced to 559festo for publication. Mrs. Maud Booth, who was in charge of the new headquarters, declined to be seen. In reply to a note from the reported, asking for an expression of opinion on General Booth's manifesto, and particularly as to the alleged false recommendation that he retain his seat. statement, she sent the following note: The majority recommendation was sup-"Commander is out this morning on ported by Messrs, Moody (Massachusported by Messrs, Moody (Massachus-etts), Linney (North Carolina) and business, and we have not yet decided Royse (Indiana), and the minority by Mr. Bartlett (Georgia.) likely remain silent. It was said by Ballington Booth's house adjourned until tomorrow. from residents of various nearby cities and towns to furnish rent free halls for his forces when active work begins. At the headquarters of the Salvation army Miss Eve Booth declined to discuss the alleged false statements of her father. Staff Captain Milsons said he felt sure that if Ballington Booth had replied to his father his replies had failed to reach him, as he was sure the general would not be guilty of a false-

Wall Street Review New York, March 12.—The excitement in Tobacco subsided today and the transac-tions in the stock were only 99,800 shares against 29,800 shares yesterday. The price ranged between 78% and 80%, while on yesterday's sales were recorded all the way from 73% up to 82%. The failing off in business was ascribed to the fact that the short interest in the stock had been covered. The suggestion that I had sought to Anglicize the army in the United States is at once a falsehood and a calumny, You, who have heard me plead the claims of the lost world, know it is. You have stood with me near the cross, and you know that under the shadow of that tree I have bledged you to devote your lices I have pledged you to devote your lives to no less a purpose than that for which your bleeding Vietim died-the salvation

Your intervality the second se so since the first mutterings of this storso since the first multerings of this storm reached me in India, You have acted just as I should have expected you to ac., By your toll and self-sacrifice and devo-tion you made the army what it is in America, and you have not been willing to stand by and see it destroyed.

to stand by and see it destroyed. You will show no want of patience with those who have fallen beneath an almost unparalleled weight of temptation and flattery. You will pray for them without equing. You will by daily faithfulness compel even your most bitter critics to see that we are seeking only the good of all men. You will allow no difficulty to check your advance. You will not foil your your advance. You will not fail yo eGneral. You will not fail your Lord. I us remember the millions without G and devote ourselves anew to their salvi-tion, and He will grant us our hearts' desire and fulfill all our counsel. Your General, full of love for all. William Booth.

DISCOURTESY DENIED.

DISCOURTESY DENIED. The protestations of General Booth that he had made no effort to Anglicize the army in this country and that his sole reason for removing Ballington Booth from the command was because such removals were a part of the dissuch removals were a part of the dis-cipline of the army, and he would not favor a member of his family, were not the features that were most discussed. It was his statement that his son, Ballington, had not even answered thre cablegrams sent to him from India urging that he meet him (General Booth) in London for a discussion of the questions at issue. This statement, Ballington Booth's friends say, is false, and some of them say that General Booth knew it to be so. Some of those discussing the matter were disposed to excuse the statement on the ground that perhaps Ballington Booth's replies had missed his father and that he did not know they had been sent. Others, who should be in a position to know, contend that could be the case, as they claim his third cablegram was so worded as to make it wident that he had received replies to two preceding messages.

WILL NOT DISCUSS IT.

Major Glen, who was just leaving headquarters to join his chief and aid in the work of selecting the halls, said sure that Ballington Booth
