WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Small Building on the Culp Heap at the Mount Pleasant Mine Burned Down by Tramp.

The sky over the Mount Pleasant colliery was deep cast with red last evening. The cause was the burning of the dump shanty, a small structure used as a shelter house for the workmen on the culm heap. The shanty was a wooden structure burned to the foundation. Tramps are responsible for the fire. An overturned stove which was red hot explains the origin.

The police made an attempt to capture the hoboes as they were escaping down the culm bank, but the darkness made escape possible. This is the second dump shanty that has burned on Sundays in two weeks. The Oxford shelter house was visited by fire two weeks ago.

HOUSE BURNED TO THE GROUND.

While the thermometer was dropping Saturday afternoon a fierce fire was burning the residence of Ziba Smith and family situated near the Hampton mine. No attempt was made to extinguish the fire, so far had the flames progressed in the way of destruction. Miss Smith, one of the family, narrowly escaped serious injury in an attempt to escape from the burning building. As it was she was painfully burned. Only a small part of the household furniture was saved. Two watches and a quantity of other jewelry were destroyed. Mr. Smith also lost a $50 bill by the fire. The money was secreted in the house. There was no insurance on the residence. The fire company in this section is evident. Not even a bucket brigade could be summoned Saturday.

KEOGH IN PITTSBURG.

Scranton Pool Expert Ready to Play Clearwater for the Championship.

Jerome Keogh, who is ready for the pool championship of the world with William H. Clearwater, arrived in Pittsburgh last night from his home in Scranton. Keogh is a boyish looking person, 20 years of age, and speaks modestly of his chances against the champion. He has been playing steadily, and says he is in good form. He and Clearwater will continue to practice amicably on the same table until the opening of the game, next Thursday night.

There has been some misunderstanding about the backing of Clearwater in this match. This grew out of the fact that the purse is being given by Harry Davis, Mr. Davis, or his representatives, have nothing to do with the backing, however. Charles Allum, who has been behind Clearwater ever since he began to play in public, said last night that he will give Clearwater the purse, and continues willing to back him against any man in the world. He does not under-rate Keogh, of whom he declares that he will give Clearwater a hard run, but he has lost nothing of his faith in Clearwater's ability to win anybody. The fortune of the game will depend on the Pittsburgh Times.

Says the Toronto Globe: "Manager Kuntzsch, of Syracuse, rises to remark that he has not farmed Reilly out from Philadelphia, but has signed him on condition. The only condition attached to the deal are that the National league is to have the pick of any player with the Syracuse team at the close of the season, including Reilly." That's it in a nutshell.

Extra Outfielder Flack's record indicates that he is a good one. He is 27 years of age, weighs 165 pounds, and weighs 165 pounds.
