KEOGH IS CONFIDENT.

Scranton Boy and Champion Clearwater Are Practicing Daily.

Yesterday's Pittsburgh Times says: "Clearwater says Keogh, who will play for the pool champions beginning Thursday, are both doing a great deal of practice work."

"Yesterday Keogh played a gentleman 18 games, 15 or no count."

"They quit even. Clearwater last week beat the same man five out of seven. Keogh has great confidence in himself and thinks the games will be very close. Clearwater, of course, on account of being champion, is a slight favorite. Harry Davies yesterday began work on the building of seats. He will be able to seat 1,000 persons in reserved chairs and make them comfortable."

OLD MAN HANGED HIMSELF

John Kentscher Wanted to Be Buried on His Birthday.

WHICH WOULD BE TOMORROW

He Lived with His Son-in-Law, George Keib, and Had No Reason to Complain of Life—Deed Was Done with a Piece of New Clothes Line.

John Kentscher, an old and well known resident of the South Side, who lived with his son-in-law, George Keib, in the rear of 432 Alder street, committed self destruction some time yesterday morning, by hanging himself with a new clothes line in a summer kitchen built about twenty feet from the house. He would be 61 years old tomorrow and wanted to die on the anniversary of his birth.

For nearly two months the old man had been in sound mental condition, and he frequently within a week threatened to terminate his existence. Ten days ago he would have cut his throat with a razor but for the timely prevention of the desperate intention. The funeral could be watched, the family kept close scrutiny on his movements, but he outwitted them and succeeded in his rash design.

When Mr. Keib awoke at the usual hour yesterday morning he noticed that his father-in-law was not around, but it was usual for the latter to go away early and return later in the day. The absence meant anything serious and was not much worried until evening.

THE BODY FOUND.

After supper Mr. Keib was engaged around the house and he casually, in passing the summer kitchen, tried the door, seeing that it was closed, he pushed the knob, he pushed his strength against it and it opened. Lighting a match he was confronted with the horrible sight of his father-in-law hanging from a rafter. Placing his hand upon the face of the suspended form, his touch taught him that death had occurred several hours.

Mr. Keib then called the police and his wife and then visited the Alder street police station where he found Lieutenant Peter Zang, who telephoned for Coroner Longstreet, and Chief Spanner, who first attended the body down. It was so rigid that it would have stood erect if supported it on both sides. The features were livid and discolored and death was plainly due to strangulation.

Kentscher used a piece of new clothes line about five feet long. He fastened the rope to the rafter securely by winding it around several times, and after that was done he stood upon a chair and tied the rope around his head, down back of his ears and under his chin. It was not in the shape of a noose, but after a few minutes he slipped an elastic on a girl's hat. The body was taken into the house and was placed in the front room awaiting the arrival of the coroner.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

Soon after being notified Coroner Longstreet advised and examined the following jury: J. J. Kelly, J. V. Schaefer, Joseph Klein, H. K. Klamminger, Jacob Demuth and Frank Klein. After hearing testimony of the family the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that death was caused by hanging; the act being intentional.

The deceased was well known on the South Side; he was an employe of the Lackawanna Electric Company for over twenty-five years and worked at the old rolling mill. For the past three or four months he worked very irregularly, and the cause for his act, other than that his mind was not right lately. He was provided with a good home by his son-in-law, Mr. Keib, and their relations were of the most agreeable nature. He had three sons and five daughters are left. They are: John Michael, Jacob, Fred, Rose, Mrs. George Keib, Mrs. Barbara Faribault, all of this city; Mrs. Christina Dohring, of San Francisco; Mrs. J. H. Herman, of Brooklyn, N. Y. A telegram will be sent to the latter this morning. The funeral will very probably take place tomorrow afternoon.

COMPANY NOT BLAMED.

James Reilly's Death Caused by His Own Carelessness.

The man who was run over and killed by a Delaware and Hudson passenger train in Carbondale Monday night, and yesterday found to be James Reilly, of Pleasant Valley. An inquest in the case was conducted by Dr. E. M. Pennybacker, of this city, and the coroner, Dr. Longstreet, and a verdict of accidental death was returned.

The body was identified in the morgue at Carbondale. Little is known of Reilly beyond the fact that he was about 65 years old, a miner and out of work. Whether or not he has a family is not known. The remains will be interred at the expense of the company in Carbondale today, unless claimed by relatives or friends.

At the inquest, Engineer Alex. Copeland, of the engine which struck Reilly, testified that Reilly was alive when struck, as he rolled from between the rails until his legs rested across one of them. He then fell from the train as the train was passing. Following is the verdict of the jury:

We, the undersigned jurors, find that James Reilly came to his death by being struck by a Delaware and Hudson passenger train at Carbondale, Pa. We also find that his death was caused by his own carelessness, and we exonerate the Delaware and Hudson company from all blame. Frank McKenna, Pittston; J. Monahan, John Kelly, J. E. Shannon, G. E. REV. DR. CLARK COMING.

Will Address the Christian Endeavor Union About the Convention.

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Christian Endeavor union was held last night in the Young Men's Christian Association building. Rev. W. H. Stubbins, the president, presided.

A report of the social committee contained the information that Rev. Dr. F. E. Clark, president of the International Christian Endeavor society, will deliver an address in this city on the night of April 29 on matters relative to the state convention to be held here.

Mrs. J. P. Hagedorn, secretary, and the president of the committee on junior work, was appointed city superintendent of junior work.

"The City Union, What It Is and What It Should Be."

Dr. Phillips read a paper entitled "The City Union, What It Is and What It Should Be." He held that more work should be done, that there should be a better organization; that there were neglected certain lines of work while unnecessary effort was wasted in other directions, and that there should be more social work among the societies.

Waldron's Horses Have Arrived.

About seven o'clock last night Washington avenue was black with horses. They were coming from the Erie railroad to Cusick's stable where they were to be sold next Thursday for what they will bring. They have all kinds, light and heavy, and all colors. They can be seen and driven any time by those wishing to exchange or buy. The sale will open at one o'clock Thursday afternoon, rain or snow. The horses will be sold in lots of three. Three months' time will be given on approved notes bearing interest from date. Don't fail to go and see them. If you want a horse of any description as they must be sold, at Cusick's stable, on Washington avenue.

ANOTHER GRATEFUL FAMILY.

Mr. Miller Considers Paine's Celery Compound a National Blessing.

There is no spring remedy equal to Paine's celery compound. Sufferers from debility who find their convalescence too slow, are joyously surprised by the brisk impetus toward recovery that comes from Paine's celery compound. Its healing, nerve-restoring, blood-making, nourishing powers go so directly to the root of the trouble that the progress toward health and strength is steady and uninterrupted.

No releases come when Paine's celery compound has once fairly begun its healing action. It has taken now four bottles, and better digestion (results that every one has experienced who has taken Paine's celery compound) has equalled his bowels, and the nervous system cease to trouble, and the nerves allow one to work unexhausted by day and to sleep by night, without disturbance.

This is what physicians mean when they say that Paine's celery compound cures nervous diseases permanently.

For disorders of the bowels, and all blood diseases, physicians use this great reformer of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college—Paine's celery compound. It has lifted thousands from beds of sickness. It does what nothing else ever did. For the sleepless, the dyspeptic, and the despondent—it cures them once and for all.

Here is a testimonial from Mr. E. A. Miller, of Columbus, O., accompanying the photograph of his family.

"For two years past I have been a constant sufferer with severe nervous headaches, oftentimes being compelled to go to bed, when my business necessitated my personal attention. Last week my physician recommended Paine's celery compound. I have taken now four bottles, and have not suffered with headache since. This government, in my mind, should pay the discoverer of Paine's celery compound a sum of money sufficient to keep him and all his relatives in luxury during their natural life."

Mr. Miller is the son of Dr. J. D. Miller. His wife is the granddaughter of the late Gov. Lucas, of Ohio. Mr. Miller's praise of Paine's celery compound is equalled by the praises of thousands of others who owe their health and strength to this greatest of all remedies.

THE MESSIAH PATRONESSES.

List Partially Completed for the Big Music Event.

For "The Messiah," which is to be sung by the Choral union under the leadership of Professor Haydn Evans, in the Frothingham theater Monday night, April 6, for the benefit of the railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, the following is a partial list of patronesses:

Mrs. W. F. Hallstead, Mrs. James Archibald, Mrs. G. M. Hallstead, Mrs. T. H. Watkins, Mrs. James P. Dickson, Mrs. William Connell, Mrs. G. H. Carter, Mrs. E. M. Francis, Mrs. E. B. Jernigan, Mrs. William H. Taylor, Mrs. A. D. Blackington, Mrs. E. K. Crothamel, Mrs. H. M. Boies, Mrs. Thomas H. Dale, Mrs. William Frink, Mrs. J. A. Lansing, Mrs. George Duff, Dimmock, Mrs. E. B. Sturges, Mrs. Robert McKenna, Mrs. R. W. Archibald, Mrs. John Loomis, Miss Jennie Andrews, Mrs. W. W. Patterson, Mrs. E. N. Willard, Mrs. Robert Colford, Mrs. G. L. Dickson, Mrs. C. L. Frey.

THE GRAND COMMANDER.

Is Soon Expected on Business Connected with the Conclave.

Grand Commander Edward B. Spencer, of Philadelphia, is expected here soon on business connected with the grand commandery, Knights Templar conclave in this city in May.

One of the most prominent of the many features connected with the annual convalesces are the balls, and the one to be given at the Frothingham theater Tuesday night, May 26, promises to be at least equal and possibly exceed any of these gala affairs which have come given during the convalesces in other cities. Mayor Connell has been appointed chairman of the ball committee of forty-five members.

The committee has held one meeting at which sub-committees were appointed with instructions to spare neither effort nor expense in their plans for making the ball a magnificent spectacle and a stupendous success.

THE NEW DOMINION.

Gives Clay Clement an Opportunity of Showing Some Good Character Work.

Clay Clement and his company, produced "The New Dominion" at the Academy of Music last evening. The play is a study of character and the central figure is Baron Hohenstauffen, a German nobleman, who is traveling in the States in the guise of a botanist.

Mr. Clement is the author of the play, which contains much clever dialogue, but is deficient in action. It is a pretty story that the author-actor tells, one that would have an influence in elevating the stage, but it is doubtful if it will have a long and successful career.

Mr. Clement did an excellent bit of character acting which stamps him as an artist of a high order of ability. Miss M. Buckley Clayton made a pretty and winsome Flora, Mr. Randolph, and shared with Mr. Clement the warm appreciation of the audience. Other members of the company who appeared in the play were: J. D. Williams, Joseph Atleham, Lee Arthur and Minna Graul Adelman.

TO EXAMINE GILBRIDE.

Court Has Made an Order to Have His Physical Condition Determined.

There was a petition filed in court yesterday by Jessup & Hand, attorneys for the Scranton Traction Company, asking that Martin J. Gilbride, of the West Side, who has brought suit against the company, be directed to submit to a medical examination by physicians to be chosen by the defendants prior to the trial of the case. The case is on the list for trial on Tuesday, March 24 next.

Gilbride claims that on the 15th of August, 1894, he was injured in a street car collision and sustained injuries which affected his back and spine and that he is entitled to damages in the sum of $10,000. Judge Archibald made an order directing Gilbride to prepare for an examination on Friday, March 20, between the hours of 1 and 6 p. m., twenty-four hours' notice to be given to him or his counsel.

The examination shall be by inspection, manipulation or with the use of electric tests by means of a battery of such moderate power as is approved by medical authorities.

ACTION IN EQUITY.

Brought to Enforce the Performance of an Alleged Agreement.

City Solicitor J. H. Torrey has brought an action in equity for James H. Fisher against Arthur Frothingham, Laura P. Frothingham and John T. Porter asking that the defendants be required to deliver to the plaintiff a deed for lots number 20 and 21 in block B on Columbia avenue in this city.

On June 5, 1893, John T. Porter held the legal title to a certain tract of land partly in the First and Second wards. It was laid out in building lots and a street called Columbia avenue was run through it. The petition in the suit states that the plaintiff believes the lots in the said tract were offered for sale during 1893, and thereafter by Mr. Frothingham, who was the fully accredited agent of Mr. Porter. During the spring of 1893 Mr. Fisher entered into an agreement for the purchase of five lots fronting on Columbia avenue and the arrangements were made through Mr. Frothingham.

The purchase money agreed to be paid for the lots was $5,000, and Mr. Fisher transferred to Mr. Frothingham 50 shares of Scranton Axle Works stock, subject to the payment of a loan of $2,500 to the Traders' National bank. It was agreed that the stock was to be taken at par value and credit given upon the purchase money of the lots for $2,500. Mr. Frothingham agreeing to pay off the loan. The balance of the money was secured by mortgages.

In January, 1894, a new agreement was entered into between the parties. Mr. Fisher gave back the deeds of the five lots and was to receive clear title to two lots 20 and 21 in block B, in consideration of the net amount of his Axle Works' stock. He delivered over the deeds of the five lots and has not received the deeds of the two lots that they were to give him. The suit is brought to compel them to do so.
