WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Frank Longo Mude a Desperate Effort to Escape from Constable John Davis, but Failed.

Frank Longo, a Hungarian, is said to bave threatened to exterminate Frank Spangenberg last evening while the latter was quietly strolling in Edwards court. Spangenberg hurried to Alderman John's place of business and caused a warrant to be issued. Constable John Davis went to the house of Longo to serve it. The latter came out to receive the visites and upon hearing the cause the visitor and upon hearing the cause of the call excused himself for a mo-

Constable Davis waited for his quarry to return, and he waited in vain. Longo opened a rear window and was gravitated to the ground. Davis wearied of waiting and a bystander said Longo had departed. DR. FLOYD WILL DEPART.

Rev. L. C. Floyd, pastor of the Simp-son Methodist Episcopal church, will son Methodist Episcopal church, will soon sever his connection with that body and will go elsewhere according to the dictates of the next Methodist conference. It is the rule with the Methodist Episcopal church to change the pastors of its several churches at the expiration of a certain time. Dr. Floyd has been at the Simpson for a full quota of years and the Simpson people will look elsewhere for a pastor. A meeting for this purpose will be held on Friday evening at the church. The members will look over the field and select a pastor whose name will be submitted to the next conference with a mitted to the next conference with a request that he be sent to the pastorate of the church. Dr. Floyd has been most successful in this city. He has practically obliterated the church debt, which when he first came here was overwhelming, and is well liked by his congregation and will be greatly missed.

FUNDS WANTED.

The Hyde Park free library associa-don must receive funds for maintenance or their reading rooms will have to be closed. Last year Judge Handley presented the society with a check for $1,000. This money supported the society for a time, but now the treasury is almost depleted and if funds are not forthcoming the reading rooms will be abandoned. The association will take some method of raising the money needed.

The order caused a surprise to the lieutenants, and today their districts were thoroughly gone over in search of gambling places.

ACCIDENT AT A FUNERAL.

One Person Killed and One Fatally Hart by Ranaway Horses in Iowa.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 18.—While returning from the Juneral of Andrew Styles, the boy who was accidentally shot by his brother here Saturday, a team attached to one of the carriages ran away. Charles Morrison, the driver, was thrown from the seat.

His limbs caught in the wheels and he was dragged a mile. He was dead when taken from the wreck. Two young women and a 5-year-old child were horribly cut by a harbed-wire fence into which the horses ran. One cannot live.

THE TWO ESCUTCHEONS,

Produced by a Good Company at the Frothingham Last Night. Sydney Rosenfeld's adoption of the German comedy "Zwei Woppen," was produced at the Frothingham last eve-ning before an audience that was much smaller than the merits of the comedy smaller than the means to be more exdeserved.

The comedy, or farce, to be more exact, Mr. Rosenfeld has named "The Two Escutcheons." It is bright, light, swift moving, "full-of action and possesses not a little real humor, although some of the cheap variety is thrown in makeful that the real article may be probably that the real article may be the more conspicuous by contrast. The first act passes at a Spa in Germany, with an activity that is more characteristic of Americans than Europeans, for the meeting, engagement and marriage of the lovers transpires in the opening quarter of the drama.

Mary Foster is the daughter of a millonaire pork packer of Chicago. Rudolph von Wettingen, of Berlin, is the son of Baron von Wettingen, who looks back with pride to the nobility of his pressive. The mating of Rudolph and ancestors. The mating of Rudolph and Mary is happy enough until Mary's father comes upon the scene and dis closes the nature of his business to the baron, who has a supreme disgust for the escutcheon of the porkopolitan gen-tleman with considerable lack of court etiquette. Their meetings result in family entaglements, sudden broken engagement, as suddenly patched up, and eventually white-winged peace hovers over the scene and the troubles of the daughter of the Chicago pork merchant and the son of the baron "are whistled down the wind." Robert F. Cotton, who was a member "The New Boy" company, seen in this city last season, was excellent as the Baron von Wettingen, who has a great pride in the his long line of an estors, reaching back to the Crusades It is not easy to imagine how Mr. Cotton's impersonation of the proud, ex-citable, yet not bad-hearted baron could have been much improved upon. George Backus as Cantain Von Vinck, Charles Bowser as Thomas Foster, of Chicago, and Vincent Serrano as the son of the proud baron, showed them-selves actors of real merit. They gave excellent interpretations of the exact-ing roles intrusted to them.

Miss Madeline Bouton made a most favorable impression in the role of Mrs. Stevenson. She is pretty and clever, acts well, if a tendency to exaggerated facial expression is overlooked, and puts great life and vim into the whole performance. Miss Marie Valleau makes a winsome Mary Foster and is an actress of much ability. "The Two Escutcheons." as produced by the com-pany seen at the Frothingham last night, is one of the best light comedies seen in Scranton this season. It will be repeated tonight.

KEOGH'S "DAN" RECOVERED. The Famous Brindle Bull Dog Found in Archbald.

Joseph Keogh, of this city, yesterday received his famous brindle bull dog "Dan," which was lost on June 13 last. It was found in the possession of John Smith, of Archbald, who claimed that he found the dog roaming in the woods. A suit before a justice of the peace was necessary before the dog could be recovered.

The sagactous animal was the principal witness. The fact that it recognized its old master and showed unmis-takable evidences of joy at again seeing him convinced the magistrate that the dog belonged to Mr. Keogh. As the squire put it "no dog would have such nature for a stranger." Mr. Keogh claims that the dog is worth $250 but he would not part with him for that amount.

DEAR SILVER WATCH.

It Cost James W. Powell Eleven Months in Cherry Hill.

Warden Cassidy, of the Eastern penitentiary sent the certificate of release in the case of James W. Powell to Clerk of the Courts John H. Thomas. Powell served eleven months in Cherry Hill for stealing a silver watch valued at $10 from an Hungarian named Steve Mitchell in the central police station on the night of March 14, 1895. Both were "on the turf" and applied for lodg-ing. While Mitchell slept Powell went through him.

The defendant was caught at his game and was tried in April before Judge Archbald. He was found guilty, and on April 17 was sentenced to one year. One month was taken off for ood behavior.
