THE CARDINAL'S OVATION

Meeting of Catholic Laymen to Make the Arrangements.

IT WILL BE ON A GRAND SCALE

His Eminence, Dr. Rooker, His Secretary, and Archbishop Ryan Will Arrive in the City Tomorrow Evening at 7.20—Details of Reception.

His Eminence Cardinal Francis Sa-toli will be the recipient of a most magnificent ovation upon his arrival in the city tomorrow evening. Catholic laymen of Scranton and adjoining parishes will turn out en masse to receive him at the railway station and escort him to the episcopal residence of Right Reverend Bishop O'Hara, on Wyoming avenue.

His eminence and Dr. Rooker, his secretary, and Archbishop Ryan will arrive Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in a special car over the Lehigh Valley railroad. They will reach Wilkes-Barre at 6.15 in the evening and will leave there at 6.25 for the overland route and Hudson railroad, arriving in this city at the Lackawanna avenue station at 7.20.

There will be a large committee of priests and prominent laymen of the diocese ready to meet the cardinal and his retinue at Wilkes-Barre, and will accompany them on the train to Scranton to his episcopal residence, where they will remain until the division of the diocese of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America and of the Board of Erie, and all Temperance societies, as well as other Irish societies, and those of the Hungarian, Polish and Lithuanian Catholic membership, besides numerous persons not affiliated with any society will assemble at the episcopal residence to receive the cardinal and his retinue in uniform on line and march when the proper time comes.

MAKING THE ARRANGEMENTS.

Responsive to notices sent out hurriedly through the press of the city, there was a meeting in the chapel of St. Thomas college at 8 o'clock last evening. There was a large number present. Some came in answer to calls issued to them as members of certain societies and others came to take part in the arrangements for the reception of the cardinal and his retinue. The arrangements for a fitting reception to such a distinguished personage.

C. G. Boland called the meeting to order and it immediately resolved itself into a general body without reference to any society or organization. Mr.
Boland stated that Rev. N. J. Mc-Manus, of Providence, was the one who first thought of the idea of rendering to the cardinal a reception worthy of him, and a meeting of a few of the citizens of the city and vicinity was held the episcopal residence, where Rev.
Father O'Reilly and Rev. Father Mc-Manus met them, and upon discussing the matter over it was decided to call a general meeting to prepare to do honor to his eminence.

Mr. Boland nominated Dr. John Burnett for chairman, and J. C. McAndrews was chosen secretary, and the former, upon taking the chair and giving executive business, stated that Rev. N. J.
McManus, of Providence, was the one who first thought of the idea of rendering to the cardinal a reception worthy of him, and a meeting of a few of the citizens of the city and vicinity was held
the episcopal residence, where Rev.
the matter over it was decided to call
or to his eminence.

Two trust bills were introduced by Mr. Boland, one relating to the use of the episcopal residence, and the other relating to the use of the episcopal residence, and both were passed.

Mr. Boland called the meeting to
