CALLED TO REST.

G. Thompson, a Ploneer and an Ex-Alderman of the City, Masses Away.

Ex-Alderman J. G. Thompson died on Wednesday night at his home on Sixth avenue, at the advanced age of Si years. Mr. Thompsan had been out of doors Wednesday afternoon. He, how-ever, had been troubled with heart failure and recently the attacks had been frequent, plainly indicating that the end was fast approaching. Wednesday evening the final attack came and his end was peace. Jesse G. Thompson had been a resi-dent of this city for fifty-six years. He was born in Pittston, Luzerne county, and came here in 1832, when the city was in its infancy, and was nothing short of a forest. He entered the ser-vice of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company as a carpenter and bridge builder. In the capacity of bridge puilding he obtained a contract in Ne York state and constructed a number

York state and constructed a number of locks and bridge. While in Norwich, N. Y., he was joined in the bonds of wollock to Sa-mantha Monroe, grand-daughter of Colonel William Monroe, on Oct. 16. 1836, and in the spring of 1837 he brought her to this city, where he has choose resteried source on the family since resided and reared up his family. He was engaged in the general merchandise business and was associated in ventures with Jesse Gardner, Jedial Bowen and James Scott, of the First National bank. During the war he was very active and was connected with the United States assessors' office. He filled the position of alderman of the H Second ward for twenty years, and the faith of the common people was un-shaken in his judgment and uprightness, all considered him their friend and advisor, his was a listening car to the poor and afflicted, and many found in him a friend indeed. He was a faithful member of the Methodist Mr. Thompson is survived by church. four daughters, viz.: Mrs. E. Y. Davis, of Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. Mary Plopper, of Eigin, Ill.; Mrs. John Walescander and Mrs. Annie Chase, of this city. The funeral arrangements are not yel perfected.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

William Walker Succumbs to Long Illness.

Mrs. William Walker passed away Wednesday morning. She had suffered a long illness, having been an invalid for the last three years. Mrs. Walker was a devout member of the Catholic hurch. Deceased was born on the St. Lawrence river, near Quebec, on July 1827, and in the year 1843 she marrled her husband, who about four months ago preceded her to the great beyond. In the same year they re-moved to this city and located on South Terrace street, where they have since resided and reared up a large family of children. The surviving daughters of children. The surviving daugnets ars Mrs. Mary Fitzpatrick. Scranton: Mrs. Thomas Flannely, Scranton: Mrs Michael Hoffman, of this city. The sons are Thomas F., of Bridgeport, Conn.; A. B., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Will-iam J., of Terrace, Va., and Patrick A., of this city. The funeral will take place on Saturday merning at 9 of cock from on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence, 155 South Church street, and a requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Rose's church at 9.30 o'clock. The interment will take place at St. Rose's cemetery.

ARCHBALD.

The remains of the late George Brennan, who died at Cripple Creek, Col., ast Sunday, will be taken here for interment. They are expected to reach here on Tuesday. Mr. Brennan's sister, Annie, will accompany the remains from Omaha. No additional information as to the manner of Mr. Brennan's death has been received since the brief telegram of Monday. A letter received from him a week ago spoke of the prevalence of mountain fever where he lived, and it is supposed that his death was due to that disease. The deceased was well known here and there is sympathy expressed on account f his death.

The attendance at the Philharmonic concert in Father Mathew Opera house on Tuesday evening was not near as large as it should have been when the high standard of the entertainment is considered, for it was beyond doubt the best of its kind ever held here. The young men who arranged the pro-The gramme showed excellent judgment the selection of the programme, and it is too bad that their efforts were not better recognized.
