PRESBYTERIANISM.

Annual Meeting of First Presbyterian Church.

The annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church was held Thursday evening and there was a large congregation despite the state of the weather. This church is active and has displayed Christian generosity to a high degree.
They decided to raise the pastor's salary, build a new parsonage and put the edifice of worship in better keeping with this growing city.

Organization had been effected Wednesday night by making J. D. Stocker chairman, and D. L. Crane, secretary.

At $.15 Chairman Stocker called the meeting to order which was followed by the reading of the reports. The benevolent contributions for the year ending March 15, 1896, amounted to $1,-

The receipts of the poor and sessional fund totalled $376.73.

The trustees' report was presented by J. P. H. Raynor and showed the receipts to be $3,457.63 and the total expenditure was $3,228.98, leaving a balance on hand of $228.24.

penditure was 33,228,38, leaving a out-ance on hand of $228,24.

The Ladles' Aid report stated that they commenced April 1, 1895, with a debt of $6,700. They had by the liber-ality of the subscribers paid $6,300 on the principle and $116,18 interest thereon. The several reports were received and

They have advanced to $2,000 and decided to erect a new parsonage and re-model the church. They proposed to raise the necessary fund by voluntray subscriptions. The sum promised is al-ready up to $7,000.

A DARING LEAP.

Nicholas Costago Jumps from a High Window to Escape from a Constable.

Nicholas Costago, a young Italian about 19 years of age, gave the constable some trouble Thursday evening, and took a great risk on his own life It appears that he is an important witness, though an unwilling one, on a serious case now before the grand jury at Scranton, in which Joseph Riga is prosecutor. Costago called at the Hidge home Thursday and left it no longer in doubt that he was an unwill-ing witness. Riga not being at home. Mrs. Riga had to receive the visitor. However, she succeeded in getting him out of the house, but, she alleges, that while he was leaving, he stood in the hall and fired a pistol shot at her. Riga, soon as he learned the state of affairs. went to Alderman Bunnell's office and secured a warrant for Costago's arrest. Constable Gilby hastened to secure Cos-tago, who, when he heard the constable approaching, jumped out through the window and came down three stories. The courageous officer did the same, and quickly secured the culprit.

SEARCHING FOR RELATVIES.

Miss Adeline Jones, of Hazleton, Fails to Find Her Parents.

Miss Adeline Jones, who came from Hazleton on Wednesday night, to this city, has been in search of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jones, and so far has failed to find them. According to her story, she received a letter from her parents here, had come to this country from Mountain Ash about eight months ago, locating at first at Olyphant. She is going to friends at Hazleton. Now, upon re-ceiving a letter she left eventually to join them in that city.

Friends have been very kind to Miss Jones and no effort has been spared to locate her parents. She is at present at the home of Anthony Holzmaster, of South Church street. Any in-formation will be thankfully received by her friends here.

HONESDALE.

A few days ago we told of the large gatherings of men and boys of the gravity depots, who patiently waited until the arrival of the train to gaze on the features of the burglars who were supposed to have robbed some stores here on the night of March 7, but the burglars didn't arrive. Thurs-day Sheriff Murphy and Constable Brown went to Wilkes-Barre and re-turned on the 7.15 train with their men. it was repeated from tongue to tongue. Whether the men began to quake or the sheriff to fear for the safety of his prisoners is not known, but they were hustled into a closed conveyance in mustied into a closed conveyance in walting and rapidly driven to the jail, the crowd following on a run. Shortly after 10 a. m. yesterday the constable brought the men before 'Squire Smith for a hearing. They gave their names as Thomas Smith and Lawrence Cunniches and content of the room with a ningham and entered the room with a smile. The taller man appears to be about 55 years old and wears a short gray beard, his companion is possibly 26 or 27 years old, and has a light mus-tache. According to the testimony of Mr. Fox both men wore clothing, shirts overcoats, suspenders, etc., that be-longed to him. Graham Watts, hardware dealer, was sworn first and stated that on March 7 his store was entered by force and goods, consisting of about nine revolvers, fifteen or twenty razors and a number of pocket knives, valued in all at about $60, were taken. J. Fox made a similar state-ment with the exception of the goods taken, which have already been en-numerated, the value being about $50 Mr. Fox identified the wearing apparel the two men, said he had duplicate sults, was positive they were his as the make was a peculiar one and could be identified further by the Philadelphia firm that made them. The prisoners never winced when Mr. Fox said he owned the clothes they wore. The men both waived a hearing and were bound over to the sheriff for safe keeping until the grand jury meets. They only asked one question, that was to Mr. Fox, and was "How did he know their clothes belonged to him, as they were ready made garments and could be purchased at any clothing store."

JERMYN.

This evening occurs the meeting of the citizens to deliberate over the water question. As this is the last meeting before the special election on Tuesday, March X, a large number of citizens are expected to be present. There seems to be a general misunderstanding of the issue and for that reason the committee has secured several prominent speakers who will present their views. The sole topic of con-versation on the streets is the water question, and from the nature of the talk all seem in favor of the issue.
