the senate, it is thought the house will accept the resolutions as so amended. While members of the conference adhere to the statement that no conclusion was even approximately reached they all declare that they will report a conclusion that will be satisfactory to both houses and which will be agreed to. They assert with emphasis that the matter is not to be left hanging in the air, for the overwhelming vote in both houses is accepted as an evidence of the sentiment of this congress that final and positive action of some sort final and positive action of some sort should be taken and that the congress should not be frustrated by a few friends of Spain developed by the de-bate in the senate. For this reason, they say, they will agree upon resolu-tions that must command the respect and support of both houses of congress.

MR. MILLS' SPEECH.

The matter of chief interest in the senate today was the speech of Mr. Mills (Dem., Texas), in support of his Mills (Dem., Texas), in support of his joint resolution requesting the prestdent to procure from the Spanish gov ernment the right of self government for Cuba; or, in the event of Spain's refusal to take military possession of the island and hold it until the Cubans organize a government and raise militay and naval forces for its defense. Mr. Mills took the ground that, inasmuch as the United States would not permit England. France or any other country to purchase or obtain the island from Spain and thus to ameliorate the condition of its inhabitants, the United States was morally put a stop to the cruelties and misgov-ernment there, and to aid the Cubans establish a government of their own. This idea was elaborated by Mr. Mills in a passionate speech, which at times, drew applause from the galleries, He asserted that the United States had rights not only in Cuba but in every foot of soil in the western hemisphere; that that was the Monroe doctrine; that that doctrine was as old as humanity, and that God Almighty was its author, as it was the right of self preservation. "The United States should say to Spain (Mr. Mills ex-claimed): "You must give that island self government or we will, and we are able to do it, too." After Mr. Mills' speech some additional correspondence bearing on the Cuban requestion was brought forward by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.), and then the joint resolution was placed on the calendar.

The rest of the day was given up to the consideration of the legislative, and judicial appropriation bill. Without a final disposition of it, the senate at 5.30 adjourned till tomorrow.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Quite unexpectedly today the house was plunged towards the close of the session into a debate in the course of which the war was fought over again, issue of which was the repeal of the last remaining restriction against those who served in the confederate army.

Mr. Hull (Rep., Ia.) had presented from the committee on military affairs for the consideration of the house the senate bill which repeated Section 1218, R. S., regulating the appointment of officers in the army or navy, providing that no person who held a commission in the United State army and after-wards entered into the services of the confederate states or any state thereof, should be appointed an officer in the army or navy of the United States.

Mr. Boutelle (Rep., Me.) vigorously opposed the passage of the bill. He said that it could serve no practical purpose; was a reflection upon the sen-timent which had enacted the original law, one of the measures, he said, which made it possible for the government to live; that it was too late now to write a new definition of the duity of the man who took the commission of his coun-try; and he said the house should not declare that it was a light thing for a man after having taken an oath to sup-port and defend his country afterwards the flome of Lloyd Baker. Pierson, Iowa, March 24.-The family Pierson, Iowa, March 24.—The family of Lloyd Baker, of this city, was the yieldm of a remarkable series of mis-fortunes last Monday afternoon. Bak-er had been ill for some time, but was not supposed to be in danger. Peeling a sudden change he called to his wife, who was on theifloor below. In hurry-ing to his assistance Mrs. Baker struck her head against an obstruction, was her head against an obstruction, was knocked senseless and did not recover until after her husband's death, which anne arter her hassand s death, which came suddenly a few minutes after the summons to his wife. At almost the same hour his two sons, William and John, were unload-ing grain from their wagon on the main street of the town when a stone care-lessly thrown by a bustander struct lessly thrown by a bystander struck the latter on the head, cutting a deep gash and rendering him unconscious. On his way home with his wounded brother, William lost control of his team, was thrown from the wagon, and broke both arms.
