FINF ELECTRIC PLANT.

Will Be Used for Illuminating the New Hotel Jermyn.

An electric plant with a capacity of 2,400 lights of sixteen candle power has been installed in the cellar of the Hotel Jermyn. The engines and dynamos were started yesterday afternoon for the first time and worked perfectly. Many of the incandescent lights on the first and second floors were turned on and something of the beauty that the interior of the building will possess when completed was disclosed.

The electric plant in the Jermyn is the finest ever installed in a building in this vicinity and was put in by the Western Electric company, of New York, for the contractors, the Scranton Supply and Hardware company of this city, who are the representatives of the Western company in this vicinity. The plant entire cost Mr. Jermyn in the neighborhood of $22,000.

THERE ARE TWO DYNAMOS.

There are two dynamos run by two 125-horse power engines manufactured by the Weston Engine company of Painted Post, N. Y. The power for these is supplied by steam taken from the regular boilers of the hotel. A shaft from the engine runs the dynamo doing away entirely with belts. There is no connection whatever between the two dynamos and they can be run together or separate as the demand for light may require.

When both are running they furnish enough of light to illuminate every corner of the immense hotel from cellar to roof. The dynamos are the perfection of a recent idea and are sparkless. They accommodate themselves automatically to the requirements placed upon them be it one light or twelve hundred. They have carbon brushes where ordinarily copper is used. Back of the dynamo is a huge switch board which enables the engineer to control the current all through the building. Switch boards for the same purpose are located in the office and in other places in the building.

TWENTY MILES OF WIRE.

In the hotel there is over eight miles of copper wire for carrying the current for the incandescent lights. It is all cased in iron tubing absolutely preventing damage by fire from a broken wire. Throughout the building the greatest care has been taken in placing and safeguarding the electric wire. Besides the eight miles of wire used in the electric light wiring twelve miles were required in placing the annunciators in all the rooms of the hotel. A novel feature of the annunciator wiring is that at any time a telephone is required in any room in the hotel the annunciator button can be taken off and a telephone attached.

This wire is then made a part of the Central Pennsylvania company's telephone system and the guest sitting in his room can talk either over the local or long distance wires. This is a convenience that is provided for in only a few hotels of the country.

The arrangement of the incandescent light in the lobbey and dining rooms is unique and pretty. It was suggested by E. S. Keefer and J. H. Spain, the representatives of the Western Electric company. The latter has had entire charge of putting the plant in the hotel. F. W. Bleckley and E. R. Simpson had direction of the work for the Scranton Supply and Machinery company.

PORTICO MUST COME DOWN

Action Taken by the Select Council Regarding It.

THE PETITION PRESENTED

Contained the Names of Many Prominent Citizens, but Was Not Powerful Enough to Clear the Road for the Portico.

The Frothingham portico was the all important topic in councils last night. Such lobbying as the friends and enemies of the project, or rather projection, engaged in before and during the sessions has not been witnessed since the days of the Valley Passenger ordinance. While Clerk Lavelle was reading the minutes of select council for the last four meetings the members gathered in groups and argued the question pro and con or listened to arguments of those who were favoring or fighting it. In common council it was the same way.

All other matters were subordinated to the portico. Even the announcement that Mr. Hickey intended to do penance for his speech of the previous meeting, by moving to reconsider the amendment depriving the Albright library of a part of its appropriation to furnish electric lights for the Nineteenth ward, did not succeed in distracting attention from the portico, for even a little while.

The portico was over and above everything in the matter of attention but it lacked the necessary eleven pillars and down it came. Its enemies got in their work before the meeting began and no amount of preaching could turn the tide. Mr. Durr introduced the resolution to grant Mr. Frothingham the desired privilege and presented with it the following petition:

THE PORTICO PETITION.

To the Honorable, the Select and Common Council of the City of Scranton:

We, the undersigned property owners and residents of the city of Scranton, believing that the convenience and protection of the patrons attending said place of amusement would be greatly enhanced by the erection of a covered way, such as was recently partly erected in front of said theater, we do respectfully request your honorable bodies to permit said extension to be completed: S. A. Lacky, A. D. Holland, James Archbald, A. Goldsmith, J. M. Vandling, Jean H. Phelps, Benjamin H. Throop, A. L. Francois, Charles J. Welchel, Patrick Blewitt, Frank P. Christian, William McBride, E. A. Newing, M. J. Walsh, W. H. Coyne, F. J. Archbald, Charles L. Griffin, J. J. Curt, C. H. Florey, George L. Weaver, M. E. Stowers, Samuel Kramer, C. P. Jadwin, Louis Lohmann, W. F. O'Brien, James P. Hosie, John H. Blackwood, S. P. Coffee, Robert J. Williams, W. C. Williams, Louis Conrad, A. E. Hurds, W. H. Robinson, P. H. Coyne, H. B. Sweet, D. W. Schoonover, W. H. Pierce, D. S. Stone, H. W. Bennett, W. J. Battin, C. C. Battin, James J. Cummings, John E. Bradley, Milton W. Lowry, Horace E. Hand, W. H. Jessup, Jr., M. C. Hayden, Charles H. Bone, B. B. Megargee, F. O. Megargee, P. A. Barrett, Fred W. Fleitz, A. C. Kays, O. S. Wright, George C. Wilson, F. P. Price, L. M. Gate, M. D., Myran Kasson, Clarence E. Pryor, Charles Heuster, George E. Backus, H. P. Simpson, Everett Warren, A. J. Connell, A. H. Christy, F. H. Clemons, J. Burnett, Thomas Barrowman, L. Wehlau, M. D., P. S. Page, Jacob Bryant, Robert Reeves, W. J. Lewis, Arthur Hitchcock, R. A. Zimmerman, G. M. Watson, M. E. McDonald, M. A. McGinley, J. M. Walker, George R. Clark, A. H. Storrs.

PRAYERS AVAILED NOT.

But the prayers of all these good citizens availed not. The resolution had not fairly reached the chairman's hands after being read by the clerk before Mr. Lansing objected to its consideration arguing that it was out of order inasmuch as it conflicted with an ordinance and it is irregular and illegal to repeal an ordinance or part of an ordinance with a resolution. The ordinance was called for and Mr. Lansing read the following clause:

The erection or location of any building or part of building, or the continuation of any building upon any street, highway or public place, or the erection of any structure obscuring the prospect between the inside of sidewalk line, lawfully established, and the public street is declared to be an act of public nuisance of the first class.

Thereupon Chairman Westpfahl decided that the point was well taken and declared the resolution out of order. Mr. McCann said he didn't think that the portico would be any more of a nuisance than are telegraph poles, and surely no more of an obstruction. Mr. Coyne moved to grant the privilege of the floor to Milton W. Lowry, attorney for Mr. Frothingham. Mr. Westpfahl was about to put the motion when Colonel Sanderson and Mr. Chittenden simultaneously objected on the grounds that there was nothing before the house. Chairman Westpfahl, without going deeply into the merits of the case, refused to give the petitioning citizen the privilege of addressing the councils. Mr. McCann took a copy of the resolution and was about to have it introduced in the lower branch, when the commoners, who were in a hurry to get to the caucus, adjourned.

A poll of the select council showed that sentiment was equally divided on the justice of Mr. Frothingham's plea. Had it come to a ballot the vote would have stood as follows:

For—Ross, Finn, Kelly, Thomas, Williams, McCann, Fellows, Coyne, Lauer—10.
Against—Roche, Chittenden, Wagner, Schwenk, Manley, Sanderson, Schroeder, Lansing, Burns, Westpfahl—10.
Undecided—Durr.

WHAT HE WILL DO.

To a Tribune reporter after the action of councils Mr. Frothingham said: "I will build the arcade out to the very edge of the building line. That will leave a sidewalk of just eight feet six inches. Then I will build the cornice out over the sidewalk, and await developments. I am not merely saying that I'll do this. It will be done and they have no law to stop me." No steps will be taken in the matter for a day or so. Street Commissioner Kinsley will consult with the mayor before tearing down the portico.

Colonel Sanderson for the judiciary committee, reported favorable on the award of the viewers appointed to assess the damages for the widening of Robinson street, and the award was accepted by both councils. An ordinance establishing the grade of Eynon street was favorably reported by the streets and bridges committee and passed on two readings. The sewers and drains committee's recommendation that the contract for constructing the lateral sewer on Colfax avenue be awarded to Grier & Jennings for $1.80 per lineal foot was adopted by both branches.

The resolution permitting the Valley Passenger company to extend its tracks along Ninth street came over from common council and was referred to the railway committee with instructions to look into the advisability of recommending a different route to the one the company proposes to follow.

Mr. Lance complained that Swetland street is too narrow to accommodate vehicular traffic if tracks are laid there, and also that the space at the intersection of Ninth and Swetland streets is too confined to permit of a curve being laid there. He suggested that the Traction company should run its line down Franklin avenue, across Linden street bridge and up Swetland street; and that for the privilege of crossing the bridge the company shall contribute $10,000 for widening Swetland street. The chair advised the committee to take cognizance of Mr. Lauer's remarks.

Mr. Lauer followed this up with a resolution declaring null and void the Traction company's franchise on West Lackawanna avenue between Ninth street and Main avenue and directing the company to tear up its tracks inasmuch as it has made no use of them for over a year and shows no inclination to do so. The resolution was referred to the railway committee.

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDINANCES.

A resolution directing the city controller not to draw warrants for Flynn & O'Horo, contractors for grading Luzerne street until such time as the labor claim for $10.02 of Anthony McHugh be satisfied, was approved.

The following ordinances passed first and second readings: Providing for the erection of the new Nay Aug Engine house; levying general and special taxes for the year 1896; providing for an electric light on the corner of Fourteenth and Academy streets; providing for the construction of a lateral sewer on Webster avenue in the Tenth ward.

MR. HICKEY IS SORRY.

Doesn't Want to Go on Record as Being Against the Library.

Common council last night went into a committee of the whole at the request of Mr. Hickey and killed the amendment made to the appropriation ordinance at the last meeting by the provisions of which the library appropriation would have suffered to the extent of about $400 to provide electric lights for the Nineteenth ward and the like.

Mr. Hickey said that notwithstanding his assertions of last Thursday night, he does not really consider the library to be a big white elephant or in fact a small ordinary kind of an elephant. He is in favor of education and everything that tends in that direction, and although he did not think to mention it, his constituents and friends both personal and political are also in favor of the library and against hearing it referred to in zoological terms.

The resolution to inquire into the feasibility of insuring the city treasurer's bondsmen at the city's expense was put peacefully to sleep by having it referred to some old committee or another when it came over from select council. The commoners or a goodly part of them didn't understand the measure and as they feared that it was loaded they gave it its quietus, a place in one of those ready made sarcophagi such as the judiciary, finance or treasurer's accounts' committees.

Another communication from the Scranton Illuminating Heat and Power company calling attention to means for curtailing the expense of electric lighting in the city buildings was read and referred to committee. While this subject was on a resolution was introduced calling on the city solicitor for an opinion as to whether or not the electric light company, which agreed in consideration of its franchise, to light the city buildings free is not still bound by that contract inasmuch as the ordinance containing the agreement was repealed by a resolution which is clearly against the law.

A resolution directing the city engineer to give grades for all streets in the Fifteenth ward was introduced by Mr. Oliver and agreed to. An ordinance vacating the East mountain road in the Twelfth ward and another creating the office of second assistant city engineer passed third and final reading.

Philip Wirth, the new member from the Eleventh, who was elected to fill the unexpired term of Robert Robinson, was sworn in and placed on all the committees of which his predecessor was a member.

DEMOCRATS OF THE THIRD.

Will Send a Pro-Harrity Contesting Delegate to Allentown.

E. H. Fisk, chairman, and E. H. Reed, secretary, of the Democratic committee of the Third Legislative district, yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the committeemen of the district at the St. Charles hotel, in this city on the afternoon of March 31, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the state convention, which meets in Allentown on April 29 next.

At the recent meeting of the Democratic county committee W. W. Baylor, attorney at law, of this city, and resident of Benton township, in the Third Legislative district, was elected to represent the Third district in the convention. This was in accordance with the time-honored Democratic programme in this county, where heretofore the county committee has always elected the state delegates. The call that was issued yesterday was made by virtue of a resolution which was adopted by the county Democratic convention of 1894, which was introduced by W. J. Burke, and which provided that delegates to state conventions should thereafter be elected by legislative conventions called for that purpose.

The movement is distinctively a pro-Harrity one, and the delegate who will be elected on March 31 will go to Allentown and contest the right of Mr. Baylor to a seat in the convention.

FOUGHT LIKE A DEMON.

Two Patrolmen Badly Bruised by a Drink-Crazed Prisoner.

Patrolmen Peters and Thomas Jones caught a tartar about 1 o'clock yesterday morning in the person of John Rogers, who was found at the corner of Washburn and Tenth streets, raising a disturbance.

When the officers laid hold of him he began to fight and he never ceased kicking, pinching, clamoring and squirming until landed behind the bars of the West Side station house.

The man was crazy drunk and seemed to have the strength of a Sandow. As the officers refrained from using their clubs or any other harsh treatment they got decidedly the worst of it. Both received some painful bruises from the prisoner's kicks and Patrolman Peters had his trousers torn into shreds.

In police court yesterday morning Rogers was fined $10 for his infractions of the law and $6 to reimburse Patrolman Peters for his torn pants. He could not pay either and was committed for thirty days. He acted at the hearing like a man that had been drugged, it being necessary for Patrolman Duggan to support him while he was being examined.

MR. STAHL'S RESIGNATION.

Congregation Refused to Accept It but Gave Him a Leave of Absence.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church Wednesday the resignation of the pastor, Rev. N. F. Stahl, who has been in ill health for some time, was presented. The congregation refused to accept it, but gave Mr. Stahl a year's leave of absence with salary.

At the expiration of that time it is the hope of Mr. Stahl's parishioners and friends that he will be able to resume his faithful work in the ministry.

In the meantime the session of the church will secure supplies for the pulpit. For the next two months it will be occupied by A. V. Bower.

NEALIS AND MAHON WIN

They Are the Choice of the Common Council.

GRIER'S NAME NOT MENTIONED

Stiff Fight for the Clerkship Between Beamish and Mahon—A Combine with the Republicans Is Not Altogether Improbable.

The Democrats who will sit in the next common council convened last night at the Globe hotel and selected P. J. Nealis for the presidency and John P. Mahon for the clerkship. The chairmanship contest was virtually a walk-over, but a stiff fight was waged for the office of clerk.

Thirteen votes were cast at each ballot, showing that every Democrat and one independent was present. The independent, John Loftus, of the First ward, was made chairman.

J. J. Grier, the present chairman, who defeated J. J. Nealis last year, and who was also a candidate this year, did not allow his name to go before the caucus when he saw that his opponent had a sure thing. Lorenz Zeidler, just for the sake of a fight, had his name put up and secured four votes.

Three ballots were necessary to settle on a candidate for the clerkship. The aspirants were W. F. McLean, of the Seventh ward; James O'Boyle, of the First ward; John P. Mahon, of the Sixth ward, and James C. Beamish, of the Nineteenth ward.

The first ballot was as follows: McLean, 2; O'Boyle, 4; Beamish, 4; Mahon, 3.

It having been agreed to drop the lowest candidate after each ballot, only three were voted for on the next ballot, which resulted thus: O'Boyle, 3; Beamish, 5; Mahon, 5.

The North End men had stuck faithfully to their man until he was dropped, when they threw themselves over to Mahon and made him the victor, the vote being: Beamish, 5; Mahon, 8.

All present agreed to support the caucus nominees, but some of them did it rather sullenly.
