THE PICKERING CASE.

Several Witnesses for the Defense Were Heard Vesterday.

The trespass suit of Elias Pickering, f Dunmore, against the Scranton Traction company for $10,000 will not finish until next week. Witnesses for the defense were heard yesterday and taking testimony will occupy today. The case will hardly go to the jury beere next Tuesday. Rev. H. A. Smith, of Dunmore, one of the jurors, got a severe attack of neuralgia Thursday and was not present in the jury box yesterday. With the permission of the court both sides went on with the eleven. The testimony for the defense was that of the car that came to carry the passengers on the derailed car.

The former crew swore their car was going at its usual rate of speed. Dr. W. A. Allen was sworn to give ex-pert testimony and his evidence was all heard when court adjourned.

SOCIETY PERSONAL

Some of the Punctions That Rave Taken Place During the Week.

ALL OF THE HOUSE PARTIES

No Very Large Formal Events-Arrange ments for Coming Charity Ball-Movements of Well-Known Persons of This City and Its Vicinity.

The only society events these days are millinery openings. To call a mil-linery opening a society event is to give it an entirely new designation, but one need not stretch truth and propriety much to make this designation appear fitting. Society attends them—that is the female portion of soclety does, and what the female portion of society does, society does, for the poor male portion is an incidental. These openings serve the great purpose of society events for are they not as good an occasion as a dance or a tea or any other function at which to display a gown? Shopping gowns must be a la mode just as much as tea gowns, recep-tion gowns or ball gowns. Society dresses up in its shopping gown, and visits the various openings to admire the latest importations and incidentally to be admired itself.

The tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Watson was celebrated Welnesday night at their home on Wyoming avenue. It was a very pleasant event. The Elks had one of their very enjoyable social sessions Thursday night, following their annual election of officers and in celebration of that event. It was an impromptu and informal affair and all the more enjoyable for that. The male members of the three the-atrical troupes, playing in the city that night, the "In Old Kentucky" company. the Huntington stock company, the Ideals attended and did the of the musical and literary entertain-ing. Chef Ziezier did himself proud in the catering line. The promenade and concert music was furnished by the Elks' orchestra, under the leadership of Banen

The various committees of the coming charity ball report very gratifying progress and feel sanguine that both socially and financially it will equal if not surpass the similar event held at the armory five years ago. Catholic society throughout the valley is looking forward with eager anticipation to the event, and it is very likely that the attendance at the Frothing-ham on the night of April 7 will tax its that the attendance at the Frothing-ham on the night of April 7 will tax its capacity. While the charity feature of the affair will be always foremost in the minds of the managers, they promise to spare no trouble to make it all that can be desired by the patrons in the way of entertainment. Last night the hall and decoration committee held a meeting and reported that the work of decorating the Frothingham had been placed in charge of Clark, the florist. Next Wednesday night there will be a meeting of all the committees, honorary managers, etc. The press committee will meet tonight and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights of next week the executive com-

Has Been for Years Engaged in Making Counterfeit Money.

WAS CONVICTED THIS WEEK

Judge Buffington Yesterday Sentence llim to Four Years Imprisonment in the Western Penitontiary-Other Sentences That Were Imposed.

Judge Buffington pronounced sentence on those convicted in the United States district court yesterday and then adjourned the court until the next term which meets in Pittsburg in May, Previous to the imposition of sentences one case was tried, that of the government against George Murray, charged with burgiarizing the postoffice at Pleasantville, last February. Murray was found guilty and later in the day took his place with the other prisoners on whom sentences were imposed.

The case most important in all respects that was tried during the week resulted in the conviction of John Henderson who was charged with making counterfeit money. Henderson is a noted counterfeiter. He is 51 years of age and was born in Baletta, Armstrong age and was born in Baletta, Armstrong county, this state. His parents were respectable, law-abiding citizens but early in life Henderson embarked upon a career of crime. So far as the government officials know his operations have always been confined to this state and northwestern New York. He was first arrested at Sandy Lake, Mercer county, Pa., by Secret Service Officer Van Horn. He was convicted and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. In tenced to a term of imprisonment. 'In 1893, soon after he was released from the penitentiary. Daniel McSweeney, now of the firm of Barring & McSweeney, ney, detectives, of this city, then a United States secret service officer, ar-rested him at Red Bank, Pa.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY. On this occasion he was convicted of passing counterfeit money. At the trial he claimed that he received the counterfeit coin from a stranger, but after conviction he confessed that he and one Allen made the money in Mer-cer county. He was sentenced to three years' imprisonument in the Western penitentiary. In his confession he stated that he and Allen had learned the art of making counterfelt coin from John Buck, one of the most famous counterfelters in the county. In 1888 Western Pennsylvania was

In 1838 Western Pennsylvania was flooded with counterfeit coin. It became a question with the secret service officers who were detailed to break up the operatives of the gang whether it was made by Allen or Henderson. The counterfeit was in greatest circulation in the territory between Oil City and Buffalo. Its manufacturers was at length traced to Allen who together with eight or ten accomplices were arwith eight or ten accomplices were ar-rested and convicted.

He was traced to Corry from which place he disappeared and finally turned up in Tionesta, For-est county, near which place he worked in a lumber camp for two years. In 1892 secret service officers again got on the track of Henderson. At that time Charles Webb, alias G. S. Barton, was arrested in this city for passing counterfeit money in Provi-

CONVICTED IN PITTSBURG. Webb was convicted in Pittsburg and webb was convicted in Pittsburg and at the trial it was ascertained that the money which was found in his possession was made by Henderson who was arrested in Ridgway, Clearfield county, about six months later by Orficer McSweenay. The government failed to convict him this time. He was arrested in McKean county for the offense for which he was convicted this week. He was convicted on two counts sentenced him to four years imprison-ment in the Western penitentiary on one count and suspended sentence on Judge Buffington heard argument on behalf of Meredith Jones, of New York city, and W. Gibson Jones, of this city, in the action for damages brought by the minor children of Clarence D. Boy-er against Messrs. Jones, arising from the death of Mr. and Mrs. Boyer, of typhold fever, while they were living in the house of the defendants, filed a demurrer to the action and made a lengthy argument to sustain it. At-torney L. P. Wedeman represented the plaintiffs.

Judge Buffington then pronounced the following sentences: PRISONERS SENTENCED.

The following letter shows that the Scranton Salvation army won the flag in the War Cry competition:

The Salvation Army.

Adantic Coast Chief Division,

Brigadier William Evans,
Chief Divisional Officer.

Philadelphia, Pa. March 25, 188.

Captain Hainah Masland.

My Dear Comrade: Herewith you will find enclosed the list showing the final outcome of the War Cry competition. You will notice by it that Captain Hashand, of Scrancon, leads the van both by percentage and total, her total increase being for six weeks no less man 4,000, and her total percentage 3,05.

Adjuant Kernahan has followed closely upon her heels in that his sales amount to the magnificent total of 4,150, and his percentage 2,05.

The stand also taken by Philadelphia No. 6, under Cuptain Dorn, is no other than splendid, seeing the great difficulties rice has had to labor under through the less of her licutenant, and with her own weakness of body during the time the competition has been on.

For those under 100, Captain Rodda, of Phenixville, takes the lead in totals, his total increase being 315, and Philadelphia No. 12 takes the lead in percentage, their percentage being 600.

The final outcome, therefore, is this, that Scranton received the flags for bort totals, and Philadelphia No. 13 received the flag for percentage.

Praying the Lord to richly bless you, i am
